Jussawalla, Reed Way Dasenbrock, 1992 Interviews with third world and Chicano authors speaking about their place in the literary canon A Philadelphia Apologetic Homer Kizer, 2012-07-28 Black-Arab Encounters in Literature and Film Touria Khannous, 2021-08-27 This book investigates how representations of Black Africans have been negotiated over time in Arabic literature and film The book offers direct readings of a representative selection of primary texts shedding light on the divergent ways these authors understood race across different genres including pre Islamic classical poetry polemical essays travel narratives novels and films Starting with the first recognized Black Arab poet Antara Ibn Shaddad 580 C E and extending right up to the present day the works examined illuminate the changes in consciousness that attended Black Africans as they negotiated their position in Arab society In a twist to Edward Said's Orientalism the book argues that scholars in the Middle East and North Africa generated a hierarchical representational discourse themselves one equally predicated on the Self/Other binary However it also demonstrates that Arab racial discourse is not a linear rhetoric but changes according to history political circumstances and ideologies such as tribal politics the Shu'ubiyya movement nationalism and imperialism Blacks and Arabs have had tangled relationships that are based not only on race but also on kinship and solidarity due to trade and other types of connections Challenging fundamental assumptions of Black Diaspora studies and postcolonial studies this book will be of interest to scholars of the African diaspora Arabic literature Middle East studies and critical race studies Arabic in the Fray Yasir Suleiman, 2013-07-22 The pre-modern period saw a background of inter-ethnic strife among Arabs and non-Arabs mainly Persians Starting from the symbolic and cognitive roles of language Yasir Suleiman shows how discussions about the inimitability and untranslatability of the Qur'an in this period were at some deep level concerned with issues of ethnic election In this respect theology and ethnicity emerge as partners in theorising language Staying within the symbolic role of language Suleiman goes on to investigate the role of paratexts and literary production in disseminating language ideologies and in cultural contestation He shows how language symbolism is relevant to ideological debates about hybrid and cross national literary production in the Arab milieu In fact language ideology appears to be everywhere and a whole chapter is devoted to discussions of the cognitive role of language in linking thought to reality

Apuleius and Africa Benjamin Todd Lee, Ellen Finkelpearl, Luca Graverini, 2014-05-09 The Metamorphoses or Golden Ass of Apuleius ca 170 CE is a Latin novel written by a native of Madauros in Roman North Africa roughly equal to modern Tunisia together with parts of Libya and Algeria Apuleius novel is based on the model of a lost Greek novel it narrates the adventures of a Greek character with a Roman name who spends the bulk of the novel transformed into an animal traveling from Greece to Rome only to end his adventures in the capital city of the empire as a priest of the Egyptian goddess Isis Apuleius Florida and Apology deal more explicitly with the African provenance and character of their author while also demonstrating his complex interaction with Greek Roman and local cultures Apuleius philosophical works raise other questions about Greek vs African and Roman cultural identity Apuleius in Africa addresses the problem of this intricate complex of different identities and its connection to Apuleius literary production It especially emphasizes Apuleius African heritage a heritage that has for the most part been either downplayed or even deplored by previous scholarship The contributors include philologists historians and experts in material culture among them are some of the most respected scholars in their fields The chapters give due attention to all elements of Apuleius oeuvre and break new ground both on the interpretation of Apuleius literary production and on the culture of the Roman Empire in the second century The volume also includes a modern sub Saharan contribution in which Africa mainly means Mediterranean Africa
