Love Eclipsed Nancy Ann Watanabe, 1998 This book demonstrates the greatness of Joyce Carol Oates who is a nominee for a Nobel Award in Literature Nancy Watanabe discusses Oates's previously undiscovered roots in the literatures of Europe and Asia Watanabe's thought provoking analyses are enhanced by a cinematically inspired principle of organization that reflects Oates's own stratagems In a massive build up of metaphorical links between a Copernican world of nature and actions taken by ordinary people in the course of their daily living Oates portrays America as a land of justice that is always a step behind a Faustian desire for freedom to pursue material desires Oates documents an eclipsing of a divinely inspired Christian love by Faustian quest Through this study readers will gain a broader perspective and a more accurate assessment of Oates's global significance

A Talent for the Particular Raymond-Jean Frontain, Basudeb Chakraborti, 2012

Inhabited by Stories Nancy A. Barta-Smith, Danette DiMarco, 2012-11-30

Intertextuality has signaled change, appropriation, adaptation, and derivation. It has focused readers on irresolvable questions of influence and origination, progressive or regressive movement across continents, periods, and media. Inhabited by Stories: Critical Essays on Tales Retold takes a different approach. What would a model of literary study look like that steps out of time's river and embraces not only the presence and proximity of the world to the senses but also of the past and the future to the present here and now? When stories inhabit us, imagination and memory extend our ability to see and feel. Phenomenological experience is lived, not just thought. Such a perspective suggests that the past and future inhabit the present, increase the depth of sensory perception, and enrich the range of our affective and ethical responses. Grounded in the lived experience of reading, this perspective offers an alternative to an idea of intertextuality as simply following lines of influence and appropriation. It focuses on the expansion of experience created by telling and retelling stories. Ironically, for literary theorists and critics, perhaps the highest form of both praise and critique is a tale retold, since such retellings attest to literature's instructive power and its perennial regeneration.
