Magnum Force:

Shots in the Mirror Nicole Hahn Rafter, 2006 Criminologist Nicole Rafter analyses the source of the appeal of crime films and their role in popular culture She argues that crime films both reflect and shape our ideas about fundamental social economic and political issues Criminal Behavior Jacqueline B. Helfgott, 2008-03-13 This textbook provides an interdisciplinary overview of theories of crime explanations of how and why criminal typologies are developed literature reviews for each of the major crime categories and discussions of how theories of crime are used at different stages of the criminal justice process The Cinema of John Milius Alfio Leotta, 2018-12-06 This book is devoted to the critical study of the cinema of John Milius filling a major gap in the literature by combining the examination of the artistic historical and cultural significance of Milius work with an in depth analysis of his films Although most contemporary film viewers have forgotten him John Milius has been one of the most influential and controversial film makers in the history of American cinema Along with the likes of George Lucas Francis Ford Coppola and Martin Scorsese Milius was a central figure of the so called New Hollywood Milius who gained an Academy Award nomination as screenwriter for Apocalypse Now 1979 reached the apex of his directorial career in the 1980s with films such as Conan the Barbarian 1982 and Red Dawn 1984 More recently he was involved in a series of innovative projects such as the creation of the HBO series Rome 2005 2007 and the invention of the Ultimate Fighting Championship

Tragedy in Aurora Tom Diaz, 2019-10-31 Tragedy in Aurora is about the 2012 murder of budding sports journalist Jessica Jessi Redfield Ghawi in a public mass shooting and the widening circle of pain it inflicted on her family friends police medical first responders and others The book is at the same time a deep examination of the causes and potential cures of the quintessential 21st century American sickness public mass shootings At the heart of that examination is an unpacking of America's deep polarization and political gridlock It addresses head on the question of why Why is American gun violence so different from other countries Why does nothing seem to change The Parkland kids inspired hope of change But the ultimate questions stubbornly remain what should what can and what will Americans do to reduce gun violence Tragedy in Aurora argues that the answer lies in a conscious cultural redefinition of American civic order Over recent decades America has defined a cultural new normal about guns and gun violence Americans express formalistic dismay after every public mass shooting But many accept gun violence as an inevitable even necessary and to some laudable part of what it means to be American Although Americans claim to be shocked with each new outrage so far they have failed to coalesce around an effective way to reduce gun death and injury The debate is bogged down in polarized and profoundly ideological political and cultural argument Meanwhile America continues to lead the globe in its pandemic levels of gun deaths and injuries Combined with the cynical learned helplessness of its politicians the result is gridlock and a growing roll of victims of carnage Is there a path out of this cultural and political gridlock Tragedy in Aurora argues that if America is to reduce gun violence it must expand the debate and confront the fundamental question of who are we Tom Diaz gives a new understanding of American culture and the potential for change offered by the growing number and ongoing organization of victims and survivors of gun violence Without conscious cultural change the book argues there is little prospect of effective laws or public policy to reduce gun violence in general and public mass shootings in particular
