Nora Ireland Into Film:

New Irish Storytellers D    g O'Connell, 2010-04-15 With the success of such films as the Oscar winner Once Irish film has been getting well deserved international attention recently New Irish Storytellers examines storytelling techniques and narrative strategies in contemporary Irish film Revealing defining patterns within recent Irish cinema this book explores connections between Irish cinematic storytellers and their British and American colleagues D    g O'Connell traces the creative output of Irish filmmakers today back to 1993 the year the Irish Film Board was reactivated reinvigorating film production after a hiatus of seven years Reflecting on this key and distinctive era in Irish cinema this book explores how film gave expression to tensions and fissures in the new Ireland

Irish English as Represented in Film Shane Walshe, 2009 This study is the first of its kind to analyse the representation of Irish English in film Using a corpus of 50 films ranging from John Ford's The Informer 1935 to Lenny Abrahamson's Garage 2007 the author examines the extent to which Irish English grammatical discourse and lexical features are present in the films and provides a qualitative analysis of the accents in these works The authenticity of the language is called into question and discussed in relation to the phenomenon of the Stage Irishman

The IRA on Film and Television Mark Connelly, 2014-01-10 The Irish Republican Army IRA has for decades pursued the goal of unifying its homeland into a single sovereign nation ending British rule in Northern Ireland Over the years the IRA has been dramatized in motion pictures directed by John Ford The Informer Carol Reed Odd Man Out David Lean Ryan's Daughter Neil Jordan Michael Collins and many others Such international film stars as Liam Neeson James Cagney Richard Gere James Mason and Anthony Hopkins have portrayed IRA members alternately as heroic patriots psychotic terrorists and tormented rebels This work analyzes celluloid depictions of the IRA from the 1916 Easter Rising to the peace process of the 1990s Topics include America's role in creating both the IRA and its cinematic image the organization's brief association with the Nazis and critical reception of IRA films in Ireland Britain and the United States

Becoming Nick and Nora Rob Kozlowski, 2023-08-01 As Nick and Nora Charles in the six Thin Man movies from 1934 to 1947 the team of William Powell and Myrna Loy showed that marriage didn't have to mean the end of the romantic comedy From the comedic delight that was the initial The Thin Man through its five sequels as well as eight other films including the Oscar winning The Great Ziegfeld and Manhattan Melodrama Powell and Loy were cemented in the public imagination as Hollywood's happiest married couple In Becoming Nick and Nora comedy writer and Hollywood historian Rob Kozlowski follows the winding path that Powell and Loy's screen personas took over their careers Studios originally cultivated the two as villains in the silent era Powell as a mustachioed swashbuckling fiend and Loy as an exotic adversary With the rise of talkies the two managed to broaden their range beyond villainous stereotypes but it took several false starts before they achieved their lasting legacy as Nick and Nora Packed with behind the scenes details and memorable characters this is a lively look at two tinseltown icons and a film series that remains beloved nearly a century later

Irish Feminist Futures

Claire Bracken, 2016-02-12 This book is about the future Ireland's future and feminism's future approached from a moment that has recently passed The Celtic Tiger circa 1995-2008 was a time of extraordinary and radical change in which Ireland's economic demographic and social structures underwent significant alteration Conceptions of the future are powerfully prevalent in women's cultural production in the Tiger era where it surfaces as a form of temporality that is open to surprise change and the unknown Examining a range of literary and filmic texts Irish Feminist Futures analyzes how futurity structures representations of the feminine self in women's cultural practice Relationally connected and affectively open these representations of self enable sustained engagements with questions of gender race sexuality and class as they pertain to the material social and cultural realities of Celtic Tiger Ireland This book will appeal to students and scholars of Irish studies Irish feminist criticism sociology cultural studies literature women's studies gender studies neo-materialist and feminist theories Women Screenwriters Jill Neldes, 2015-09-29 Women Screenwriters is a study of more than 300 female writers from 60 nations from the first film scenarios produced in 1986 to the present day Divided into six sections by continent the entries give an overview of the history of women screenwriters in each country as well as individual biographies of its most influential Moving Picture World and View Photographer, 1915 Irish Postmodernisms and Popular Culture Wanda Balzano, 2007-05-16 This collection explores popular culture in Ireland and Ireland in popular culture from Fanfic to Orange Parades from boybands to the Blessed Virgin Mary from celebrity tourism to the Gaelic Athletic Association The essays examine local and global Irishness focusing on how gender sexuality and race shape Irish postmodernity Irish Childhoods Pádraic Whyte, 2011-05-25 While much has been written about Irish culture's apparent obsession with the past and with representing childhood few critics have explored in detail the position of children's fiction within such discourses This book serves to redress these imbalances illuminating both the manner in which children's texts engage with complex cultural discourses in contemporary Ireland and the significant contribution that children's novels and films can make to broader debates concerning Irish identity at the end of the twentieth and beginning of the twenty-first centuries Through close analysis of specific books and films published or produced since 1990 Irish Childhoods offers an insight into contrasting approaches to the representation of Irish history and childhood in recent children's fiction Each chapter interrogates the unique manner in which an author or filmmaker engages with twentieth-century Irish history from a contemporary perspective and reveals that constructions of childhood in Irish children's fiction are often used to explore aspects of Ireland's past and present The Irish in Us Diane Negra, 2006-02-22 DIVA collection that looks at how Irishness has become a discursive commodity within popular culture Irish Women Dramatists Eileen Kearney, Charlotte Headrick, 2014-11-12 Irish women dramatists have long faced an uphill challenge in getting the recognition and audience of their male counterparts There are more female playwrights now than ever before but they are often ignored by mainstream theatres Kearney and Headrick strive to shift the spotlight with Irish Women Dramatists The plays collected in this volume represent a cross section of the excellent dramatic output of Irish women writing in the twentieth century In addition to the scripts and biographical introductions the anthology includes a detailed critical annotated essay addressing the development of the Irish theatre throughout this time period and the place women have artistically carved out for themselves in a traditionally male dominated theatre industry and dramatic canon One of the few collections of plays by Irish women this volume contextualizes the political and sociological climate in which these playwrights developed As theatre practitioners actors and directors as well as scholars Kearney and Headrick have devoted years of research to discovering and rediscovering the contributions these women have made and continue to make in the Irish and world theatre scenes

Reconciling Divided States Dong Jin Kim, David Mitchell, 2022-01-12 This book offers a distinctive perspective on peace processes by comparatively analysing two cases which have rarely been studied in tandem Ireland and Korea The volume examines and compares Ireland and Korea as two peace conflict areas Despite their differences both places are marked by a number of overlaid states of division a political border in a geographical unit an island and a peninsula an antagonistic relationship within the population of those territories an international relationship recovering from past asymmetry and colonialism and divisions within the main groupings over how to address these relationships Written by academics and practitioners from Europe and East Asia and guided by the concepts of peacebuilding and reconciliation the chapters assess peace efforts at all levels from the elite to grassroot organisations Topics discussed include historical parallels modern debates over the legacy of the past contemporary constitutional and security issues civil society peacebuilding in relation to faith sport and women s activism and the role of economic assistance The book brings Ireland and Korea into a rich dialogue which highlights the successes and shortcomings of both peace processes This book will be of interest to students of Peace and Conflict Studies Irish Politics Korean Politics and International Relations

Dancing at Lughnasa Joan Fitzpatrick Dean, 2003 Lucid and accessible style makes the series appealing to the general reader Liberally illustrated throughout with stills from the film under discussion Collaboration between Cork University Press and the Film Institute of Ireland Between the premiere of Brian Friel s stage play Dancing at Lughnasa in 1990 and Pat O Connor s cinematic adaptation in 1998 Ireland experienced seismic economic and social changes as well as Riverdance Angela s Ashes and an international vogue for all things Irish Set in 1936 Dancing at Lughnasa as both film and play imagines an anachronistic past in which the loss of joyous communal ritual is symptomatic of the cultural malaise so often associated with Ireland in the 1930s Drawing upon unpublished material from the Friel archive at the National Library of Ireland Joan FitzPatrick Dean contrasts the expressly theatrical elements of Friel s play and their cinematic counterparts

Men and Masculinities in Irish Cinema D. Ging, 2012-12-03 Spanning a broad trajectory from the New Gaelic Man of post independence Ireland to the slick urban gangsters of contemporary productions this study traces a significant shift from idealistic images of Irish manhood to a much more diverse and gender politically ambiguous range of male identities on the Irish screen

The Last Bohemian Lance

Pettitt,2023-06-12 The Last Bohemian offers the first extended critical evaluation of all of Brian Desmond Hurst's films reappraising the reputation of a director who was born in 1895 in Belfast and died in Belgravia London in 1986 Pettitt skillfully weaves together film analyses biography and cultural history with the aim of bringing greater attention to Hurst's qualities as a director and exploring his significance within Irish film and British cinema history between the 1930s and the 1960s The director of Dangerous Moonlight 1941 Theirs Is the Glory 1946 and his best known Scrooge 1951 made most of his films for British studios but developed an exile's attachment to Ireland How in the early twenty first century has Hurst's career been reclaimed and recognized and by whom Why in 2012 was Hurst's name given to one of the new Titanic Studios in Belfast What were his qualities as a filmmaker To whose national cinema history if any does Hurst belong Richly illustrated with film stills and other visual material from public archives The Last Bohemian addresses these questions and in doing so makes a significant contribution to British and Irish cinema studies
