The Magic Power of Mental Images Dean Amory, 2013-05-15 Jos Ortégay Gasset was so impressed by the power of metaphors that he compared them to a tool for creation which God forgot inside of us when he created man When I asked myself where metaphors get this tremendous power from I realized that mankind has an even much more powerful tool at its disposition Mental Imagery Mental Imagery is the key to achieving our goals and the internal screen on which we project our dreams It allows us to simulate procedures familiarize with environments and situations before we get to know them in real life It helps us to relax but just as well will arouse us or prepare us for future actions With the help of Mental Imagery we can build confidence and readiness stimulate healing and recovery change our behaviour or literally borrow the mind of a genius How to learn and implement this power and benefit from its many advantages is what this book is all about

Bonanno,2023-08-12 In this book Justin N. Bonanno builds off of the recent philosophical work on Walker Percy's writings While it is valuable to appreciate Percy as a novelist Bonanno approaches Percy from the perspective of Continental philosophy and the rhetorical tradition Unpacking the works of several key authors that influenced Percy e.g. Sartre and Heidegger Bonanno offers a fresh philosophical account of Percy's ideas concerning the relationship between symbols and existence In particular he focuses on how Percy's ideas emerge from the thought of Ernst Cassirer Susanne Langer Jacques Maritain Jean Paul Sartre Gabriel Marcel Martin Heidegger Viktor Shklovsky Søren Kierkegaard and St Thomas Aquinas Technology as Magic Richard Stivers,Peter Stirk,2001-08-01 What gives the mass media particularly advertising and television their extraordinary power over our lives so that even the most jaded and sophisticated among us are troubled and fascinated by their allure The secret according to Richard Stivers in this brilliant new book lies in the curious relationship between technology and magic Stivers argues the two are now related to one another in such a way that each has taken on important characteristics of the other His contention is that our expectations for technology have become magical to the point that they have generated a multitude of imitation technologies that function as magical practices These imitation technologies flourish in the fields of psychology management administration and the mass media and their paramount purpose in human adjustment and control Advertising and television programs in particular contain the key magical rituals of our civilization In a fascinating analysis of television programming Stivers shows how various genres news sports game shows soap operas sitcoms etc have their distinct mythological symbols Through dramatized information they symbolically connect consumer goods and services to desired outcomes the utopian goals of success happiness and health thus enveloping technology both real and imitation in a magical cocoon
