Nobody Has To Be A Kid Forever:

Nobody Has to be a Kid Forever Hila Colman, 1977 When her mother leaves the family to live in a downtown loft thirteen year old Sarah feels she copes with enough problems not to be considered a kid anymore Children's Books and Their Creators Anita Silvey, 1995 Unique in its coverage of contemporary American children's literature this timely single volume reference covers the books our children are or should be reading now from board books to young adult novels Enriched with dozens of color illustrations and the voices of authors and illustrators themselves it is a cornucopia of delight 23 color 153 b w illustrations Nobody's Children Elizabeth R. Lawrence, 2008-04-01 The orphan trains stopped running in 1929 and the foster care system began Hollywood relieved Depression era problems on the subject with films starring Shirley Temple Room for One More with Cary Grant depicted the need for foster families Blossoms In the Dust starring Greer Garson dealt with the social stigma faced by both the parents and the children Having immigrant parents in the mix added more problems This was my family We were a family torn apart as our parents fought to regain their children while the system held them hostage to the moral tenor of the times Once the State took us a promise was made a promise believed Why in the end did we then feel twice abandoned twice betrayed Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1977 Nobody's Child Alma Corliss, 2016-06-24 They say children live what they learn but that's not necessarily true is it Or is there an exception for me I don't think it is true It is a big myth to me as they say everybody is entitled to their own opinion Well let me give you a good example and just to let you know it may be graphic so read at your own risk This is a cross between love hate and anger in a person's life This is a heart that has never mended even in adulthood I have not lived what I learned Are you ready to hear it Here goes It's Nobody's Fault Harold S. Koplewicz, MD, 2010-04-28 People who wouldn't dream of blaming parents for a child's asthma or diabetes are often quick to blame bad parenting for a child's hyperactivity depression or school phobia The parents in turn often blame their children believing that they're lazy or rebellious Even worse the children with these psychological problems often blame themselves convinced that they're just bad kids In It's Nobody's Fault esteemed child and adolescent psychiatrist Dr Harold S. Koplewicz at last puts an end to this pointless and erroneous cycle of blame and helps parents get the help they need for their troubled children Written in an easy anecdotal style and filled with fascinating stories of real children and their parents It's Nobody's Fault is an indispensable guide for anyone who lives or works with children who need help Nobody's Mother Marlene A. D. Lynne Van Luven, 2006 Statistics say that one in 10 women has no intention of taking the plunge into motherhood Nobody's Mother is a collection of stories by women who have already made this choice From introspective to humorous to rabble rousing these are personal stories that are well and honestly told The writers range in age from early 30s to mid 70s and come from diverse backgrounds All have thought long and hard about the role of motherhood their own destinies what mothering means in our society and what their choice means to them as individuals and as members of their ethnic communities or social
