and Restoration Richard J. Hobbs,Katharine N. Suding,Peter Society for Ecological Restoration International,2013-03-19 As scientific understanding about ecological processes has grown the idea that ecosystem dynamics are complex nonlinear and often unpredictable has gained prominence Of particular importance is the idea that rather than following an inevitable progression toward an ultimate endpoint some ecosystems may occur in a number of states depending on past and present ecological conditions The emerging idea of restoration thresholds also enables scientists to recognize when ecological systems are likely to recover on their own and when active restoration efforts are needed Conceptual models based on alternative stable states and restoration thresholds can help inform restoration efforts New Models for Ecosystem Dynamics and Restoration brings together leading experts from around the world to explore how conceptual models of ecosystem dynamics can be applied to the recovery of degraded systems and how recent advances in our understanding of ecosystem and landscape dynamics can be translated into conceptual and practical frameworks for restoration In the first part of the book background chapters present and discuss the basic concepts and models and explore the implications of new scientific research on restoration practice The second part considers the dynamics and restoration of different ecosystems ranging from arid lands to grasslands woodlands and savannahs to forests and wetlands to production landscapes A summary chapter by the editors discusses the implications of theory and practice of the ideas described in preceding chapters New Models for Ecosystem Dynamics and Restoration aims to widen the scope and increase the application of threshold models by critiquing their application in a wide range of ecosystem types It will also help scientists and restorationists correctly diagnose ecosystem damage identify restoration thresholds and develop corrective methodologies that can overcome such thresholds

Statistical Register of Western Australia ,1903      The Action Plan for Australian Birds 2020 Stephen T. Garnett,G Barry Baker,2021-12 The Action Plan for Australian Birds 2020 is the most comprehensive review of the status of Australia s avifauna ever attempted The latest in a series of action plans for Australian birds that have been produced every decade since 1992 it is also the largest The accounts in this plan have been authored by more than 300 of the most knowledgeable bird experts in the country and feature far more detail than any of the earlier plans This volume also includes accounts of over 60 taxa that are no longer considered threatened mainly thanks to sustained conservation action over many decades This extensive book covers key themes that have emerged in the last decade including the increasing impact of climate change as a threatening process most obviously in Queensland s tropical rainforests where many birds are being pushed up the mountains However the effects are also indirect as happened in the catastrophic fires of 2019 20 Many of the newly listed birds are subspecies confined to Kangaroo Island where fire destroyed over half the population But there are good news stories too especially on islands where there have been spectacular successes with predator control Such uplifting results demonstrate that when action plans are followed by action on the ground threatened species can indeed be recovered and threats alleviated      Governing Groundwater Gabriela Cuadrado-Quesada,2022-03-16 This book empirically examines a diverse range of groundwater issues and different approaches to deal with such concerns taking into account responses from government bodies community organizations scientists private sector and academia The overarching objective of this book is to empirically examine groundwater governance and groundwater law It aims to provide a better understanding of the complexities surrounding groundwater governance in order to reconceptualize and retheorize the governance of subterranean resources having as entry points equity and sustainability concerns This involves understanding what people do when using sharing protecting and measuring groundwater and why do they do what they do i e what are their motivations to resort to certain practices This is done through the comparative and contrasting investigation of six case studies from countries from the Global North and Global South It offers a different perspective of literature given that it explains how groundwater governance and law are in practice rather than what they should be Additionally the research presented in this book provides ideas on how to rethink the design and implementation of groundwater law grounded on empirically based descriptions and the understanding of groundwater problems      Australia for Women Susan Hawthorne, Renate Klein, 1994 Australia is a land full of opportunities but where can you go to find the things that matter to women This book is a guide to the land as well as the diverse culture of women Women s culture in Australia goes back more than 40 000 years and is a rich mosaic of story art and music On the top of this has come the culture of the past 200 years from the British convicts from China from the Pacific from the newer waves of migration and from the women s movement This is reflected in literature theatre the visual arts music circuses and dance Rural and urban women describe the places they know and love they also describe their histories and show something of what lies behind a first impression Contributors featured include Oodgeroo Noonuccal Faith Bandler Portia Robinson Elizabeth Jolley Sara Dowse Janine Haines Dale Spender Ruby Langford Ginibi Kate Llewellyn and Finola Moorhead      Perth Plants Russell Barrett, Eng Pin Tay, 2016-04 The city of Perth is well known and treasured for its areas of protected bushland in the heart of the city Kings Park and Bold Park represent a significant part of the natural heritage of the Swan Coastal Plain and are an important part of city life The city is also a gateway to the incredible biodiversity to be found in south west Western Australia Perth Plants provides a comprehensive photographic guide to all plants known to occur in the bushlands of Kings Park and Bold Park both native plants and naturalised weeds There are 778 species included representing approximately one quarter of all the plants in the greater Perth region and one tenth of all species known for the south west of Western Australia This new edition contains 22 additional species and updated photography throughout It is an essential reference for anyone interested in the plants of south west Western Australia and particularly the Swan Coastal Plain
