Linguistic Communities and Migratory Processes Karen P. Corrigan, 2020-09-07 This inter disciplinary book is the first in an Irish context to address issues connected with the super diversifying of language and society engendered by recent and historical migrations It analyses novel data from interviews with allochthonous and autochthonous groups of monolingual and plurilingual youngsters living in Northern Ireland A key aim is to test models within second language acquisition and language variation and change research Another goal is to examine the extent to which distinctive migratory trends generated changes in the language ecologies of communities on the island of Ireland as well as globally in regions where the Irish settled intensively from the 1700s The book also compares contemporary migratory experiences with historical records to further our understanding of the dynamics of identification through language across time The first ever book devoted to all aspects of the sociolinguistics of globalization and migration in Northern Ireland will be welcomed by scholars interested in the consequences for ethnolinguistic vitality of large scale population movements It could not be more timely given the fact that 2.5 million sought asylum in Europe alone during 2016 greatly enhancing its diversity

English Mechanic and Mirror of Science and Art ,1925 Pacific Research Centres ,1988 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 2000 Socially-critical Environmental Education in Primary Classrooms Jane Edwards, 2015-10-26 The effectiveness of Education for Sustainable Development depends on the ability of schools and teachers to embrace pedagogies that reduce the gap between the rhetoric of education for the environment and the reality of classroom practices This book responds to the need to better understand the nature of the relationships between agency and structure that contribute to the development of educational rhetoric reality gaps in order to inform processes that most effectively facilitate pedagogical change This book explores the issues of pedagogical change through the experiences of Australian primary school teachers faced with the challenge of implementing an environmental education program in which young students were positioned as active participants in the social processes from which environmentally sustainable practices could be developed These teachers were required to adopt pedagogies that often represented the antithesis of their well established teacher directed approaches Through the use of Anthony Giddens Theory of Structuration this book provides unique perspectives of the teacher mediated manner in which certain elements of structure and agency interrelate to enable and constrain classroom practices essential understandings for school principals and educational policy developers who aim to effectively implement pedagogical change This book also demonstrates that the Theory of Structuration provides a valuable ontological research framework and provides social researchers with practical guidance for how to relate this theory to specific research issues     British Paperbacks in Print ,1985     General
