

Love's Infiniteness

If yet I have not all thy love,
Dear, I shall never have it all,
I cannot breathe one other sigh, to move,
Nor can entreat one other tear to fall,
And all my treasure, which should purchase thee,
Sighs, tears, and oaths, and letters I have spent.
Yet no more can be due to me,
Than at the bargain made was meant;
If then thy gift of love were partial,

That some to me, some should to others fall,
Dear, I shall never have thee all.

Or if then thou gavest me all,
All was but all, which thou hadst then;
But if in thy heart, since, there be or shall
New love created be, by other men,
Which have their stocks entire, and can in tears,
In sighs, in oaths, and letters outbid me,
This new love may beget new fears,
For, this love was not vowed by thee.
And yet it was, thy gift being general;
The ground, thy heart, is mine, whatever shall
Grow there, dear, I should have it all.

Yet I would not have all yet;
He that hath all can have no more,
And since my love doth every day admit
New growth, thou shouldst have new rewards in store;
Thou canst not every day give me thy heart,
If thou canst give it, then thou never gavest it:
Love's riddles are, that though thy heart depart,
It stays at home, and thou with losing savest it:
But we will have a way more liberal,
Than changing hearts, to join them, so we shall

Be one, and one another's all.

Love Poems Of John Donne:

The Love Poems of John Donne John Donne, 1572-1633 John Donne's standing as one of the greatest poets in the English language is now thoroughly established and critics such as T S Eliot and F R Leavis have found in Donne's poetry qualities profoundly responsive to the modern age While Donne is famous for his religious poetry his love poems are among the most beautiful ever written and this collection brings them together for the first time Donne was a man who knew all the many faces of love physical passion jealousy rapture grief and parting and possessed the genius to distill his experiences into poetry The potency of his writing has lost none of its effect Donne's love poetry taps the reservoir of feelings and emotions common to all human beings Before Donne was ordained as a priest in 1615 he wrote sonnets such as The Dream and The Ecstasy elegies such as To His Mistress Going to Bed and Love's Progress and wedding songs St Valentine's Day and Epithalamion all of which glitter with an eroticism that truly marries body and soul Charles Fowkes author of a critically acclaimed biography of Rembrandt and several anthologies of short stories has gathered those poems in which Donne is most passionate and most lyrical The result is this lovely volume the perfect gift for every beloved a book of poems to press flowers in and to keep by the heart *Love Poems of John Donne [Poems. John Donne's Metaphysical Love Poetry

Sabine Strebel, 2019-03-25 Seminar paper from the year 2018 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Literature Works grade 2.0 Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz language English abstract Most people would think of Shakespeare if they were asked for the most famous poet of the Elizabethan era He invented the Shakespearean Sonnet after all which is probably the only type of Renaissance poem German students have to read during their school career However Shakespeare was not the only author of sonnets during this time Someone who deserves just as much acknowledgement in this area is John Donne who had an especially meteoric comeback in 1921 due to the publication of Eliot's essay The Metaphysical Poets Roland Greene an editor for the Princeton Encyclopedia of Poetry and Poetics shows in the encyclopedia that many scholars actually consider Donne to be one of the greatest poets in the English language His work focused on themes of love and devotion both the physical and spiritual kinds The latter can be also found in his poem A Valediction Forbidding Mourning In this poem Donne describes a situation every person who has fallen in love can relate to the lovers face an upcoming farewell Although the poem was written around 400 years ago it still addresses issues that can be found in several poems songs or other stories of our time Maybe it would be too easy to compare Donne's metaphysical love poetry to a current pop song since he elaborates this valediction with something resembling a catchy refrain a series of four metaphysical conceits where he unleashes all his rhetorical cleverness as Greene calls it What the title suggests and what also emerges upon a first reading is that the speaker wishes to forbid any mourning about the parting of the two lovers They appear strong and well prepared since their love outshines the love of dull sublunary lovers 13 But after further reflection and rereading the poem the reader can deduce that the speaker is trying to cover up his worries and fears over the parting Baumlin raises the question of whether the last three stanzas in Donne's poem serve as a doubting promise that the speaker will return and a plea for the woman's continued faith
