

A large, diverse crowd of people is gathered for a protest or demonstration. In the center, a white sign is held up, reading "CANADA IS NOT IMMUNE TO RACISM". The word "NOT" is underlined with two red lines, and "RACISM" is written in large, bold, red capital letters. The crowd consists of people of various ages and ethnicities, many wearing face masks. The background is slightly blurred, emphasizing the sign and the people in the foreground.

Racial Discrimination in Canada James W. St. G. Walker, 1985 The History of Immigration and Racism in Canada Barrington Walker, 2008 This outstanding collection examines the complex and disturbing history of immigration and racism in Canada Major themes include Native non Native contact migration and settlement in the nineteenth century immigrant workers and radicalism human rights internment during WWII and racism of the present day The readings are divided into five cohesive sections Natives and Newcomers in Early Canada Space and Racialized Communities Dangerous Others Non Citizens and the State Gate keeping Enemies Without and Within The Post War Era New Rights and New Racisms This book is destined to make its mark in History departments across the country and will also be of interest to students and researchers in Canadian Studies Sociology Demography Political Science and Geography Racism and Anti-Racism in Canada David Este, 2020-07-10T00:00:00Z Multiculturalism is regarded as a key feature of Canada s national identity Yet despite an increasingly diverse population racialized Canadians are systematically excluded from full participation in society through personal and structural forms of racism and discrimination Race and Anti Racism in Canada provides readers with a critical examination of how racism permeates Canadian society and articulates the complex ways to bring about equity and inclusion both individual and systemically Race, Racialization and Antiracism in Canada and Beyond Genevieve Fuji Johnson, Randy Enomoto, 2007-06-23 This multidisciplinary volume brings together scholars and activists to examine expressions of racism in contemporary policy areas including education labour immigration media and urban planning While anti racist struggles during the twentieth century were largely pitched against overt forms of racism e g pogroms genocide segregation apartheid and ethnic cleansing it has become increasingly apparent that there are other less visible forms of racism These subtler incarnations are of special interest to the contributors The intent of Race Racialization and Antiracism in Canada and Beyond is to probe systemic forms of racism as well as to suggest strategies for addressing them The collection is organized by themes pertinent to political and social expressions of racism in Canada and the wider world such as the state and its mediation of race education and the perpetuation of racist marginalization and the role of the media The contributors argue that in order to effectively combat racism various methodological approaches are required approaches that are reflective of the diversity of the world we seek to understand The African Diaspora in the United States and Canada at the Dawn of the 21st Century John W. Frazier, Joe T. Darden, Norah F. Henry, 2010-09-01 Drawing on the work of social scientists from geographic historical sociological and political science perspectives this volume offers new perspectives on the African Diaspora in the United States and Canada It has been approximately four centuries since the first Africans set foot in North America and although it is impossible for any text to capture the complete Black experience on the continent the persistent legacy of Black inequality and the winds of dramatic change are inseparable parts of the current African Diaspora experience In addition to comparing and contrasting the experiences and geographic patterns of the African Diaspora in the United States and Canada the book also explores important distinctions between the experiences of African Americans and those of more recent African and Afro Caribbean immigrants "Race," Rights and the Law in the Supreme Court of Canada James W. St.G. Walker, 2006-01-01

Four cases in which the legal issue was race that of a Chinese restaurant owner who was fined for employing a white woman a black man who was refused service in a bar a Jew who wanted to buy a cottage but was prevented by the property owners association and a Trinidadian of East Indian descent who was acceptable to the Canadian army but was rejected for immigration on grounds of race drawn from the period between 1914 and 1955 are intimately examined to explore the role of the Supreme Court of Canada and the law in the racialization of Canadian society With painstaking research into contemporary attitudes and practices Walker demonstrates that Supreme Court Justices were expressing the prevailing common sense about race in their legal decisions He shows that injustice on the grounds of race has been chronic in Canadian history and that the law itself was once instrumental in creating these circumstances The book concludes with a controversial discussion of current directions in Canadian law and their potential impact on Canada's future as a multicultural society Gender, Race & Canadian Law, 2020-11-26T00:00:00Z

Gender Race Canadian Law explores feminist and critical race approaches to Canadian law The collection which is suitable for undergraduate courses begins with a basic overview of Canadian law and an introduction to critical concepts including the official version of law race and racialization privilege and heteronormativity Substantive themes include the Montreal massacre hegemonic and other masculinities equality rights sexual assault and other gendered violence trans colonialism immigration and multiculturalism Contributors Constance Backhouse Gillian Balfour M lissa Blais Karen Busby Wendy Chan Sandra Ka Hon Chu Elizabeth Comack Raewyn Connell Pamela Downe Deborah H Drake Rod Earle Eve Haque Joanna Harris Margot A Hurlbert Lisa Marie Jakubowski Peter Knegt Ruth M Mann Peggy McIntosh Marilou McPhedron Martin Rochlin

Race and Racism Leo Driedger, Shiva Halli, 2000-04-03 Race and Racism brings together critical contributions from the academic and government sectors that analyse the nature and extent of racism in Canada The broad spectrum of social scientific approaches represented here sociology cultural anthropology demography and psychology and an equal emphasis on quantitative and qualitative methods make this study a particularly rich source for scholars and policy makers alike Discussion unfolds along four main themes concepts and theories relating to race including some treatment of measurement questions economic and social factors pertaining to race racism and discrimination as represented in opinion and popular

Canadian Critical Race Theory Carol A. Aylward, 2025-07-17T00:00:00Z The growth of the Critical Race Theory genre began in Canada when scholars of colour in Canada began to articulate a dissatisfaction with the existing Canadian legal discourse which failed to include an analysis of the role that race and racism has played in the political and legal structures of Canadian society This book is about the role that race and racism play in the theory and practice of law It shows how Canadian Black lawyers and others are beginning to seriously consider the role of race in litigation and to develop critical race litigation strategies to address the issue The author documents how a growing body of work designed to move us beyond theory to practical application is being developed to help recognize the complex relationships among race racism and the law
