Heroism and the Supernatural in the African Epic Mariam Konaté Deme,2010-09-13 There exists a strong tendency within Western literary criticism to either deny the existence of epics in Africa or to see African literatures as exotic copies of European originals In both cases Western criticism has largely failed to acknowledge the distinctiveness of African literary aesthetics This book revises traditional literary canons in examining the social cultural and emotional specificity of African epics Mariam Konate Deme highlights the distinguishing features that characterize the African epic emphasizing the significance of the fantastic and its use as an essential element in the dramatic structure of African epics As Deme notes the fantastic can be fully appreciated only against the cosmological background of the societies that produce those heroic tales This book not only contributes to the scholarship on African oral literature but also adds reshapes our understanding of heroic literature in general

The NGO Factor in Africa Maurice N. Amutabi,2013-09-13 The book breaks new ground in understanding the role of Non Governmental Organizations NGOs in Africa The book historicizes NGOs using the Rockefeller Foundation as a case study looking at its tripartite paradoxical roles as an agent of colonialism globalization and development underdevelopment It deploys interdisciplinary devices to show how the RF projects have engaged in marginalization patronage and othering of African values and customs and the ensuing controversies Using globalization postmodern and postcolonial theories the book deconstructs the long held myths about NGO inviolability and opens ground for understanding their strengths It interrogates sites of contestation apprehension and possibilities that the RF has produced Using RF projects it looks at structures of hegemony race power class and gender that the RF has created The book illustrates the extent to which the RF has been instrumental in spreading capitalism imperialism in economic political cultural and social realms through globalization It desists from the grand narrative approach that has dominated African history in the past but instead gives agency and voice to those that have previously been marginalized

Africa and IMF Conditionality Kwame Akonor,2013-09-13 Ghana was one of the first African countries to adopt a comprehensive IMF reform program and the one that has sustained adjustment longest Yet questions of Ghana s compliance to what extent did it comply how did it manage compliance what patterns of non compliance existed and why have not been systematically investigated and remain poorly understood This book argues that understanding the domestic political environment is crucial in explaining why compliance or the lack thereof occurs Akonor maintains that compliance with IMF conditionality in Ghana has had high political costs and thus non compliance occurred once the political survival of a regime was at stake The African Origins of Rhetoric Cecil Blake,2010-07-01 Through a critical analysis of ancient African texts that predate Greco Roman treatises Cecil Blake revisits the roots of rhetorical theory and challenges what is often advanced as the darkness metaphor the rhetorical construction of Africa and Africans Blake offers a thorough examination of Ptah hotep and core African ethical principles Maat and engages rhetorical scholarship within the wider discourse of African development In so doing he establishes a direct relationship between rhetoric and development studies in non western societies and highlights the prospect for applying such principles to ameliorating the development malaise of the continent

African Minorities in the New World Toyin Falola,Niyi Afolabi,2007-11-13 This book uncovers the reality that new African immigrants now represent a significant force in the configuration of American polity and identity especially in the last forty years Despite their minority status African immigrants are making their marks in various areas of human endeavor and accomplishments from academic to business to even scientific inventions The demographic shift is both welcome news as well as a matter for concern given the consequences of displacement and the paradoxes of exile in the new location By its very connection to the Old African Diaspora the notion of a New African Diaspora marks a clear indication of a historical progression reconnecting continental Africa with the New World without the stigma of slavery Yet the notion of trans Atlantic slavery is never erased when the African diaspora is mentioned whether in the old or new world Within this paradoxical dispensation the new African diaspora must be conceived as the aftermath of a global migration crisis African

Discourse in Islam, Oral Traditions, and Performance Abdul-Rasheed Na'Allah,2010-09-13 Through an engaged analysis of writers such as Wole Soyinka Ola Rotimi Niyi Osundare and Tanure Ojaide and of African traditional oral poets like Omoekee Amao Ilorin and Mamman Shata Katsina Abdul Rasheed Na Allah develops an African indigenous discourse paradigm for interpreting and understanding literary and cultural materials Na Allah argues for the need for cultural diversity in critical theorizing in the twenty first century He highlights the critical issues facing scholars and students involved in criticism and translation of marginalized texts By returning the African knowledge system back to its roots and placing it side by side with Western paradigms Na Allah has produced a text that will be required reading for scholars and students of African culture and literature It is an important contribution to scholarship in the domain of mobility of African oral tradition and on African literary cultural and performance discourse Psychiatry, Mental Institutions, and the Mad in Apartheid South Africa Tiffany Fawn Jones,2012-05-23 In the late 1970s South African mental institutions were plagued with scandals about human rights abuse and psychiatric practitioners were accused of being agents of the apartheid state Between 1939 and 1994 some psychiatric practitioners supported the mandate of the racist and heteropatriarchal government and most mental patients were treated abysmally. However, unlike studies worldwide that show that women, homosexuals, and minorities were institutionalized in far higher numbers than heterosexual men, Psychiatry, Mental Institutions, and the Mad in Apartheid South Africa reveals how in South Africa, per capita, white heterosexual males made up the majority of patients in state institutions. The book therefore challenges the monolithic and omnipotent view of the apartheid government and its mental health policy. While not contesting the belief that human rights abuses occurred within South Africa's mental health system, Tiffany Fawn Jones argues that the disparity among practitioners and the fluidity of their beliefs, along with the disjointed mental health infrastructure, diffused state control. More importantly, the book shows how patients were also to a limited extent able to challenge the constraints of their institutionalization. This volume places the discussions of South Africa's mental institutions in an international context, highlighting the role that international organizations such as the Church of Scientology and political events such as the gay rights movement and the Cold War also played in shaping mental health policy in South Africa.
