Refuting Peter Singer's Ethical Theory Susan Krantz, 2002-01-30 Krantz provides a defense of traditional human centered ethics against Peter Singer's ethical theory Singer favors a Copernican revolution in ethics because he thinks our traditional ethics has collapsed under pressure from medical technology and from advances in the biological understanding of our fellow animals For nearly thirty years he has argued that the boundaries of the human lifespan and of the human species are so unclear that we must abandon our views that human beings have a special dignity and that the taking of innocent human life is always wrong Against this Krantz argues that in today s world human life has been cheapened and the values of the marketplace have begun to govern medical care and organ donation birth and death In fact this is just a foretaste of the world to come if Singer s ethical theory succeeds in replacing traditional human centered ethics What is required is not the abandonment of human dignity and of the sanctity of human life but rather a renewed understanding of how principles based on these ideas can be applied in the twenty first century Scholars students and general readers involved with ethical and contemporary philosophy issues will find this book interesting Zoopolis Sue Donaldson, Will Kymlicka, 2011-11-24 To all of these animals we owe respect for their basic inviolable rights Heidegger's Ecological

Lee, 2008 Over the course of the nineteenth century factory slaughterhouses replaced the hand slaughter of livestock by individual butchers who often performed this task in back rooms letting blood run through streets A wholly modern invention the centralized municipal slaughterhouse was a political response to the public's increasing lack of tolerance for dirty butchering practices corresponding to changing norms of social hygiene and fear of meat borne disease The slaughterhouse in Europe and the Americas rationalized animal slaughter according to capitalist imperatives What is lost and what is gained when meat becomes a commodity What do the sites of animal slaughter reveal about our relationship to animals and nature Essays by the best international scholars come together in this cutting edge interdisciplinary volume to examine the cultural significance of the slaughterhouse and its impact on modernity Contributors include Dorothee Brantz Kyri Claflin Jared Day Roger Horowitz Lindgren Johnson Ian MacLachlan Christopher Otter Dominic Pacyga Richard Perren Jeffrey Pilcher and Sydney Watts     Language, Science and Popular Fiction in the Victorian Fin-de-Siècle Christine

Ferguson, 2017-03-02 Christine Ferguson's timely study is the first comprehensive examination of the importance of language in forming a crucial nexus among popular fiction biology and philology at the Victorian fin de siècle Focusing on a variety of literary and non literary texts the book maps out the dialogue between the Victorian life and social sciences most involved in the study of language and the literary genre frequently indicted for causing linguistic corruption and debasement popular fiction Ferguson demonstrates how Darwinian biological philological and anthropological accounts of primitive and animal language were co-opted into wider cultural debates about the apparent brutality of popular fiction and shows how popular novelists such as Marie Corelli Grant Allen H G Wells H Rider Haggard and Bram Stoker used their fantastic narratives to radically reformulate the relationships among language thought and progress that underwrote much of the contemporary prejudice against mass literary taste In its alignment of scientific cultural and popular discourses of human language Language Science and Popular Fiction in the Victorian Fin de Si cle stands as a corrective to assessments of best selling fiction s intellectual ideological and aesthetic simplicity

Other Selves Janice Fiamengo, 2007-07-12 Other Selves Animals in the Canadian Literary Imagination begins with the premise first suggested by Margaret Atwood in The Animals in That Country 1968 that animals have occupied a peculiarly central position in the Canadian imagination Unlike the longer settled countries of Europe or the more densely populated United States in Canada animals have always been the loved and feared co inhabitants of this harsh beautiful land From the realistic animal tales of Charles G D Roberts and Ernest Thompson Seton to the urban animals of Marshall Saunders and Dennis Lee to the lyrical observations of bird enthusiasts John James Audubon Thomas McIlwraith and Don McKay animals have occupied a key place in Canadian literature focusing central aspects of our environmental consciousness and cultural symbolism Other Selves explores how and what the animals in this country have meant through all genres and periods of Canadian writing focusing sometimes on individual texts and at other times on broader issues Tackling more than a century of writing from 19th century narrative of women travellers to the natural conversion of Grey Owl to the award winning novels of Farley Mowat Marian Engel Timothy Findley Barbara Gowdy and Yann Martel these essays engage the reader in this widely acknowledged but inadequately explored aspect of Canadian literature
