Billings, Gurney Norman, Katherine Ledford, While writing his book Lost Mountain A Year in the Vanishing Wilderness Erik Reece spent a great deal of time studying strip mining and its effect on the environment and surrounding communities After a year of exploring the ugliness of a rapidly disappearing landscape Reece felt a strong need to celebrate the wonder the Eastern broadleaf forests still have to offer The result is a collection of poems by individuals who share Thoreau s belief that the natural world is an unroofed church a place of reverence Field Work Modern Poems from Eastern Forests seeks an answer to Frost's question What to make of a diminished thing by contemplating work from some of the twentieth century's greatest nature poets Reece frames contemporary American poems with a rich selection of Chinese poetry from the Tang Dynasty written by poets who produced what many consider the first great nature writing More than 1300 years ago Li Po Tu Fu Wang Wei and Han Shan described a landscape in southern China remarkably similar in landscape and ecology to the forests of Appalachia Consequently their work has inspired many of the American poets featured in Field Work including Hayden Carruth Mary Oliver A R Ammons Jane Kenyon and Denise Levertov The modern poets in this collection share the eastern reverence for the natural world they desire to create a poetry of belonging of elemental contact with something much larger than the self These poems ask the reader to turn away from urban landscapes in an effort to better understand the natural world as a spectacular profound organism Wendell Berry for example praises the quiet and solitude of nature inspiring the reader to experience each poem in the setting for which it was written In Field Work Reece brings together a collection of poetry that calls readers out of doors as these poems become gateways to a natural world we are often too distracted to see
