The journey of love in couples Jessica Riberi, Inge Ludvigsen, 2021-01-20 A couple's relationship is not just about two people Numerous unconscious psychological scripts from the collective sphere and mandates inherited from family history affect our way of living love one of the most significant human experiences The psychotherapists and Master Trainer in NLP Jessica Riberi and Inge Ludvigsen combine their professional and teaching experience in Chile and Denmark and propose a system to align six energy fields that promote and strengthen the love bond Jessica Riberi and Inge Ludvigsen have written a delightful and very helpful guide to how archetypal forms that is the patterns of the universal energies of human being can support and transform intimate relationships They are especially good in describing how to develop more mature and generative levels of each universal energy I highly recommend it to both people helpers as well as those seeking deeper intimacy connections Stephen Gilligan psychologist author of The Courage to Love and The Hero's Journey with Robert Dilts What could be more important and timely than having pathways to bring more quality into our relationships We are relational beings seeking the connections for outcomes of life partners families work spaces and communities Connection is there but managing these connections is quite a different order This is where archetypes guide us by reflecting back an ideal Not that we ever really get to the ideal but they remind us to bring awareness to the learning and the nurturing of the relationships that bring the joy to our lives Thank you so much for this book The Journey of love in couples as it also can bring us some hope for our inner and outer peace Judith DeLozier anthropologist coauthor of Turtle all the way down with John Grinder and Encyclopedia of Systemic NLP with Robert Dilts True

Voluntas Militum: Community, Collective Action, and Popular Power in the Armies of the Middle Republic (300-100 BCE) Dominic M. Machado, 2023-06-20 Scholars military men and casual observers alike have devoted significant energy to understanding how the armies of the Roman Middle Republic 300-100 BCE were able to function so effectively examining their organization hierarchy recruitment tactics and ideology in close detail But what about the concerns interests and goals of the soldiers who powered it The present study argues that the military forces of the Middle Republic were not simply cogs in the Roman military machine but rather dynamic and diverse social units that played a key role in shaping an ever changing Mediterranean world Indeed the soldiers in the armies of this period not only developed connections with one another but also formed bonds with non military personnel who traveled with as well as inhabitants of the places where they campaigned The connections soldiers developed while on campaign gave them significant power and agency as a group Throughout the third and second centuries BCE soldiers took collective actions ranging from mutiny to defection to looting to ensure that their economic social and political interests were advanced and protected Recognizing the communities that Roman soldiers formed and the power that they exerted not only reframes our understanding of the Middle Republic and its armies but fundamentally alters how we conceptualize the turbulent years of the Late Republic and the massive social political and military changes that followed
