Race To Equity Disrupting Educational Inequality:

Race to Equity Tim McCaskell, 2005 A longtime equity activist shares his experiences in the struggle to reshape Toronto's education system in delivering anti racist anti sexist and anti homophobic education The Impacts of Neoliberal

Discourse and Language in Education Mitja Sardoč, 2021-03-21 This edited collection combines quantitative content and critical discourse analysis to reveal a shift in the rhetoric used as part of the neoliberal agenda in education It does so by analysing uncovering and commenting on language as a central tool of education Focussing on vocabulary metaphors and slogans used in strategy documents advertising policy and public discourse the text illustrates how concepts such as justice opportunity well being talent and disadvantage have been hijacked by educational institutes governments and universities Showing how neoliberalism has changed discourses about education and educational policy these chapters trace issues such as anti intellectualism commercialization meritocracy and an erasure of racial difference back to a contradictory growth in egalitarian rhetoric Given its global scope this volume offers a timely intervention in the studies of neoliberalism and education by developing a holistic vision of how the language of neoliberalism has changed how we think about education It will prove to be an essential resource for scholars and researchers working at the intersections of education policymaking and neoliberalism Education Policy and Racial Biopolitics in Multicultural Cities Kalervo N. Gulson, P. Taylor

Webb, 2017-07-26 The empirical focus of this book is on the twenty year struggle by parents and members of the Black community in Toronto to introduce an Africentric Alternative School AAS with Black focused curricula It brings together a seemingly disparate series of events that emerged from equity and multicultural narratives about the establishment of the school violence anti racism and race based statistics policy entrepreneurs and the re birth of alternative schools in Toronto to illustrate how these events ostensibly functioned through neoliberal choice mechanisms and practices Gulson and Webb show how school choice can represent and manifest the hopes and fears contestations and settlements of contemporary racial biopolitics of education in multicultural cities Worth Fighting For Lara Campbell, Michael Dawson, Catherine

Gidney, 2015-03-20 Historians veterans museums and public education campaigns have all documented and commemorated the experience of Canadians in times of war But Canada also has a long rich and important historical tradition of resistance to both war and militarization This collection brings together the work of sixteen scholars on the history of war resistance Together they explore resistance to specific wars including the South African War the First and Second World Wars and Vietnam the ideology and nature of resistance national ethical political spiritual and organized activism against militarization such as cadet training the Cold War and nuclear arms As the federal government continues to support the commemoration and celebration of Canada's participation in past wars this collection offers a timely response that explores the complexity of Canada's position in times of war and the role of social movements in challenging the militarization of Canadian society

Queer Mobilizations Manon Tremblay, 2015-05-15 Ever since certain homosexual acts were decriminalized in 1969 queer activists have fought for and won a series of public policy battles in governments across Canada As Queer Mobilizations shows anti discrimination legislation the extension of benefits to same sex couples the right to marry adoption rights and the protection of gay straight alliances in schools did not result from a single act nor from the work of a single organization but rather from the concerted efforts of many people in many places over many years This volume examines the relationships between LGBTQ activists and local provincial and federal governments The contributors explore how various governments have tried to regulate and repress LGBTQ movements and how in turn queer activists have successfully shaped public policy across the political spectrum from city halls to the House of Commons Essays in Life Writing Kylie Cardell,2021-11-29

Understanding Sociological Theory for Educational Practices Tania Ferfolja, Criss Jones Diaz, Jacqueline Ullman, 2018-06-04 In contemporary classrooms it is crucial for teachers to have a thorough understanding of sociological issues in education Understanding Sociological Theory for Educational Practices addresses sociological theory highlighting its relevance to policy curriculum and practice for the pre service teacher education student The book explores a range of sociological issues related to diversity disadvantage discrimination and marginalisation contributing to the preparation of future teachers for work in a range of educational contexts It seeks to dispel the traditional one size fits all notion of education encouraging future teachers to think critically and reflexively in terms of creating a welcoming and equitable student environment through knowledge inclusion and understanding This book is an invaluable resource for primary secondary and early childhood pre service teacher education students as they prepare to navigate the diversity of the modern classroom It is also an excellent resource for practitioners and researchers interested in issues of diversity and difference in education Publisher s website World Education Research Yearbook 2015 Lori Diane Hill,Felice J. Levine,2015-05-15 The World Education Research Association WERA is an association of major national regional and international specialty research associations dedicated to advancing education research as a scientific and scholarly field WERA undertakes initiatives that are global in nature and thus transcend what any one association can accomplish in its own country region or area of specialization _____ Reflective of the latest trends in education research this inaugural volume of the World Education Research Yearbook captures the diverse concepts and various arenas of inquiry that are engaging education researchers across the globe Comprised of nine chapters the 2015 Yearbook brings together some of the most accomplished and emerging scholars in the field from a breadth of universities and research institutions in the United States Europe Australia Asia and South America The Yearbook opens with the Presidential Address given at the 4th WERA Focal Meeting by Yin Cheong Cheng who proposes a new paradigm of educational reform to address the challenges impressed upon educators by the increased globalization of the modern world Subsequent chapters make vivid the strengths of research with a broader work view Chapter contributions shift the discourse through a global lens addressing such topics as how international children s TV can be used to further global health education and awareness strategies for remedying low academic achievement among marginalized social and culture groups and a new global model designed to aid countries in developing more effective indicators of quality education The 2015 World Education Research Yearbook is a crucial and long awaited contribution to the field of education research Its relevance extends beyond the borders of any single country or continent to encompass a worldwide perspective on educational developments which are of great value to researchers educators and students alike Revisiting The Great White North? Darren E. Lund,2015-01-20 Returning seven years later to their original pieces from this landmark book over 20 leading scholars and activists revisit and reframe their rich contributions to a burgeoning scholarship on Whiteness With new reflective writings for each chapter and valuable sections on relevant readings and resources this volume refreshes and enhances the first text to pay critical and sustained attention to Whiteness in education with implications far beyond national borders Contributors include George Sefa Dei Tracey Lindberg Carl James Cynthia Levine Rasky and the late Patrick Solomon Courageously examining diverse perspectives contexts and institutional practices contributors to this volume dismantle the underpinnings of inequitable power relations privilege and marginalization The book s relevance extends to those in a range of settings with abundant and poignant lessons for enhancing and understanding transformative social justice work in education Revisiting The Great White North offers terrific grist for examining the persistence of Whiteness even as it shape shifts Chapters are comprehensive theoretically rich and anchored in personal experience Authors reflections on the seven years since publication of the first edition of this book complexify how we understand Whiteness while simultaneously driving home the need not only to grapple with it but to work against it Christine Sleeter Professor Emerita California State University Monterey Bay Our understanding of racial inequities in education will be impoverished unless we look deeply at White privilege its variation in different contexts and resistances to change Such is the call in this important book by Lund Carr and colleagues whose analyses within Canadian contexts framed and re framed for this captivating revised edition will be useful to educators and scholars around the world Read this book today Kevin Kumashiro Dean School of Education University of San Francisco President National Association for Multicultural Education Darren Lund and Paul Carr have given the contributors to their original 2007 text the opportunity to revisit rethink reconceptualize and reframe their earlier work The result is an interesting invigorating and unsettling group of chapters that challenge readers to also revisit and rethink their own ideas about Whiteness privilege and power Teachers administrators policymakers and researchers will all benefit from this critical work Sonia Nieto Professor Emerita Language Literacy and Culture College of Education University of Massachusetts Amherst Lund and Carr bring together a superb collection of authors who collectively challenge readers to go beyond liberal platitudes about race until educators confront the political social and economic consequences of inequitably distributed privilege the path towards equality and freedom will remain elusive By immersing us in the discourse of Whiteness the essays in this book illuminate that very path Joel Westheimer University Research Chair Professor Faculty of Education University of Ottawa

The Great White North? ,2007-01-01 This landmark book represents the first text to pay critical and sustained attention to Whiteness in Canada from an impressive line up of leading scholars and activists The burgeoning scholarship on Whiteness will benefit richly from this book s timely inclusion of the insights of Canadian scholars educators activists and others working for social justice within and through the educational system with implications far beyond national borders Over 20 leading scholars and activists have contributed a diversity of chapters offering a concerted scholarly analysis of how the complex problematic of Whiteness affects the structure culture content and achievement within education in Canada Contributors include James Frideres Carl James Cynthia Levine Rasky and Patrick Solomon The book critically examines diverse perspectives contexts and the construction and application of societal and institutional practices both formal and informal that underpin inequitable power relations and disenfranchisement Its relevance extends beyond the Canadian context as those in other global settings will find abundant and poignant lessons for their own transformative work in education with a particular focus on social justice Awards for The Great White North The publication Award Canadian Association for Foundations in Education 2009 Canadian Race Relations Foundation Award of Distinction 2008 The Cultural and Social Foundations of Educational Leadership Romuald Normand,Lejf Moos,Min Liu,Pierre Tulowitzki,2021-07-12 This book identifies the cultural and moral foundations of country specific educational governance and school leadership and presents the principles of justice and the diversity of common goods that guide leadership practices in schools It contributes to an existing research field that studies diversity and ethical leadership in schools The social dimension of school leadership is not limited to issues related to equality and equity or social inclusion The capacity of leaders to promote civic mindedness and social cooperation consensus and acceptance of others the right balance between freedom and duties and reciprocity of obligations are essential to maintain democratic rights and facilitate the life together while respecting ethnic and cultural differences Therefore the book gathers contributions from a range of international authors capable of reporting these moral and cultural features while broadening the research perspectives on school leadership

Education and Poverty in Affluent Countries Carlo Raffa, Alan Dyson, Helen Gunter, Dave Hall, Lisa Jones, Afroditi Kalambouka, 2009-12-04 This unique book brings together scholarship and analysis from some of the most influential scholars on education to provide a comprehensive mapping of research evidence and policy strategies about education and poverty in affluent countries

Schooling the System Funké Aladejebi, 2021-03-05 In post World War II Canada black women s positions within the teaching profession served as sites of struggle and conflict as the nation worked to address the needs of its diversifying population From their entry into teachers college through their careers in the classroom and administration black women educators encountered systemic racism and gender barriers at every step So they worked to change the system Using oral narratives to tell the story of black access and education in Ontario between the 1940s and the 1980s Schooling the System provides textured insight into how issues of race gender class geographic origin and training shaped women s distinct experiences within the profession By valuing women s voices and lived experiences Funk Aladejebi illustrates that black women as a diverse group made vital contributions to the creation and development of anti racist education in Canada As cultural mediators within Ontario school systems these women circumvented subtle and overt forms of racial and social exclusion to create resistive teaching methods that centred black knowledges and traditions Within their wider communities and activist circles they fought to change entrenched ideas about what Canadian citizenship should look like As schools continue to grapple with creating diverse educational programs for all Canadians Schooling the System is a timely excavation of the meaningful contributions of black women educators who helped create equitable policies and practices in schools and communities

Interrogating Neoliberalism and Cruel Optimism in Education Louise Azzarello, 2025-03-31 This book is a philosophical examination of the ways in which neoliberalism underpins and impedes public education It proposes that education s adoption of neoliberal logic generates a sense of despair amongst educators who often enter the profession with the hope of building a better more just world Drawing on the author s 27 years of experience as a secondary classroom teacher and engaging with a range of theoretical concepts cultural objects and scenes of violence from her time in the classroom The Radical Potency of Despair renders visible the ongoing harms that neoliberal logic creates for education and educators The author proposes a new ruptured fantasy of education and suggests that it is not hope that ignites educators who keep fighting for education but rather despair. Despair is conceived of as a generative force provoking educators to hold time and space open for pedagogical encounters that interrupt the ongoing instrumentalization of education. The author further conceptualizes a notion of thinking with images as a pedagogical interruptive force. Thinking with images she argues gives students time and space to attend to what they see thus affording them the chance to think differently about the violence of modern society. Such pedagogical interruptions are presented as a refusal of the normative order of education countering present infrastructures that aim to constrain and instrumentalize education. A compelling and original volume it will appeal to scholars, researchers and upper level students with interests in neoliberalism and education, the philosophy of education, critical pedagogy and educational policy and politics.

Activist Leadership for Inclusive Schools Zuhra Abawi, Ardavan Eizadirad, Stephanie Tuters, Andrew B. Campbell, 2025-03-13

Activist Leadership for Inclusive Schools explores courageous methods for educational leadership and principalship in Canada to move beyond additive discourses of diversity to dismantling systems of oppression for thriving schools and communities. It is a timely collection rooted in diverse approaches to activism that names, disrupts and challenges dominant leadership discourses and practices that perpetuate harm to underserved communities. Throughout Canada, educational policies and mandates are often implemented without meaningful collaboration with the students, families and communities they are intended to serve, thereby exacerbating systemic structural and institutional barriers. The collection's social justice approach to activism and leadership bridges gaps between policies, institutions and communities. It calls for a more just education system that carves out spaces of belonging by honouring the lived experiences, identities and intersectionalities of all students. This book is an invaluable resource for Canadian university education programs with courses focusing on educational leadership, diversity, social justice or inclusive education. It also serves educational administration, existing teachers, principals, higher education instructors and researchers, policy makers and activists.

Queer Inclusions, Continental Divisions David Morton Rayside, 2008-01-01

No area of public policy and law has seen more change than lesbian, gay, bi-sexual and trans gender rights and none so greatly needs careful comparative analysis. Queer Inclusions, Continental Divisions explores the politics of sexual diversity in Canada and the United States by analyzing three contentious areas: relationship recognition, parenting and schooling. It enters into long standing debates over Canadian-American contrasts while paying close attention to regional differences. David Rayside's examination of change over time in the public recognition of sexual minorities is based on his long experience with the analysis of trends as well as on a wide ranging search of media, legal and social science accounts of developments across Canada and the United States. Rayside points to a take-off pattern in Canadian policy change on relationship recognition and parenting but not in schooling. At the same time he explores the reasons for a pioneering pattern in early gains by American LGBT activists: a surprising number of court wins by American lesbian and gay parents and changes in American schooling that while still modest are more substantial than those instituted by the Canadian system Queer Inclusions Continental Divisions is a timely examination of controversial policy areas in North America and a reasoned judgment on the progress of lesbian and gay issues in our time
