Jürgen Dinkel, 2018-11-26 The Non Aligned Movement had an important impact on the history of decolonization South South cooperation the Global Cold War and the North South conflict During the 20th century nearly all Asian African and Latin American countries joined the movement to make their voice heard in global politics In The Non Aligned Movement Jürgen Dinkel examines for the first time the history of the NAM since the interwar period as a special reaction of the Global South to changing global orders The study shows breaks and caesurae as well as continuities in the history of globalization and analyses the history of international relations from a non western perspective For this book empirical research was undertaken in Germany Great Britain Indonesia Russia Serbia and the United States Syria and the Doctrine of Arab

Neutrality Rami Ginat, 2010-02-03 This book examines the modern history of post mandatory Syria The evolution of the Syrian ideology and policy of neutralism since the early stages of the Cold War is explained and the effects that Arab neutralism had on shaping Syria's foreign policy and the shaping of its national identity are identified The phenomenon of Arab neutralism has never before been comprehensively investigated The prevailing belief is that the formulation and realisation of the policy of anti alignment began only during Nasser's first years in power in Egypt However the author demonstrates that the roots of neutralism were already sown in Arab soil in the early 1940s and that successive Syrian governments carved out this policy during the final stages of World War II A core issue in the analysis is the dynamic between ideology and policy A conceptual framework is developed to explain the various patterns of neutralism that emerged and the complex of relationships between features exhibited by Syria the Arab world and the Third World The book makes extensive use of newly declassified material gleaned from archives in India the former USSR Poland Britain the United States and Israel primary sources studied and interpreted in the original Arabic are also widely utilised Neutrality and

Neutrality in the Global Cold War Sandra Bott, Jussi M. Hanhimäki, Janick Schaufelbuehl, Marco Wyss, 2015-12-22 This book sheds new light on the foreign policies roles and positions of neutral states and the Non Aligned Movement NAM in the global Cold War The volume places the neutral states and the NAM in the context of the Cold War and demonstrates the links between the East the West and the so called Third World In doing so this collection provides readers an alternative way of exploring the evolution and impact of the Cold War on North South connections that challenges traditional notions of the post 1945 history of international relations The various contributions are framed against the backdrop of the evolution of the Cold War international system and the decolonization process in the Southern hemisphere By juxtaposing the policies of European neutrals and countries of the NAM this book offers new perspectives on the evolution of the Cold War With the links between these two groups of countries receiving very little attention in Cold War scholarship the volume thus offers a window into a hitherto neglected perspective on the Cold War Via a series of case studies the chapters here present new viewpoints on the evolution of the global Cold War through the exploration of the ensuing internal and mainly external policy choices of these nations This book will be of much interest to students of Cold War Studies international history foreign policy security studies and IR in general

Sadri, 1997-04-16 This book compares and contrasts the foreign relations strategies of China Cuba and Iran in the first decade of their post revolutionary periods Among a variety of explanatory variables leadership particularly the type of revolutionary leaders played a significant role in explaining the outcome of the policymaking process in each case Three distinct patterns of foreign relations strategies are evident among all three revolutionary regimes in the ten year period Two Track Conflictual and Conciliatory This book is a valuable source for both experts and non experts alike in providing insight into the foreign relations of revolutionary regimes in developing countries and in helping U S policymakers anticipate behaviors of future revolutionary leaders A focal point of this book is the examination of the nonalignment strategies of these prominent developing countries during the infancy of their regimes Each state s particular strategy is described and explained in detail and then contrasted and compared Although there are differences among their foreign policies considering their geographic locations size wealth military capabilities leadership characteristics and political institutions there are significant similarities regarding their foreign policy goals and trends in their foreign relations with the Great Powers Among explanatory factors leadership played a significant role in the policy making process although the foreign relations strategies of these revolutionary regimes were fed by a combination of national and international variables In all three states the tone of foreign policy was set by revolutionary leaders who were either idealists or realists Idealists tended to take a more active and conflictual approach toward one or both of the superpowers while Realists were more cautious and less willing to resort to a conflictual posture This book also investigates the gap between the theoretical and practical nonalignment stance of each state This cross regional study provides policy analysts with clues about the foreign policies of other revolutionary developing countries in similar situations Finally it makes suggestions about how a Great Power may relate to a developing country during its first post revolution decade
