Reading Race Clare Bradford, 2013-05-09 How do children's books relate to the cultures that produce them and how do they influence those cultures? In Reading Race Clare Bradford looks at representations of Australia's indigenous peoples in texts for children. She shows how these varying representations have helped to colour the attitudes, beliefs and assumptions of different generations of Australians. To what extent have children's books enabled readers to understand Aboriginal culture, relations between Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal people and relationships between Aboriginality and national identity? Bradford draws on examples from popular and literary children's books of all genres: fiction, non-fiction, picture books and school texts. She reveals that many children's books display the tensions and uncertainties inherent in relations between Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal people. Bradford also uncovers the different ideologies of race that have informed Australian children's texts from the nineteenth century to currently popular writers, demonstrating cultural shifts in the representation of Aboriginality over time. The result is a ground breaking and intelligent picture of how Australian children's books by both white and Aboriginal writers have negotiated the matter of race. Reading Race will enhance the ways in which we come to read and understand the complex and delicate issues around Aboriginal-white relations. It will be an invaluable resource in the fields of post colonial studies, Indigenous and Aboriginal studies, literary and cultural studies and children's literature.

Unsettling Narratives Clare Bradford, 2007-04-26 Children's books seek to assist children to understand themselves and their world. Unsettling Narratives: Postcolonial Readings of Children's Literature demonstrates how settler society texts position child readers as citizens of postcolonial nations, how they represent the colonial past to modern readers, what they propose about race relations and how they conceptualize systems of power and government. Clare Bradford focuses on texts produced since 1980 in Canada, the United States

Australia and New Zealand and includes picture books novels and films by Indigenous and non Indigenous publishers and producers From extensive readings the author focuses on key works to produce a thorough analysis rather than a survey Unsettling Narratives opens up an area of scholarship and discussion the use of postcolonial theories relatively new to the field of children's literature and demonstrates that many texts recycle the colonial discourses naturalized within mainstream cultures The Cambridge History of Australian Literature Peter Pierce, 2009-09-17 Draws on scholarship from leading figures in the field and spans Australian literary history from colonial origins indigenous and migrant literatures as well as representations of Asia and the Pacific and the role of literary culture in modern Australian society German-Australian Encounters and Cultural Transfers Benjamin Nickl, Irina Herrschner, Elżbieta M. Goździak, 2018-01-12 This book approaches Australo German relations from comparative and interdisciplinary perspectives It maps new pathways into the rich landscape of the Australo German transnational encounter which is characterized by dense and interwoven cultural historical and political terrains Surveying an astonishingly wide range of sites from literary translations to film festivals Aboriginal art to education systems the contributions offer a uniquely expansive dossier on the migrations of people ideas technologies money and culture between the two countries The links between Australia and Germany are explored from a variety of new interdisciplinary perspectives and situated within key debates in literary and cultural studies critical theory politics linguistics and transnational studies The book gathers unique contributions that span the areas of migration aboriginality popular culture music media and institutional structures to create a dynamic portrait of the exchanges between these two nations over time Australo German relations have emerged from intersecting histories of colonialism migration communication tourism and socio cultural representation into the dramatically changed twenty first century where traditional channels of connection between nations in the Western hemisphere have come undone but new channels ensure cross fertilization between newly constituted borders Death, Gender and Sexuality in Contemporary Adolescent Literature Kathryn James, 2009-02-10 Considering the trope of woman death the eroticizing of death and the ways in which the gendered subject is represented in dialogue with the processes of death dying and grief James shows how representations of death in young adult literature are invariably associated with issues of sexuality gender and power
