but life is not unchanging In 1932 Saudi Arabia became a nation and intertribal raiding and warfare was brought to an end Cole highlights the adaptability of the l Murrah as the desert became increasingly invaded by motor transport and oil rigs He sees their experience as prototypical man everywhere must attune his life to the requirements of his economy In a place like the Arabian Desert these adjustments are most insistent This work shows that even when these demands of the external world pervade behavior life can remain rich and rewarding Donald Powell Cole is professor emeritus in the Department of Sociology Anthropology Psychology and Egyptology at The American University in Cairo Egypt He is author or co author of numerous works including Arabian Oasis City The Transformation of Unayah and Bedouin Settlers and Holiday Makers Egypt s Changing Northwest Coast Nomadic Societies in the Middle East and North Africa Dawn Chatty,2018-11-12 A scholarly volume devoted to an understanding of contemporary nomadic and pastoral societies in the Middle East and North Africa This volume recognizes the variable mobile quality of the ways of life of these societies which persist in accommodating the nation state of the 20th and 21st century but remain firmly transnational and highly adaptive Composed of four sections around the theme of contestation it includes examinations of contested authority and power space and social transformation development and economic transformation and cultures and engendered spaces The Rwala Bedouin Today William Lancaster,1981-09-03 Considered by many scholars to be one of the best modern ethnographies on Middle Eastern ethnic groups the highly regarded unromanticized account of Bedouin life offers a clear explanation of the kinship system in nomadic societies World Military History Bibliography Barton Hacker,2003-06-01 Preclassical and indigenous nonwestern military institutions and methods of warfare are the chief subjects of this annotated bibliography of work published 1967 1997 Classical antiquity post Roman Europe and the westernized armed forces of the 20th century although covered receive less systematic attention Emphasis is on historical studies of military organization and the relationships between military and other social institutions rather than wars and battles Especially rich in references to the periodical literature the bibliography is divided into eight parts 1 general and comparative topics 2 the ancient world 3 Eurasia since antiquity 4 sub Saharan Africa and Oceania 5 pre Columbian America 6 postcontact America 7 the contemporary nonwestern world and 8 philosophical social scientific natural scientific and other works not primarily historical Legal and Political Reforms in Saudi Arabia Joseph A. Kechichian,2013 The fractious relationship between the United States and Saudi Arabia has long been a central concern in Washington In the aftermath of 9 11 and amongst ongoing wars the United States confronts an acute dilemma how to cooperate with Riyadh against terrorism whilst confronting acute anti Americanism Using information gathered from extensive interviews with a plethora of officials this book aims to analyze Saudi domestic reforms It addresses the significant deficiency of information on such diverse matters as the judiciary and ongoing national dialogues but also provides an alternative understanding of what motivates Saudi policy makers How these reforms may impact on future Saudi decision making will surely generate a slew of policy concerns for the United States and this study offers a few clarifications and solutions This book will be of interest to anyone seeking a new perspective on the motivation behind legal and political reforms in Saudi Arabia and the effects of these reforms beyond the Middle East Oman in the Twentieth Century J.E. Peterson, 2016-02-12 Oman was ruled by the Al Bu Sa'id for 250 years and during this period the fortunes of the state varied considerably But in July 1970 as a result of a palace coup the state abruptly turned away from isolation and traditions of the past The most obvious alteration was in the dramatic change in the outward appearance of the country particularly as exemplified by the rejection of the long era of stagnation and the parallel emphasis on socio economic development In the political realm however the shifting balance of power and the rapid growth and diversification of the state's administrative structure were based essentially on perennial themes in Omani politics The interplay between four of these themes forms the basis of this study first published in 1978 The role of the Sultan and the ruling family the development of the administration the exercise of tribal politics and the impact of external influences on the state are closely examined and the modifications they went in response to the various challenges of the twentieth century are discussed The constant flux in the relative importance of each of these themes illustrates the fragile nature of the traditional Omani political system for in the twentieth century the Al Bu Sa'id Sultanate found its precarious hold over the country challenged on a number of occasions These challenges ranging from the tribal and religious rebellion of 1913-20 to the Marxist Leninist revolt in Dhufar are also analysed in detail together with the response of the Sultanate to their impact Settling the Desert L. Berkofsky, D. Faiman, J. Gale, 2019-08-06 First published in 1981 Settling the Desert is an attempt to organise those aspects of scientific and sociological research that are the necessary prerequisites for making the desert a comfortable and profitable place for man to inhabit In this book experts from many fields of desert research review the history of desert settlement and agriculture as well as the present problems encountered by modern desert settlers Topics discussed include meteorology sociology ecology water resources solar energy innovative desert agriculture architecture and animal science

Archaeology of the United Arab Emirates Daniel T. Potts, Hasan Al Naboodah, Peter Hellyer, 2003 Arab Manpower (RLE Economy of Middle East) J.S. Birks, C.A. Sinclair, 2020-07-26 The Arab world increasingly falls into two divisions the capital poor and the capital rich countries where capital means in essence oil In the capital rich countries shortage of labour is the chief constraint on growth In the capital poor countries analysis of the labour market is equally central as shortage of labour compounds the already existing problem of shortage of capital This book surveys the labour markets of the Arab world state by state evaluating them by demand and supply analysis and analysing the different elements in trends of employment It forecasts the areas of stress in the next decade and suggests ways of minimising them The book based on much previously unpublished information and on extensive on the spot research in the respective Arab countries sets out the economic and social conditions which underly the impending crisis of development in the Arab region First published in 1980 The Women of the United Arab Emirates Linda Soffan, 2016-10-04 First published in 1980 this book looks at the factors which influenced the position held by women in the United Arab Emirates in the second half of the 20th century. It argues that Islamic Law has granted women rights and privileges in the spheres of family life, marriage, education and economic pursuits which aim at improving their status in society. However, due to the interpretations of various religious scholars influenced by local traditions and social trends, women have often not been given these rights, particularly in family life and marriage. In contrast, the book also explores how the wealth brought about by the discovery of oil has served to further strengthen the position of UAE women principally in the fields of education, social affairs and economic activity. This book will be of interest to those studying women in Islamic society and modernisation in the Middle East. Routledge Library Editions: Women in Islamic Societies Various Authors, 2021-02-25. Women in Islamic societies are often seen as a hidden and homogenous group. The volumes in this set, originally published between 1960 and 1983, explore the wide variety of women's roles in a range of Islamic societies from Yemen, the United Arab Emirates and Kurdistan to Malaysia, West Africa, Iran and Turkey. Due to their anthropological focus, each book pays particular attention to the everyday lives of women in these regions, including their agency and power within their own communities. The titles also explore women's changing roles in the modernising Muslim world of the 20th century. This set will be of interest to those studying women, gender, Islam and anthropology.

The Armies of the Caliphs Hugh Kennedy, 2013-06-17. The first major study of the relationship between army and society in the early Islamic period, which reveals the pivotal role of the military in politics and offers a timely reassessment of the early Islamic State.

Technology, Tradition and Survival Richard Tapper, Keith McLachlan, 2004-11-23. The contributors address the history, originality, variety and sophistication of traditional science, technology and material culture in the Middle East and Central Asia, their influence on the history of Europe and the West, and the threat posed by modern Western technologies.

The Archaeology of Mobility Hans Barnard, Willeke Wendrich, 2008-12-31. There have been edited books on the archaeology of nomadism in various regions and there have been individual archaeological and anthropological monographs, but nothing with the kind of coverage provided in this volume. Its strength and importance lies in the fact that it brings together a worldwide collection of studies of the archaeology of mobility. This book provides a ready-made reference to this worldwide phenomenon and is unique in that it tries to redefine pastoralism within a larger context by the term mobility. It presents many new ideas and thoughtful approaches, especially in the Central Asian region.

Asia Before Europe K. N. Chaudhuri, 1990. This book explores the dynamic interaction between economic life, society and civilisation in the regions around and beyond the Indian Ocean during the period from the rise of Islam to 1750. Within a distinctive theory of comparative history, Professor Chaudhuri analyses how the identity of different Asian civilisations was established. He examines the structural features of food habits, clothing, architectural styles and housing, the different modes of economic production and the role of crop raising, pastoral nomadism and industrial activities for the main regions of the Indian Ocean. In an original and perceptive conclusion, the author demonstrates how Indian Ocean societies were united or separated from one another by a conscious cultural and linguistic identity. However, there was a deeper structure of unities created by a common ecology, technology, economic production, traditions of government, theory of political obligations and rights, and a shared historical experience. His theory enables the author to show that the real Indian Ocean was an area that extended historically from the Red Sea and the Persian Gulf to the sea which lies beyond Japan. Vision or Mirage David Rundell, 2020-09-17. Clear-eyed and illuminating. Henry Kissinger, former Secretary of State and National Security Advisor. A rich, superbly researched, balanced history of the modern Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. General David Petraeus, former Commander U.S. Central Command and Director of the Central Intelligence Agency. Destined to be the best single volume on the Kingdom. Ambassador Chas Freeman, former U.S. Ambassador to Saudi Arabia and Assistant Secretary of Defense. Should be prescribed reading for a new generation of political leaders. Sir Richard Dearlove, former Chief of H.M. Secret Intelligence Service (MI6) and Master of Pembroke College, Cambridge. Something extraordinary is happening in Saudi Arabia. A traditional tribal society, once known for its lack of tolerance, is rapidly implementing significant economic and social reforms. An army of foreign consultants is rewriting the social contract. King Salman has cracked down hard on corruption, and his dynamic though inexperienced son, the Crown Prince Mohammad bin Salman, is promoting a more tolerant Islam. But is all this a new vision for Saudi Arabia, or merely a mirage likely to dissolve into Iranian-style revolution? David Rundell, one of America's foremost experts on Saudi Arabia, explains how the country has been stable for so long, why it is less so today, and what is most likely to happen in the future. The book is based on the author's close contacts and intimate knowledge of the country where he spent 15 years living and working as a diplomat. Vision or Mirage demystifies one of the most powerful but least understood states in the Middle East and is essential reading for anyone interested in the power dynamics and politics of the Arab World. The Cohesion of Saudi Arabia (RLE Saudi Arabia) Christine Helms, 2020-07-26. Saudi Arabia is no longer regarded as quite the invincible pillar of Islam it so recently seemed. Its authority within the Islamic world has been challenged by the Ayatollahs in Iran, and its dominant position within Opec has been seriously eroded. Most importantly, the dramatic assault on the Mosque at Mecca has raised serious doubts about the internal security of the Saudi regime. This study provides essential background to the contemporary problems of Saudi Arabia, in its focus on the early years of the Saudi state and the way in which King Abd al Aziz first created a nation-state and asserted his family's authority. It argues that the geography of Central Arabia was a crucial factor in determining how he fused together the Bedouin tribes and the settled communities into a political entity. First published in 1981 and based on extensive new research data, this is the first study to examine more than simply a political or diplomatic history of Saudi Arabia and concerns itself with the attitudes and perceptions of the Arabs themselves towards political initiatives of that period. Water and Power in Past Societies Emily Holt, 2018-05-01. Water, an essential resource in all cultures, is at the heart of human power structures. Utilizing a diverse range of theoretical perspectives, the contributors to Water and Power in Past Societies provide a broad introduction to the archaeology of water related power structures The studies herein explore the long history of water politics in human society offering new insights into the power structures and inequalities surrounding irrigation systems the collection of rainwater as a component of ancient industrial production and sea water as a facilitator of communication trade and aggression In addition to examining the role of different types of water in creating power relationships the volume presents case studies from a variety of climatic regions ranging from the very dry to the tropical This geographical breadth facilitates cross cultural comparison making Water and Power in Past Societies an essential resource for instructors and students of the archaeology of water Finally in addition to reaching conclusions with significant implications for archaeologists and anthropologists the volume has real contemporary relevance often drawing explicit parallels with issues of current and future water management
