Gauguin's 'nirvana' Paul Gauguin, Wadsworth Atheneum Staff, Stephen H. Kornhauser, Wadsworth Atheneum Museum of Art, Wadsworth Atheneum, 2001-01-01
Shortly before Gauguin made his first Tahitian journey in 1891 he spent nearly two years in the remote Breton fishing village of Le Pouldu Seeking creative isolation in a primitive setting he pursued his art accompanied by several followers One of them was the Dutch painter Meyer de Haan who was able to pay the living expenses in Le Pouldu and was also knowledgeable in literary and philosophical matters that fascinated Gauguin Their association resulted in some of Gauguin's most remarkable works including the Wadsworth Atheneum's symbolist portrait of de Haan inscribed Nirvana This and the rich variety of paintings and sculpture by Gauguin produced in 1889-90 are the focus of this beautiful book Gauguin and de Haan settled into an inn at Le Pouldu run by an attractive unwed mother named Marie Henry who began a liaison with de Haan despite the fact that he was a sickly hunchback The intensity of relations between Gauguin and de Haan is reflected in many of the works including frescoes which they installed in the inn Gauguin's time in Le Pouldu was crucial to the advancement of his art and the vivid Breton subjects and personality of Meyer de Haan remained in his imagination to reappear even during his later Tahitian period In this book several distinguished experts draw on previously unavailable sources to examine in depth the history of this period Gauguin's relationship with de Haan their interest in religion and exotic cultures and the meaning of the many innovative symbolist works they produced

Utopianism for a Dying Planet Gregory Claeys, 2024-12-10 How the utopian tradition offers answers to today's environmental crises In the face of Earth's environmental breakdown it is clear that technological innovation alone won't save our planet A more radical approach is required one that involves profound changes in individual and collective behavior Utopianism for a Dying Planet examines the ways the expansive history of utopian thought from its origins in ancient Sparta and ideas of the Golden Age through to today's thinkers can offer moral and imaginative guidance in the face of catastrophe The utopian tradition which has been critical of conspicuous consumption and luxurious indulgence might light a path to a society that emphasizes equality sociability and sustainability Gregory Claeys unfolds his argument through a wide ranging consideration of utopian literature social theory and intentional communities He defends a realist definition of utopia focusing on ideas of sociability and belonging as central to utopian narratives He surveys the development of these themes during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries before examining twentieth and twenty first century debates about alternatives to consumerism Claeys contends that the current global warming limit of 1.5C to 2.7F will result in cataclysm if there is no further reduction in the cap In response he offers a radical Green New Deal program which combines ideas from the theory of sociability with proposals to withdraw from fossil fuels and cease reliance on unsustainable commodities An urgent and comprehensive search for antidotes to our planet's destruction Utopianism for a Dying Planet asks for a revival of utopian ideas not as an escape from reality but as a powerful means of changing it

Writing Marginality in Modern French Literature Edward J. Hughes, 2001-04-23 Writing Marginality in Modern French Literature first published in 2001 explores how cultural centres require the peripheral the outlawed and the deviant in order to define and bolster themselves It analyses the hierarchies of cultural value which inform the work of six modern French writers the exoticist Pierre Loti Paul Gauguin whose Noa Noa enacts European fantasies about Polynesia Proust who analyses such exemplary figures of exclusion and inclusion as the homosexual and the xenophobe Montherlant who claims to subvert colonialist values in La Rose de sable Camus who pleads an alienating detachment from the cultures of both metropolitan France and Algeria and Jean Genet Crucially Genet who was typecast as France's moral pariah in charting Palestinian statelessness in his last work Un Captif amoureux 1986 reflects ethically on the dispossession of the Other and the violence inherent in the West's marginalization of cultural difference

The Diaries of Northrop Frye, 1942-1955 Northrop Frye, 2001-01-01 This volume in the Collected Works provides a transcription of the seven books of diaries that Frye kept intermittently from 1942 until 1955 Van Gogh's Ear Bernadette Murphy, 2016-07-12 The best known and most sensational event in Vincent van Gogh's life is also the least understood For more than a century biographers and historians seeking definitive facts about what happened on a December night in Arles have unearthed more questions than answers Why would an artist at the height of his powers commit such a brutal act Who was the mysterious Rachel to whom he presented his macabre gift Did he use a razor or a knife Was it just a segment or did Van Gogh really lop off his entire ear In Van Gogh's Ear Bernadette Murphy reveals for the first time the true story of this long misunderstood incident sweeping away decades of myth and giving us a glimpse of a troubled but brilliant artist at his breaking point Murphy's detective work takes her from Europe to the United States and back from the holdings of major museums to the moldering contents of forgotten archives She braids together her own thrilling journey of discovery with a narrative of Van Gogh's life in Arles the sleepy Provençal town where he created his finest work and vividly reconstructs the world in which he moved the madams and prostitutes café patrons and police inspectors shepherds and bohemian artists We encounter Van Gogh's brother and benefactor Theo his guest and fellow painter Paul Gauguin and many local subjects of Van Gogh's paintings some of whom Murphy identifies for the first time Strikingly Murphy uncovers previously unknown information about Rachel and uses it to propose a bold new hypothesis about what was occurring in Van Gogh's heart and mind as he made a mysterious delivery to her doorstep As it reopens one of art history's most famous cold cases Van Gogh's Ear becomes a fascinating work of detection It is also a study of a painter creating his most iconic and revolutionary work pushing himself ever closer to greatness even as he edged toward madness and one fateful sweep of the blade that would resonate through the ages The Annenberg Collection Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), Colin B.

Bailey, 2009 The Walter and Leonore Annenberg Collection of Impressionist and Post Impressionist paintings watercolors and drawings constitutes one of the most remarkable groupings of avant garde works of art from the mid 19th to the early 20th century ever given to The Metropolitan Museum of Art A revised and expanded edition of the 1989 publication Masterpieces of Impressionism and Post Impressionism The Annenberg Collection this volume presents more than fifty masterworks by such luminaries as Manet Degas Morisot Renoir Monet Cezanne Gauguin Van Gogh Picasso and Matisse accompanied by elucidating texts and a wealth of comparative illustrations From publisher Facing West Richard Drinnon, 1997 American expansion says Richard Drinnon is characterized by repression and racism In his reinterpretation of winning the West Drinnon links racism with colonialism and traces this interrelationship from the Pequot War in New England through American expansion westward to the Pacific and beyond to the Philippines and Vietnam. He cites parallels between the slaughter of bison on the Great Plains and the defoliation of Vietnam and notes similarities in the language of aggression used in the American West, the Philippines, and Southeast Asia.
