Giza Plateau Mapping Project Mark Lehner, 2011-12-31 During 2009 the Giza Plateau Mapping Project carried out excavations at two sites as part of its ongoing research program 1 the settlement connected to the Khentkawes Monument on the Giza Plateau and 2 the nearby town Heit el Ghurab aka Lost City of the Pyramids The 2009 work yielded some important discoveries such as evidence that the 4th Dynasty Khentkawes Town was in fact occupied into the 5th Dynasty with reoccupation later probably in the 6th Dynasty The major discovery was the remains of a previously unknown valley complex off the east end of the Khentkawes Town made up of corridors ramps and stairs descending into a depression that may prove to be a harbor This collection of papers by archaeologists and specialists details the results of the excavations and additional work carried out in 2009 The book is well illustrated with abundant maps and photographs along with large foldout maps and isometric drawings

The Oxford Handbook of Egyptology Ian Shaw, Elizabeth Bloxam, 2020-11-10 The Oxford Handbook of Egyptology offers a comprehensive survey of the entire study of ancient Egypt from prehistory through to the end of the Roman period It seeks to place Egyptology within its theoretical methodological and historical contexts indicating how the subject has evolved and discussing its distinctive contemporary problems issues and potential Transcending conventional boundaries between archaeological and ancient textual analysis the volume brings together 63 chapters that range widely across archaeological philological and cultural sub disciplines highlighting the extent to which Egyptology as a subject has diversified and stressing the need for it to seek multidisciplinary methods and broader collaborations if it is to remain contemporary and relevant Organized into ten parts it offers a comprehensive synthesis of the various sub topics and specializations that make up the field as a whole from the historical and geographical perspectives that have influenced its development and current characteristics to aspects of museology and conservation and from materials and technology as evidenced in domestic architecture and religious and funerary items to textual and iconographic approaches to Egyptian culture Authoritative yet accessible it serves not only as an invaluable reference work for scholars and students working within the discipline but also as a gateway into Egyptology for classicists archaeologists anthropologists sociologists and linguists

Swifter Than the Arrow Michael Rice, 2006-03-31 Swifter than the Arrow explores a little known aspect of life in Ancient Egypt celebrating the Egyptians as the first known civilisation to have formed the special bond with the dog that persists today as the most remarkable and enduring of human animal relationships Five thousand years ago the Egyptians selected and bred hounds for the chase and as the loved companions of both the Great Ones the ruling classes and of less exalted folk For more than twenty five centuries they kept the breed true a remarkable achievement to be counted alongside the development of stone architecture and the building of the pyramids the invention of hieroglyphs the creation of kingship and of the first nation state in the world The dogs on which the Egyptians lavished such loving care and skill were the elegant slender prick eared golden hounds familiar from a thousand tomb reliefs that they called tjesm They were given affectionate names and were the companions of kings who honoured them with rich burials to ensure that they would be together for ever in the Afterlife Numerous representations of dogs and their masters from predynastic rock art through to elaborate tomb paintings and reliefs leave us in no doubt as to the sincerity of the affection that the Egyptians felt for their dog companions The first named dog lover in history was the earliest known queen Herneith who was buried with her hound at Saqqara Dogs and other canines also played their roles in the rich pantheon of ancient Egyptian religion figuring as semi divine messengers between the worlds of the living and the dead Perhaps the most familiar such deity is the sleek black jackal headed god Anubis guardian of the Necropolis and attendant of the underworld Swifter than the Arrow also examines the evidence that hounds living today most notably modern breeds such as the so called Pharaoh Hound are directly descended from the Egyptian hound It reveals remarkable information about the ancestry of the hounds of the Mediterranean islands that unmistakably share the appearance and character of the dogs that once raced across the Egyptian deserts This unique book throws fresh light on our understanding of ancient Egypt while providing a completely fresh insight into the development of mankind's remarkable bond with the domesticated dog

Tell el-Borg II James K. Hoffmeier, 2019-04-09 This is the second and final volume of scientific and interdisciplinary reports on the excavations and research conducted at Tell el Borg north Sinai between 1998 and 2008 written by the scholars and specialists who worked on the site under the direction of Professor James K Hoffmeier This volume focuses on the cemetery areas which yield more than a dozen tombs typically made of mud brick some of which were constructed for a single occupant and some of which were larger tombs that accommodated multiple family members Included is a treatment of an area of public space featuring a temple and a well among other things and a study of the geological results of the nearby ancient Ballah Lakes that offers new data on the history of the Nile distributary that flowed by Tell el Borg The balance of the work deals with specialty reports including the faunal and botanical remains the clay coffins and elite stones A concluding chapter offers a synthesis of the decade of work and ties together the finds published in both volumes In addition to the editor the contributors to this volume include Stephen Moshier Bahaa Gayed Gregory D Mumford Scott D Haddow Mark Janzen Thomas W Davis Rexine Hummel Hesham M Hussein Carole McCartney Michelle A Loyet Louise Bertini and Salima Ikram

Egyptology in the Present Carolyn Graves-Brown, 2015-06-01 This volume builds bridges between usually separate social groups between different methodologies and even between disciplines It is the result of an innovative conference held at Swansea University in 2010 which brought together leading craftspeople and academics to explore the all too often opposed practices of experimental and experiential archaeology The focus is upon Egyptology but the volume has a wider importance The experimental method is privileged in academic institutions and thus perhaps is subject to clear definitions It tends to be associated with the scientific and technological In opposition the experiential is more rarely defined and is usually associated with schoolchildren museums and heritage centres it is often criticised for being unscientific The introductory chapter of this volume examines the development of these traditionally assumed differences giving for the first time a critical and careful definition of the experiential in relation to the experimental The two are seen as points on a continuum with much common ground This claim is borne out by succeeding chapters which cover such topics as textiles woodworking and stoneworking And Salima Ikram Professor of Egyptology at the American University in Cairo here demonstrates remarkably that our understanding of the classic Egyptian funerary practice of mummification benefits from both scientific experimental and sensual experiential approaches The volume however is important not only for Egyptology but for archaeological method more generally The papers illuminate the pioneering of individuals who founded modern archaeological practice Several papers are truly groundbreaking and deserve to circulate far beyond Egyptology Thus the archaeologist Marquardt Lund tackles the problem of understanding the earliest known depictions of flint knife manufacture those from an Egyptian tomb dated around 1900 BC He shows the importance of thinking outside traditional i e modern knapping practice Lund s knapping method guided by the tomb depictions is surprising but effective and very different from that presented in manuals of lithic technology or taught in academic institutions

The Oxford Handbook of Zooarchaeology Umberto Albarella, Mauro Rizzetto, Hannah Russ, Kim Vickers, Sarah Viner-Daniels, 2017-03-23 Animals have played a fundamental role in shaping human history and the study of their remains from archaeological sites zooarchaeology has gradually been emerging as a powerful discipline and crucible for forging an understanding of our past The Oxford Handbook of Zooarchaeology offers a cutting edge compendium of zooarchaeology the world over that transcends environmental economic and social approaches seeking instead to provide a holistic view of the roles played by animals in past human cultures Incisive chapters written by leading scholars in the field incorporate case studies from across five continents from Iceland to New Zealand and from Japan to Egypt and Ecuador providing a sense of the dynamism of the discipline the many approaches and methods adopted by different schools and traditions and an idea of the huge range of interactions that have occurred between people and animals throughout the world and its history Adaptations of human animal relationships in environments as varied as the Arctic temperate forests deserts the tropics and the sea are discussed while studies of hunter gatherers farmers herders fishermen and even traders and urban dwellers highlight the importance that animals have had in all forms of human societies With an introduction that clearly contextualizes the current practice of zooarchaeology in relation to both its history and the challenges and opportunities that can be expected for the future and a methodological glossary illuminating the way in which zooarchaeologists approach the study of their material this Handbook will be invaluable not only for specialists in the field but for anybody who has an interest in our past and the role that animals have played in forging it

Death and Burial in Ancient Egypt Salima Ikram, 2015-06-01 A Book Riot 100 Must Read Book on Ancient History Death burial and the afterlife were as important to the ancient Egyptians as how they lived This well illustrated book explores all aspects of death in ancient Egypt including beliefs of the afterlife mummification the protection of the body tombs and their construction and decoration funerary goods and the funeral itself It also addresses the relationship between the living and the dead and the magico religious interaction of these two in ancient Egyptian culture Salima Ikram's own experience with experimental mummification and funerary archaeology lends the book many completely original and provocative insights In addition a full survey of current development in the field makes this a unique book that combines all aspects of death and burial in ancient Egypt into one volume

Religious Practice and Cultural Construction of Animal Worship in Egypt from the Early Dynastic to the New Kingdom Angelo Colonna, 2021-10-21 This study presents an articulated historical interpretation of Egyptian animal worship from the Early Dynastic to the New Kingdom and offers a new understanding of its chronological development through a fresh review of pertinent archaeological and textual data

The Virtopsy Approach Michael Thali, Richard Dirnhofer, Peter Vock, 2009-05-14 Charred badly decomposed or mummified corpses as well as those restrictions forced upon coroners by certain religious sects often make autopsies impossible to perform In addition lack of manpower among the personnel charged with performing autopsies frequently creates a backlog of cases in the coroner's office This delay increases the likeli

A Research Guide to the Ancient World John M. Weeks, Jason de Medeiros, 2014-11-25 The archaeological study of the ancient world has become increasingly popular in recent years A Research Guide to the Ancient World Print and Electronic Sources is a partially annotated bibliography The study of the ancient world is usually although not exclusively considered a branch of the humanities including archaeology art history languages literature philosophy and related cultural disciplines which consider the ancient cultures of the Mediterranean world and adjacent Egypt and southwestern Asia Chronologically the ancient world would extend from the beginning of the Bronze Age of ancient Greece ca 1000 BCE to the fall of the Western Roman Empire ca 500 CE This book will close the traditional subject gap between the humanities Classical World Egyptology and the social sciences anthropological archaeology Near East in the study of the ancient world This book is uniquely the only bibliographic resource available for

Representing Animals Nigel Rothfels,2002-11-28 There are complex often surprising connections between our imagining of animals our cultural environment Topics discussed in this collection include fox hunting pet cloning animatronic characters how we displace our fear of aging onto our dogs Encountering Material Culture Through Archaeological Fiction Kerry Dodd,2024-12-12 Investigating the representation of artefacts objects and things in a range of predominantly Western archaeological fiction from the late Victorian period to the modern day this book examines the narratives through which humanity represents its own material heritage in relation to notions of enchantment exhibition estrangement adventure tourism and waste Kerry Dodd asserts that comprehending the structures through which material culture is presented within archaeological media reveals the structures that transform an object from rubbish to relic Calling upon such indicative literature films TV series and video games as Tomb Raider Indiana Jones Uncharted and Relic Hunter this book explores the depiction of material culture through three principal areas relics exhibition and adventure Outlining a critical framework of artefact representation Dodd argues that such iconic moments as Howard Carter s remark that he saw wonderful things when he broke into the antechamber of Tutankhamun s tomb remain recognisable through the evocation of a spectacular visual despite little concrete definition of the objects witnessed This book offers a unique exploration of how such figures as Indiana Jones Lara Croft and Carter have cemented a cultural recognition of what an artefact constitutes as being dependent on how an object is encountered It is through the very wonder of things that Dodd breaks down the boundaries between popular and professional archaeology by pushing forward critical considerations of material culture

Reopening the Opening of Japan Lewis Bremner, Manimporok Dotulong, Sho Konishi, 2023-10-30 The Opening of Japan has been central to the retelling of Japan's modern history Reopening the Opening of Japan fundamentally reconsiders what that historical moment entailed What did intensified connections between Japan and the world mean both inside and outside of the country and what does this tell us about Japan's historical significance on a global scale The chapters excavate a rich array of surprising cross border connections from the global trade in mummified mermaids to the Japanese Russian intellectual links underpinning the work of Akira Kurosawa Re thinking connectivity through non state transnational perspectives the book guides readers to new ways of doing and writing history Contributors are Lewis Bremner Natalia Doan Manimporok Dotulong Maki Fukuoka Eiko Honda Sho Konishi Mateja Kovacic Joel Littler Chinami Oka Yu Sakai Olga Solovieva and Warren Stanislaus The Evolution and Fossil Record of Parasitism Kenneth De Baets, John Warren Huntley, 2022-01-01 This two volume edited book highlights and reviews the potential of the fossil record to calibrate the origin and evolution of parasitism and the techniques to understand the development of parasite host associations and their relationships with environmental and ecological changes The book deploys a broad and comprehensive approach aimed at understanding the origins and developments of various parasite groups in order to provide a wider evolutionary picture of parasitism as part of biodiversity This is in contrast to most contributions by parasitologists in the literature that focus on circular lines of evidence such as extrapolating from current host associations or distributions to estimate constraints on the timing of the origin and evolution of various parasite groups This approach is narrow and fails to provide the wider evolutionary picture of parasitism on and as part of biodiversity Volume two focuses on the importance of direct host associations and host responses such as pathologies in the geological record to constrain the role of antagonistic interactions in driving the diversification and extinction of parasite host relationships and disease To better understand the impact on host populations emphasis is given to arthropods colonial metazoans echinoderms mollusks and vertebrates as hosts In addition novel techniques used to constrain interactions in deep time are discussed ranging from chemical and microscopic investigations of host remains such as blood and coprolites to the statistical inference of lateral transfer of transposons and host parasite coevolutionary dynamics using molecular divergence time estimation
