Corpus Reformatum, 1867 The Unruly Tongue in Early Modern England Nathalie Vienne-Guerrin, 2012-03-01 The Unruly Tongue in Early Modern England is a scholarly edition of three early modern treatises on the unruly tongue Jean de Marconville A Treatise of the Good and Evill Tounge ca 1592 William Perkins A Direction for the Government of the Tongue according to Gods worde 1595 and George Webbe The Araignment of an unruly Tongue 1619 The tongue can no man tame says the Bible James 3 8 and yet these texts try to tame the tongues of men and tell them how they should rule this little but essential organ and avoid swearing blaspheming cursing lying flattering railing slandering quarrelling babbling jesting or mocking This volume excavates the biblical and classical sources in which these early modern texts are embedded and gives a panorama of the sins of the tongue that the Elizabethan society both cultivates and strives to contain Vienne Guerrin provides the reader with early modern images of what Erasmus described as a slippery and ambivalent organ that is both sweet and sour a source of life and death

The French Language in the Seventeenth Century Peter Rickard, 1992 The sixty French texts edited here are all direct commentaries by contemporary authors on the French language in the 17th century By this time French had begun to assert its independence in its written and printed form it was being used for a wide variety of literary technical and administrative purposes Its practitioners not only successfully challenged the hitherto dominant position of Latin but also began for the first time to discuss and analyse for its own sake the language which was now their preferred medium for expression hence in the first half of the seventeenth century a growing number of publications on the nature and characteristics of French The texts demonstrate the sustained critical preoccupation with the welfare of the French language in the 17th century and illustrate the various ways in which the writers of the age contributed to its development as an instrument of literary expression and social intercourse

Other Others Steven Shankman, 2011-01-02 In literary and cultural studies today the term the Other appears to have largely lost its moorings in the primacy of the intersubjective encounter focusing rather on the social construction of the Other For Emmanuel Levinas in contrast the Other is precisely that which eludes construction and categorization In a study that ranges from literature of ancient China Greece and Israel to modern Egypt Italy West Africa and America Steven Shankman tests Levinas's ideas by reading literary works from outside the Judeo Christian orbit for figurations equivalent to Levinas's notion of the Other He also places ethics at the center of intercultural or in his words transcultural comparative literature In contemporary literary and cultural studies it is often assumed that culture has the last word However as Levinas insists and as Shankman argues throughout this book it is ethics that is the presupposition of all Culture that is situated before Culture
