Expanding the Donor Base in Higher Education Noah D. Drezner, 2013-04-17 Winner of the Association of Fundraising Professionals 2014 Skystone Partners Research Prize in Philanthropy and Fundraising Traditionally institutions have relied on wealthy White men to reach their fundraising goals But as state investment in public higher education lessens and institutions look to philanthropy to move from excellence to eminence advancement officers continually need to engage all populations including many that have historically been excluded from fundraising strategies Based on theory research and past practice Expanding the Donor Base in Higher Education explores how colleges and universities can build culturally sensitive fundraising and engagement strategies This edited book presents emerging research on different communities that have not traditionally been approached for fundraising including Lesbian Gay Bisexual Transgender and Queer LGBTQ alumni African Americans Latinos graduate students young alumni women and faculty donors Chapters discuss and analyze successful programs and provide practical suggestions and strategies to create and implement fundraising programs that engage these new donor populations Expanding the Donor Base in Higher Education is an essential resource for any institution looking to expand their pool of donors and cultivate a more philanthropic mindset among alumni and students

Philanthropy and Fundraising in American Higher Education, Volume 37, Number 2 Noah D. Drezner, 2011-05-17 From gifts of blankets chickens and candles to multimillion dollar gifts and billion dollar campaigns voluntary support of American higher education has been part of the American ethos since the founding of the colonial colleges Peter Dobkin Hall in 1992 noted that no single force is more responsible for the emergence of the modern university in America than giving by individuals and foundations Institutions are turning to private giving to meet budgetary demands This book provides a review of the philanthropy and fundraising literature and addresses the impact of philanthropy on American higher education the theoretical underpinnings and motivations for voluntary support and a comprehensive look at the mechanics of fundraising

Fundraising and Institutional Advancement Noah D. Drezner, Frances Huehls, 2014-09-04 In this timely textbook authors Drezner and Huehls take the interdisciplinary complex nature of the study of philanthropy and fundraising and apply it to the field of higher education Covering issues of increasing importance to institutions including donor cultivation growth of fundraising at community colleges and minority institutions engagement of young alumni volunteerism and the competing roles of stakeholders this book helps readers apply theory to the practice of advancement in post secondary education

Special Features Coverage of historical and theoretical underpinnings and insights from related literature and research

Discussion of new donor populations including women communities of color the LGBTQ population students and young alumni

On the ground case studies bring theories into focus by creating a bridge to experience and action

Practical implications for the design of fundraising campaigns and strategies

Guiding questions that encourage students to think beyond the current literature and practice

This textbook bridges research theory and practice to help higher education administrators and institutions effectively negotiate the fundraising terrain and advance their institution
