Innovation Oliver Gassmann, Gerrit Reepmeyer, Maximilian von Zedtwitz, 2013-06-05 Pharmaceutical innovation is like gambling at roulette only the stakes are higher Considerably higher since the most recent estimates put the costs of drug development at US 800 million to US 1 billion per drug This is equivalent to the price tag of the Empire State Building when it was for sale a few years ago In 2001 the major US and European pharmaceutical companies invested more than US 30 billion in R D at a higher R D to sales ratio than virtually any other industry including chemicals auto mobiles electronics aerospace and computers Delivering a blockbuster drug is the Holy Grail for any pharmaceutical company But in the last decade the rules of developing blockbusters seem to have changed On the one hand more sophisticated screening technologies genetic engineering and expanding networks with biotechnology companies increase the probability of commercial success Critical success factors include the discovery phase and a stronger outside in orientation in the early innovation phase After the implosion of the high tech stock market biotechnology and other technology driven opportunities may have lost some of their attractiveness for big pharma a pipeline of solid and predictable innovations seems to be the highest goal of most pharmaceutical companies again On the other hand despite significant investments in pipeline management and novel technologies there is still no recipe for ensuring a blockbuster hit Everything You Need to Know about Buying

, 2004 Patient Perspectives to Self Medication: Community Pharmacy Michael Debrincat, 2014-03-27 This book tries to determine patients perspectives regarding OTC medication analyses incidence of irresponsible medication and shows reasons for predisposing factors as well Three quarter of the participants in this study were knowledgeable about the potential for abuse of some OTC drugs and most named analgesics as the most liable for abuse Almost one third of the participants came across cases of OTC abuse Participants were positive towards the health care being provided by their local pharmacy They felt that pharmacists play an important role in providing advice on OTC medicines use The OTC drug abuse problem needs to be tackled urgently as shown by the number of participants witnessing such abuse Patients with higher managerial administrative and professional occupations were more likely to follow the directions on the packet Patients with manual occupations were more likely to seek the advice of a pharmacist rather than a doctor if a given OTC product did not work within a recommended time period
