Maidens Meal And Money Capitalism And The Domestic Community:

Maidens, Meal and Money Claude Meillassoux, 1984 Maidens, Meal, and Money, 1991 Brazilian Steel Town Massimiliano Mollona, 2019-11-04 Volta Redonda is a Brazilian steel town founded in the 1940s by dictator Getúlio Vargas on an ex coffee valley as a powerful symbol of Brazilian modernization The city's economy and consequently its citizens' lives revolves around the Companhia Siderúrgica Nacional CSN the biggest industrial complex in Latin America Although the glory days of the CSN have long passed the company still controls life in Volta Redonda today creating as much dispossession as wealth for the community Brazilian Steel Town tells the story of the people tied to this ailing giant of their fears hopes and everyday struggles Handbook of Research on Cultural Tourism and Sustainability Ribeiro de Almeida, Claudia, Martins, Joao Carlos, Gonçalves, Alexandra R., Quinteiro, Silvia, Gasparini, Maria Laura, 2022-04-22 The process of globalization based on major forms of entertainment consumption has promoted the interest of enlarged social actors toward cultural experiencing Disseminated by social media new forms of information and knowledge about exotic tourism destinations have endorsed an increasing interest in forms of cultural tourism This cultural tourism turnout results from a significant change in the travelers' demands and behaviors and has led to a new and renovated interest in cultural heritage that must be studied further The Handbook of Research on Cultural Tourism and Sustainability explores theoretical concepts related to cultural tourism and cultural routes and provides original viewpoints and empirical research with case studies and best practices for the future of cultural tourism Covering a range of topics such as creative tourism and sustainable tourism this major reference work is ideal for academicians practitioners professionals policymakers government officials instructors and students Work, Society, and the Ethical Self Chris Hann, 2021-09-17 Primarily on the basis of ethnographic case studies from around the world this volume links investigations of work to questions of personal and professional identity and social relations In the era of digitalized neoliberalism particular attention is paid to notions of freedom both collective in social relations and individual in subjective experiences These cannot be investigated separately Rather than juxtapose economy with ethics or the profitable with the good the authors uncover complex entanglements between the drudgery experienced by most people in the course of making a living and ideals of emancipated personhood Advanced Introduction to Economic Anthropology Peter D. Little, 2023-11-03 Expertly navigating the interdisciplinary field of economic anthropology Peter D Little illustrates how an anthropological perspective can deepen understandings of customary and global markets different types of money diversified livelihoods of the poor gendered and racialized labor climate change and other global issues By questioning common dichotomies such as the informal versus formal sectors and customary versus modern institutions the book uncovers those hidden connections power relations and economic actors and processes that underpin real economies throughout the world A Companion to the Anthropology of Africa Roy Richard Grinker, Stephen C. Lubkemann, Christopher B. Steiner, Euclides Gonçalves, 2019-02-06 An essential collection of scholarly essays on the anthropology of Africa offering a thorough introduction to the most important topics in this evolving and diverse field of study. The study of the cultures of Africa has been central to the methodological and theoretical development of anthropology as a discipline since the late 19th century. As the anthropology of Africa has emerged as a distinct field of study, anthropologists working in this tradition have strived to build a disciplinary conversation that recognizes the diversity and complexity of modern and ancient African cultures while acknowledging the effects of historical anthropology on the present and future of the field of study. A Companion to the Anthropology of Africa is a collection of insightful essays covering the key questions and subjects in the contemporary anthropology of Africa with a key focus on addressing the topics that define the contemporary discipline. Written and edited by a team of leading cultural anthropologists, it is an ideal introduction to the most important topics in the field, both those that have consistently been a part of the critical dialogue and those that have emerged as the central questions of the discipline's future. Beginning with essays on the enduring topics in the study of African cultures, A Companion to the Anthropology of Africa provides a foundation in the contemporary critical approach to subjects of longstanding interest. With these subjects as a groundwork, later essays address decolonization, the postcolonial experience, and questions of modern identity and definition, providing representation of the diverse thinking and scholarship in the modern anthropology of Africa.

Sure Road? Nationalisms in Angola, Guinea-Bissau and Mozambique Eric Morier-Genoud, 2012-04-19. This book brings together new research on the subject of nations and nationalisms in Angola, Guinea-Bissau, and Mozambique. It explores the history and politics of diverse nationalist discourses and ideologies and it revisits the formation and contemporary developments of national imagined communities in Portuguese-speaking Africa. It does so by drawing on several disciplines and by exploring themes as diverse as Frelimo's liberation literature, UNITA's moral economy, and the disaggregation of Guinea-Bissau. The authors provide novel insights in the hope of contributing to the academic and public debate on the subject, not least in those countries where, in the face of liberalisation, ruling parties and their opponents have been arguing intensively over and have sometimes struggled to reinvent a sense of national community. Through their engagement with the subject, authors also make a contribution to the general discussion of the concepts of nations and nationalism.

Beyond the Impasse Frans J. Schuurman, 1993. Development theory in the past decade has met with increasingly heavy criticism. Dependency theories as well as modes of production and world system approaches have come to be considered as internally inconsistent and inadequate for explaining the increasing diversity and unevenness of the Third World. This book confronts the theoretical impasse which many feel has been reached. Development scholars from various disciplines review recent changes in research priorities, procedures, and orientations and detect the emergence of new and diverse lines of theoretical development in the field. In particular, they deal with the important meta-theoretical, political, cultural, and ethical questions that have come to the fore.

Fertility and Household Labour in Tanzania : Demography, Economy, and Society in Rufiji District, c.1870-1986 Matthew Lockwood, 1998-03-12. This book is an interdisciplinary study of the way in which human reproduction interweaves with the reproduction of society and economy in coastal Tanzania Combining demography history and sociology and with a breadth of theoretical discussion and empirical detail it offers a new methodology for the study of African fertility and the role of household demography in agrarian economies Part I provides a political economy of changing fertility Demographic patterns are situated within the wider social and economic context in particular the transformation of marriage in relation to kinship and local political structures and child spacing dynamics rooted in the moral economy of gender In Part II the author examines the implications of demographic patterns for people s work loads and economic fortunes at the individual and household level Based on extensive field work in a Tanzanian village the analysis shows the importance of women s involvement in rice cultivation and the fluidity of life cycles

Accumulating Capital Today Marlène Benquet,Théo Bourgeron,2021-01-30 This book explores the renewal of forms of capital accumulation and the institutions that shape it It focuses on three main sources of accumulation the extraction of profit through labor and the commodification of nature financial speculation and the ways in which profit is converted into wealth It thus offers a new understanding of the economic and political logics of capital accumulation within capitalism in the 21st century It shows the recomposition of the sources of profit from the traditional mechanisms of labor exploitation to the contemporary logics of speculation and dispossession Bringing together the work of scholars who study the social fabric of capitalist accumulation Accumulating Capital Today goes beyond disciplinary frontiers to describe how capital is accumulating in a world threatened by social and environmental collapse This book heralds the emergence of accumulation studies and will be of interest to researchers in sociology anthropology politics political economy geography and economics

Towards an Anthropology of Wealth Theodoros Rakopoulos,Knut Rio,2020-06-04 Aiming to redefine the concept of wealth which has too often been reduced to merely accumulated assets this book views wealth primarily as a question of reproduction relational flows and life vitality The authors therefore outline wealth as a triangular phenomenon between capital the commons and power Viewing wealth as firstly a product of relational capacities the book explores the processes wherein it is constantly being pulled at from forces that demand appropriation be that finance community or state The chapters tackle perceptions and practices of wealth in the commons in mythical narrative immaterial substance aristocratic orders antimafia money real and imagined and conspiracy theory with contributions from Melanesia Italy Greece India and Mongolia The comparative perspective lies at the heart of the book bringing together instances of commonwealth and the commons as well as hierarchical relational and substantial understandings of wealth As the first collection in recent decades to address the anthropology of wealth openly in a comparative perspective this book will spark discussions of the concept in anthropology not least at the back of a renewed debate over it due to Piketty s legacy This book was originally published as a special issue of History Anthropology

Global Capital and Peripheral Labour Ravi Raman,2010-01-21 This book presents a historical account of plantations in India in the context of the modern world economy It brings history up to the present thereby showing how history can assist in explaining contemporary conditions and trends The author focuses on labour and economic development problems and uses the World Systems theory so as to demonstrate the practical utility of the theory and its limitations as a guide to historical research Based on extensive archival research the book interprets the dynamics of plantation capitalism by focusing on the work life and struggle of the dalits on plantations in colonial and post colonial South India as they evolved from the mid 19th century It argues that these elements of the plantation life world were fashioned by the specific characteristics of the workers location within the capitalist world economy the then prevailing local social structure and the scheme of disciplining to which the workers were subjected to Treating the relations among various social forces the planting communities the oppressed communities dalits in India the regional and national state and the Imperial regime this book fills a gap in academic literature on capitalism economic development and globalization
