Ward author of Sing Unburied Sing For anyone who believes as I do that the best hope for our fractured country is local not national Christian Kiefer's new novel The Heart of It All will provide a welcome balm for the spirit Here are people worth spending time with not because they're perfect but because they're not What's wrong with them isn't nearly as consequential as how hard they fight for a better life and not just for themselves You set the book down and think This is what we're made of Or should be Richard Russo author of Somebody's Fool A small declining town in Ohio A family bereaved by terrible loss A searing narrative about how American lives touch each other across divides both real and imagined Set in failing small town in central Ohio The Heart of It All asks how one manages in an America of increasing division to find a sense of family and community Focusing on the members of three families the Baileys a white family who have put down deep roots in the community the Marwats an immigrant family that owns the town's largest employer and the Shaws especially young Anthony an outsider whose very presence gently shakes the town's understanding of itself A gorgeous stirring novel in the classic vein of Richard Ford Marilynne Robinson Richard Russo and Kent Haruf The Heart of It All asks the reader to consider an America both divided and bound by its differences Heart of Darkness - Ed. Conrad, 2020-07-21 The first incarnation of this Broadview edition of Heart of Darkness appeared in 1995 the second in 1999 both were widely acclaimed and the Goonetilleke Heart of Darkness remained for many years one of Broadview's best selling titles For the third edition the book has been completely revised and updated to take account of the scholarship of the most recent generation The introduction has been extensively rewritten and the appendices of contextual materials thoroughly overhauled The two previous editions of the Goonetilleke Heart of Darkness included a substantial selection of documents on the history of Benin ranging from excerpts taken from Olaudah Equiano's eighteenth century narrative to documents concerning the Benin massacre of 1897 Those documents concerning a neighboring Bantu society were included in large part because of the paucity of known late nineteenth century documents concerning the Congo by black Africans or indeed by black observers of any nationality In place of those Benin related materials this new edition includes substantial excerpts from George Washington Williams's Letter to Leopold II as well as substantial excerpts from an extraordinary document not included in any other edition of Heart of Darkness but discussed extensively in two ground breaking twenty first century works of scholarship David Van Reybrouck's Congo The Epic History of a People and Maya Jasanoff's The Dawn Watch Joseph Conrad in a Global World the autobiography of Disasi Makulo Makulo grew up near the shore of the Congo River in the 1880s and early 1890s was enslaved by notorious ivory dealer Tippu Tip and then was taken under the wing of Henry Morton Stanley Makulo's account substantial excerpts of which are here translated into English for the first time opens an unprecedented window on life in the equatorial forest of the Congo in the late nineteenth century Our Daughter: Our Love, Our Light, Our Joy, Our Pleasure, Heart of Our Hearts Forever Beth Carol Solomon, 2021-02-08 This is a story about an adolescent girl Francine Josephine who was abused by her mentally ill birth mother and lived in the dregs of society for the first ten years of her life She found warmth kindness and happiness with her foster mother and birth father who immediately fell in love and married Though shut off from beauty and loved so little in her childhood she grew up to be an empathetic altruistic sensitive forgiving thoughtful and compassionate young woman Such rarities this girl possesses at such a tender age For these attributes are not often found in ordinary everyday people for they do not appreciate what life has to offer and who take God s gifts for granted Francine always believing in the best of all people always giving them the benefit of the doubt and second chances always wanting to please everybody and wanting everyone to be happy is what she happens to be like Although knowing her parents were estranged from their siblings it was Francine who brought them together thus becoming a tight knit close loving family When she met her paternal grandparents for the first time she was warm and kind to her grandfather who was afflicted with dementia and of whom she had no recollection of As for her grandmother whom she was named after she formed a loving and close bond She is very curious about other people in her parents lives that she has never met or who have never knew of her existence but nonetheless thinks of them lovingly and as part of herself and her family But one day Social Services informed her that her birth mother wants to see her which she agrees to do surmising that maybe this woman had been rehabilitated and was remorseful or at least civil as it was Francine s nature to be understanding Unfortunately nothing came about as she had hoped and for that she suffered from it But afterward does Francine regress back into her shell after these past few years of getting to love and trust people or does she grow up and accept what had happened to her during that one fateful encounter and become the fine young woman that everyone who knows her portrays her to be

Heart of Darkness - Ed. Goonetilleke - Second Edition Joseph Conrad, 1999-08-16 The story of Marlow travelling upriver in central Africa to find Kurtz an ivory agent as consumed by the horror of human life as he is by physical illness has long been considered a classic and continues to be widely read and studied This edition edited by one of the leading figures in the Conrad controversy includes an introduction and explanatory notes as well as a fascinating variety of contemporary documents that help to set this extraordinary work in the context of the period from which it emerged The introduction and bibliography have been updated and two new appendices have been added the second of these is a selection of Alice Harris s extraordinary but little known photographs documenting the horrors of colonialism in turn of the century Congo
