The Postcolonial Jane Austen You-Me Park,Rajeswari Sunder Rajan,2015-03-24 This volume offers a unique contribution to both postcolonial studies and Austen scholarship by examining the texts to illumine nineteenth century attitudes to colonialism and the expanding Empire revealing a new range of interpretations of Austen's work each shaped by the critic's particular context exploring the ways in which the study of Austen's novels raises fresh issues for post colonial criticism Bringing together work by highly respected critics from four continents and a range of disciplines this newly paperbacked volume allows sometimes surprising and always fascinating new insights into some of the most frequently studied and best loved novels in the English language Postcolonial Mythology and Ethnic Self-Canonization in Biafran Fiction and Activism Abba Abba, 2025-08-12 Postcolonial Mythology and Ethnic Self-Canonization in Biafran Fiction and Activism explores the ways in which communities that have been marginalized in colonial discourses attempt to reconstruct their identities histories and narratives through the use of postcolonial myths The deconstruction of stereotypes and creation of self-referential myths often play a crucial role in empowering marginalised communities to reassert their cultural identity and reclaim their cultural symbols with narratives of counter history Relying on the experience of the Igbo and the Nigeria Biafra War event the book demonstrates how ethnic groups in Africa articulate their resistance against subalternity Through literary historical and archival analyses it offers an unbiased reading of postcolonial mythologies and counter mythologies in Biafran literature and activism and how they contribute to a broader understanding of colonialism ethnic minoritization and ethnic self canonization With its robust analysis the book sets new benchmarks for scholars researchers teachers and students in humanities and social sciences especially literature history political science and anthropology for re-reading ethnicity and rethinking the timeless value of inter ethnic communication

The Power to Name Stephanie Newell, 2013-07-15 Between the 1880s and the 1940s the region known as British West Africa became a dynamic zone of literary creativity and textual experimentation African owned newspapers offered local writers numerous opportunities to contribute material for publication and editors repeatedly defined the press as a vehicle to host public debates rather than simply as an organ to disseminate news or editorial ideology Literate locals responded with great zeal and in increasing numbers as the twentieth century progressed they sent in letters articles fiction and poetry for publication in English and African language newspapers The Power to Name offers a rich cultural history of this phenomenon examining the wide array of anonymous and pseudonymous writing practices to be found in African owned newspapers between the 1880s and the 1940s and the rise of celebrity journalism in the period of anticolonial nationalism Stephanie Newell has produced an account of colonial West Africa that skillfully shows the ways in which colonized subjects used pseudonyms and anonymity to alter and play with colonial power and constructions of African identity Globalization, Utopia and Postcolonial Science Fiction E. Smith, 2012-09-10 This study considers the recent surge of science fiction narratives from the postcolonial Third World as a utopian response to the spatial political and representational dilemmas that attend globalization Postcolonial Custodianship Filippo Menozzi, 2014-02-05 This book engages with current developments in postcolonial research exploring notions of cultural transmission tradition and modernity authenticity cross cultural aesthetics and postcolonial ethics The author considers the ethical responsibility of the postcolonial intellectual enhancing our understanding of this topic through the concept of custodianship which may be defined as a responsibility towards the other in forms of cultural and literary inheritance The author introduces custodianship as a central theme and a vital question for the committed intellectual today proposing original interpretations of major postcolonial texts by key figures including Anita Desai Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak Mahasweta Devi and Arundhati Roy Through close reading and historical analysis Postcolonial Custodianship reveals that a practice of custodianship has always been an essential element of these writers ethical engagement yet in a way that has never been explored The author contends that the question of custodianship should not be seen as a merely negative designation it is by redefining the very meaning of custodianship that the ethical dimension of postcolonialism can be rediscovered
