Looking Both Ways Exploring The Interface Between Christianity And Sociology:

Looking Both Ways Richard B. Perkins, 1987 Christianity and Social Scientific Perspectives on Sport Tom Gibbons, Stuart Braye, 2020-06-29 There has been a dramatic increase in academic research activity and practical initiatives on the topic of sports and Christianity and its cultural significance during the past decade The Faculty of Health and Life Sciences at York St John University York UK hosted the Inaugural Global Congress on Sports and Christianity IGCSC 24 28th August 2016 in collaboration with the Bible Society at which there were 180 delegates from 22 countries in attendance For the area of sports studies the social scientific study of sport there was a thematic strand at the congress titled Christian sociological perspectives on sport from which a special edition of the journal Sport in Society partially emanated This book is based upon this journal special edition The papers selected for inclusion in the special edition were purposely eclectic in order to demonstrate the diversity of current research occurring in the area of Christianity and social scientific perspectives on sport The goal was to bridge divisions between various social science disciplines and theology or religious studies through varied novel and interesting explorations of sport in its various forms We hope this collection inspires further studies into this area The chapters in this book were originally published in a special issue in Sport in Society The Blackwell Companion to Science and Christianity J. Anderson, 2013-10-04 What is the relationship between the gospel and the church's responsibility toward the poor Can social action be evangelism Wasted Evangelism is an exploration in the Gospel of Mark on the subject of evangelism and social action A proclamation centered definition of evangelism based on the etymology of the word evangelize and a few isolated proof texts is devoid of much of the biblical content that Mark offers to us through his Gospel detaching the concept of evangelism from the narrative meaning that Mark gives to the gospel of Jesus Christ In Wasted Evangelism Chip Anderson develops an exegetically based narrative understanding of biblical evangelism which according to Mark's Gospel includes God's care for the economically vulnerable and his concern for the issues of poverty The studies gathered in this volume propose that social action should not be considered a separate distinct responsibility for the church but is rather a vital component of evangelism A close examination of Mark's Gospel and the biblical texts associated with idolatry poverty and justice provides an opportunity for church leadership to rethink the evangelistic activities of their churches and to reconsider what it means to engage their surrounding communities as agents of God's kingdom Faith and Learning on the Edge David Claerbaut, 2004 Beginning with an autobiographical journey through his disappointing experiences with faith and learning both in his student and professorial career in Christian colleges David Claerbaut addresses the issues of faith and learning in higher education Discipleship of the Mind James W.
