Maine Forms Of American Architecture:

Maine Forms of American Architecture ,1976 Homelands Richard L. Nostrand, Lawrence E. Estaville, 2003-05-01

What does it mean to be from somewhere If most people in the United States are from some place else what is an American homeland In answering these questions the contributors to Homelands A Geography of Culture and Place across America offer a geographical vision of territory and the formation of discrete communities in the U S today Homelands discusses groups such as the Yankees in New England Old Order Amish in Ohio African Americans in the plantation South Navajos in the Southwest Russians in California and several other peoples and places Homelands explores the connection of people and place by showing how aspects of several different North American groups found their niche and created a homeland A collection of fifteen essays Homelands is an innovative look at geographical concepts in community settings It is also an exploration of the academic work taking place about homelands and their people of how factors such as culture settlement and cartographic concepts come together in American sociology There is much not only to study but also to celebrate about American homelands As the editors state Underlying today s pluralistic society are homelands large and small strong and weak that endure in some way The mosaic of homelands to which people bonded in greater or lesser degrees affirms in a holistic way America s diversity its pluralistic society The authors depict the cultural effects of immigrant settlement The conviction that people need to participate in the life of the homeland to achieve their own self realization within the traditions and comforts of that community Homelands gives us a new map of the United States a map drawn with people s lives and the land that is their home Architecture and Town Planning in Colonial North America James D.

Kornwolf, Georgiana Wallis Kornwolf, 2002 Incorporating more than 3 000 illustrations Kornwolf s work conveys the full range of the colonial encounter with the continent s geography from the high forms of architecture through formal landscape design and town planning From these pages emerge the fine arts of environmental design an understanding of the political and economic events that helped to determine settlement in North America an appreciation of the various architectural and landscape forms that the settlers created and an awareness of the diversity of the continent s geography and its peoples Considering the humblest buildings along with the mansions of the wealthy and powerful public buildings forts and churches Kornwolf captures the true dynamism and diversity of colonial communities their rivalries and frictions their outlooks and attitudes as they extended their hold on the land Summer by the Seaside Bryant Franklin Tolles, 2008 A sweeping richly illustrated architectural study of the large historic New England coastal resort hotels

Judith B. Tankard, 2022-03-29 The only monograph to chronicle the life and work of one of the most important figures in American landscape architecture Beatrix Farrand the only female founder of the American Society of Landscape Architects is one of the most important landscape architects of the early twentieth century Today the scope of her work and her influence on the profession are widely acknowledged and her gardens are being studied, restored, and opened to the public. A long-awaited updated edition of the 2009 definitive monograph Beatrix Farrand: Garden Artist, Landscape Architect chronicles the life and work of one of the most important figures in American landscape architecture. Born into a prominent New York family, she was Edith Wharton's niece. Farrand designed lavish gardens for the leaders of society, including the Harknesses, the Rockefellers, and the Blisses. Ultimately, her portfolio extended to college and university campuses, including Princeton, Yale, and the University of Chicago, and public gardens, the Santa Barbara Botanic Garden and the Rose Garden at the New York Botanical Garden, among them. Her best-known design is the landscape at Dumbarton Oaks in Washington, D.C., originally a private residence with extensive grounds and now a research center for Harvard University, surrounded by a naturalistic park restored and maintained by the National Park Service. Deeply influenced by the English garden designer Gertrude Jekyll, Farrand was known for broad expanses of lawn with deep swaths of borders planted in a subtle palette of foliage and flowers. In her public work, she adapted this design strategy to create paths and plantings that define the character of the space and the circulation through it. Heavily illustrated with archival images and photographs of her gardens at their peak, many taken especially for this book, Beatrix Farrand: Garden Artist, Landscape Architect also displays beautiful watercolor wash renderings of her designs, now preserved at the College of Environmental Design of the University of California at Berkeley. The new edition includes updated images that reflect the current state of gardens, including the Peggy Rockefeller Rose Garden at the New York Botanical Garden, the International House Courtyard at the University of Chicago, Garland Farm, Farrand's last home and garden, which has recently been restored, Dumbarton Oaks, Dumbarton Oaks Park, which was not included in the first edition, among others. The book concludes with a comprehensive list of Farrand's commissions and the gardens open to the public, providing direction for further study and exploration. It also features a new preface outlining the milestones in research since the first edition's publication, updated details about ownership and renovations of many properties, and a revised bibliography including articles and books published over the past ten years. Published to coincide with the 150th anniversary of Farrand's birth and written by landscape historian and preservation consultant Judith B. Tankard, Beatrix Farrand: Garden Artist, Landscape Architect takes readers on a tour of Farrand's finest works, celebrating her influence on succeeding generations of women landscape architects.

John Calvin Stevens, Domestic Architecture, 1890-1930 John Calvin Stevens, Earle G. Shettleworth (Jr.), 1990 Paradise Valley, Nevada Howard W. Marshall, 1995 Stonemasons from the Alpine valleys of northwestern Italy shaped the architectural face of Paradise Valley in northern Nevada in the 1860s and 1870s. Drawing on their own distinctive skills, they constructed the constellation of granite and sandstone buildings that are the region's most visible landmarks. Marshall's analysis of this architectural legacy, illustrated with 229 photographs and 70 line drawings, is not only a valuable resource for scholars in vernacular architecture, folklore, and cultural geography but also a verbal and visual treat for all who love the American West.

The Steeples of Old New England Kirk Shivel, 1998 The church steeple was one of the first art forms to be cultivated in this new land becoming one of early America's principal artistic achievements. The backstory of this distinctive art form is a fascinating one. The Yankees, a homogenous group, emerged in New England in the early 18th century. Their artistic abilities in design are also prevalent in silverwork and furniture craft; however, it was in their steeples that they excelled and in which they were best expressed. In The Steeples of Old New England, Kirk Shivel traces both the history of these steeples and the Yankee society that built them, including many examples and anecdotes covering the period between 1701 through 1860. This book provides a wealth of information for students of history, architecture, and religion, or anyone else interested in reading about or visiting these historical landmarks. These magnificent edifices rose up everywhere on the newly settled New England landscape, the earliest built only a half century before the American Revolution and the last built right before the Civil War. There are over 115 exquisitely beautiful illustrations, some full color and others taken from documents of the period. A comprehensive directory and bibliography are also included.

Paradise Planned Robert A.M. Stern, David Fishman, Jacob Tilove, 2013-12-03. Paradise Planned is the definitive history of the development of the garden suburb, a phenomenon that originated in England in the late eighteenth century, was quickly adopted in the United States and northern Europe, and gradually proliferated throughout the world. These bucolic settings offered an ideal lifestyle, typically outside the city but accessible by streetcar, train, and automobile. Today, the principles of the garden city movement are once again in play, as retrofitting the suburbs has become a central issue in planning. Strategies are emerging that reflect the goals of garden suburbs in creating metropolitan communities that embrace both the intensity of the city and the tranquility of nature. Paradise Planned is the comprehensive encyclopedic record of this movement, a vital contribution to architectural and planning history, and an essential recourse for guiding the repair of the American townscape.

Big House, Little House, Back House, Barn Thomas C. Hubka, 2022-12-07. A classic work on farm buildings made by nineteenth-century New Englanders, refreshed with a new introduction. Big House, Little House, Back House, Barn portrays the four essential components of the stately and beautiful connected farm buildings made by nineteenth-century New Englanders that stand today as a living expression of a rural culture, offering insights into the people who made them and their agricultural way of life. A visual delight as well as an engaging tribute to our nineteenth-century forebears, this book, first published nearly forty years ago, has become one of the standard works on regional farmsteads in America. This new edition features a new preface by the author.

To Live in the New World Judith K. Major, 1997. While most historians and critics have focused on the treatise, Judith Major gives equal emphasis to Downing's spirited monthly editorials in The Horticulturist. In the journal, Downing spoke to Americans and encouraged his countrymen and women to practice economy, to use America's rich natural resources wisely, yet artfully, to be content with a
