Race to the Top Tomas Larsson, 2001-11-25 As people all over the world become more culturally and economically connected a backlash towards globalization is developing From Seattle to Genoa protesters travel to every meeting of international economic institutions to denounce global markets What s the real story of globalization Is it a race to the bottom as the critics of capitalism insist Or a race to the top as Tomas Larsson suggests Instead of debates among theoreticians and activists it s time for some on the ground reporting about the effects of globalization Larsson a Swedish journalist spent ten years reporting from Bangkok In this book he takes us to the slums of Rio a bicycle factory in Korea a brothel in a back corner of Thailand and more In all the places he finds that the changes of the past ten years have given people tremendous opportunities His perspective on globalization differs from those of Pat Buchanan William Greider or the Seattle protesters And it s more vivid than econometric articles because it s on the spot reporting from all over the developing world Tomas Larsson looks past the dry statistics and arid debates to examine real people around the world He finds that thanks to the spread of global markets hundreds of millions of previously poor people have left poverty and misery behind them and taken their place among the global middle class This is a book full of good news more relevant than ever as the world s finance ministers cower behind chainlink fences afraid to defend the economic system that is spreading wealth more broadly than ever

Race to the Top and Race to the Bottom: Tax

Competition in Rural China Xiaobo Zhang,2008      The Politics of Regulation Jacint Jordana,David Levi-Faur,2004-01-01

These changes together with the general advance in the study of regulation undoubtedly demand a re evaluation of the theory of regulation its methodologies and scope of application This book is a perceptive investigation of recent evolutions in the manner and extent of governance through regulation Scholars and students of comparative politics public policy regulation theory institutional economics and political sociology will find it to be essential reading It will also prove a valuable source of reference for those working or dealing with regulatory authorities and for business managers in private industries and services operating under a regulatory framework      The Race To The Bottom Alan Tonelson,2009-04-29 With the end of the 1990s economic boom The Race to the Bottom deftly explores how the United States has entered a no win global competition in which the countries with the lowest wages weakest workplace safety laws and toughest repression of unions win investment from the U S and Europe Tonelson analyzes how the entry of such population giants as China India and Mexico into the global market has accelerated the erosion of wages and labor standards around the world And he describes how an ever larger share of this low wage competition is hitting not just sectors like apparel and toys but also many of America s highest wage industries like aerospace and software Tonelson explains why the re education and retraining programs touted by many political leaders offer little but false hopes to most U S workers as he outlines the real decisions Washington needs to make to ensure long term prosperity for the U S and the rest of the world Updated with a new prologue from the author      Race to the Top: Reform Efforts Are Under Way and Information Sharing Could Be Improved George A. Scott,2011-06-30      Race to the Bottom Michael V. McGill,2015-04-03

How did the country that invented the modern public school end up embracing policies that weaken it What alternatives are there to current corporate reform policies How can we give America s children an education that will truly prepare them and our nation for the challenges of tomorrow In Race to the Bottom McGill successfully traces the emergence of corporate reform and describes how its tenets run counter to what he believes are the key elements of a high quality education McGill draws from a wealth of experience as a school superintendent for over 40 years including his tenure in Scarsdale during the 2001 district wide boycott of New York State standardized tests Showing how strong leaders working with teachers and the community have been able to strengthen schools the author offers a model of school reform that will prepare students for the 21st Century      Special Interest Terry M. Moe,2011-04-01 Why are America s public schools falling so short of the mark in educating the nation s children Why are they organized in ineffective ways that fly in the face of common sense to the point that it is virtually impossible to get even the worst teachers out of the classroom And why after more than a quarter century of costly education reform have the schools proven so resistant to change and so difficult to improve In this path breaking book Terry M Moe demonstrates that the answers to these questions have a great deal to do with teachers unions which are by far the most powerful forces in American education and use their power to promote their own special interests at the expense of what is best for kids Despite their importance the teachers unions have barely been studied Special Interest fills that gap with an extraordinary analysis that is at once brilliant and kaleidoscopic shedding new light on their historical rise to power the organizational foundations of that power the ways it is exercised in collective bargaining and politics and its vast consequences for American education The bottom line is simple but devastating as long as the teachers unions remain powerful the nation s schools will never be organized to provide kids with the most effective education possible Moe sees light at the end of the tunnel however due to two major transformations One is political the other technological and the combination is destined to weaken the unions considerably in the coming years loosening their special interest grip and opening up a new era in which America s schools can finally be organized in the best interests of children Race to the Sea Dr. Dayton Lee Alverson,2008-11-03 Dr Alverson s story covers his early life experiences through high school World War II his education and his involvement in State Federal and International fisheries science and management His career and story cover the period 1950 2000 during which world fisheries would explode from small boat coastal activities to distant water fleets of large vessels World catches would increase over 300% after WWII and most of the worlds oceans and seas would be heavily exploited Overfishing and impacts on coastal fisheries would lead the world community to seek new laws for the harvest of ocean fisheries and result in unilateral extension of national jurisdictions over ocean space The growth of environmental movement in the later half of the 20th century would lead to conflicts between fishing and conservation groups resulting in changes in national and international fish policies The book tracks many of these developments and Dr Alverson s personal involvements and experiences during the traumatic period of world fishery expansion During the course of his life marine fisheries resource would be seen as the great source of world protein to feed the worlds hungry and later as overfished and polluted European Union and the Race for Foreign Direct Investment in Europe Pervez N. Ghauri,Lars Oxelheim,2003-12-16 Countries create different type of incentives for foreign firms such as direct incentives subsidies tax relief soft loans and preferred handling This volume aims to analyze the impact of European Union on inward foreign direct investment in Europe and to discuss what type of effects are being created by this race for FDI Federal Register ,2013-04 Rhetoric in Neoliberalism Kim Hong Nguyen,2016-11-04 This volume examines and applies classical and contemporary concepts of rhetorical theory and criticism to the context of late capitalism Each contributor shows how discourse its subjects and power relations are irrevocably transformed by neoliberalism The collection analyzes a range of discourses and phenomena in neoliberalism including higher education reforms computational culture Occupy Wall Street protests the activism of Warren Buffett and the 9 11 Truth Movement Together these chapters explore the contemporary rhetorical production of homo economicus and the various ways in which neoliberalism has become a way of thinking orienting and organizing all aspects of life around economized metrics of individualized and individuated success This book will be of use to students and scholars crossing the fields of media and communication political science and sociology
