The Antiquities of the Christian Church, 2 Volumes Joseph Bingham, 2006-02-10 The design which I have formed to myself is to give such a methodical account of the Antiquities of the Christian Church as others have done of the Greek and Roman and Jewish antiquities not by writing an historical or continued chronological account of all transactions as they happened in the church by by reducing the ancient customs usages and practices of the church under certain proper heads whereby the reader may take a view at once of any particular usage or custom of Christians for four or five of the first centuries to which I have generally confined my inquiries in this discourse from the Preface Studies in Medieval Astronomy and Optics J.

L. Mancha, 2006 In this selection of studies J L Mancha explores aspects of the development of medieval optics and astronomy including some medieval antecedents of the work of early modern astronomers The articles deal with Latin Hebrew and Arabic texts and the process of translation and transmission of knowledge and focus on three main themes the theory and astronomical use of the pinhole camera in the 12th and 13th centuries the characteristics of the Latin and Provençal versions of Levi ben Gerson's astronomical work and different aspects of the survival of homocentric astronomy in the Middle Ages especially al Bitruji's model for trepidation and the technique for calculating the hippopede resulting from Eudoxan couples
