Asian and American is constructed precisely when the two threatened to merge Yet the very incompleteness of American identity has allowed specific and contingent fusion of Asian and American at particular historical junctures From the importation of Asian labor in the mid nineteenth century the territorialization of Hawaii and the Philippines in the late nineteenth century through wars with Japan Korea and Vietnam and the Cold War with China to today s Asian Pacific Economic Cooperation group the United States in the modern age has seen its national identity as strongly attached to the Pacific As this has taken place so has the formation of a variety of Asian American identities Each contains a specific notion of America and reveals a particular conception of Asian and American Complicating the usual notion of identity politics and drawing on a wide range of writings sociological historical cultural medical anthropological geographic economic journalistic and political the author studies both how the formation of these identifications discloses the response of America to the presence of Asians and how Asian Americans themselves have inhabited these roles and resisted such categorizations inventing their own particular subjectivities as Americans
