The Prevention and Intervention of Genocide Samuel Totten, 2008 Over the last twenty years the world has witnessed four major genocides There was the genocide in Iraq 1988 in Rwanda 1994 in Srebrenica 1995 and in Darfur 2003 and continuing Most observers agree there is an urgent need to assess the international community's efforts to prevent genocide and to intervene once a genocide is under way in an effective and timely manner This volume the latest in a widely respected series on the subject of genocide provides an overview of a host of issues germane to this task The book begins with a cogent discussion of the issues of prevention and intervention during the Cold War years The second chapter discusses the abject failures and moderate though in some cases highly controversial successes at prevention and intervention carried out in the 1990s and early 2000s Further chapters examine latest efforts to develop an effective genocide early warning system and examine the complexity of and barriers to prevention The pros and cons of sanctions and the problems of enforcement and evaluation their effectiveness are then discussed Conflicts between state sovereignty and the protection of threatened populations are examined both in historical context and by incorporating the latest thinking Later chapters treat the issue of intervention why and how it has met with only limited success Concentrating on Rwanda and Srebrenica chapter 8 discusses various peace operations that were abject failures and those that were moderately successful The concept of an anti genocide regime is examined in terms of progress in developing such a regime as well as what the international community must do in order to implement it Chapters discuss key issues related to post genocidal periods those that need to be addressed in order to establish stability in a wounded land and populace as well as to prevent future genocides The final chapter asks whether bringing perpetrators to justice has any impact in breaking impunity ensuring deterrence and bringing about reconciliation The contributors to the volume are all noted scholars some of whom specialize in the study of genocide and others who specialize in such areas as early warning peacekeeping and sanctions

Prevention of Violence Against Women and Girls Tamsin Bradley, Janet Gruber, 2021-09-16 Prevention of Violence Against Women and Girls argues that women and girls are vulnerable across all areas of society and that therefore a commitment to end violence against women and girls needs to be embedded into all development programmes regardless of sectorial focus This book presents an innovative framework for sensitisation and action across development programmes based on emerging best practices and lessons learnt and illustrated through a number of country contexts and a range of programmes Overall it argues that SDG 5 can only be achieved with a systematic model for mainstreaming an end to violence against women and girls no matter what the priorities of the particular development programme might be Demonstrating how the approach can be applied across contexts the authors explore cases from the energy sector health and humanitarian intervention and from countries as varied as South Sudan Myanmar Rwanda Nepal and Kenya Drawing on nearly three decades of experience working on gender health and violence against women programmes as both practitioners and academics the authors present key lessons which can be used by students researchers and practitioners alike

Before Emergency: Conflict Prevention and the Media M. Aguirre, F. Ferrándiz, J.M. Pureza, 2003-01-01 This book is about two prominent issues conflict prevention and the media Conflict prevention is a challenging concept for the media because journalists normally work on current affairs reporting what is going on now not trying to change the course of events in the medium or long term However the media can also play a determinant role in conflict prevention by providing swift and reliable information of emerging or potential conflicts to local and external actors Governments international organizations and public opinion alike need in depth understanding of pre and post conflict social economic cultural and political environments in order to fully understand the benefits and feasibility of preventive policies

Prevention in Mental Health Marco Colizzi, Mirella Ruggeri, 2022-05-19 The book brings together into a single text the interrelated but different research efforts to translate the current evidence on risk and outcome of severe mental disorders into a preventive perspective The book also introduces a holistic approach to prevention in mental health by combining biological psychological and environmental evidence that attempts to blunt the risk and reduce the number of individuals with mental health vulnerabilities who eventually progress to the manifestation of a severe mental disorder Finally the book wants also to highlight the possibility to overcome the single disorder oriented preventive approach in an attempt to intercept a wider at risk youth population and explore clinical research areas underperformed where future efforts will have to concentrate Mental health problems have their peak of incidence during the transition from childhood to young adulthood interesting up to 20% adolescents Half of those eventually developing such difficulties experience clinically relevant mental distress by the age of 14 Even more importantly the symptomatic onset is generally anticipated by non specific warning signs of psychosocial impairment potentially evolving in any severe mental disorder This is of crucial importance as almost one in two health problems contributing to the global disease burden across the 0 25 age span is a mental disorder The search for preventive strategies among youth has developed over the past 2 3 decades invigorated by a rethinking of mental disorders ineluctable prodromal phase into a period where the trajectory of illness can be slowed down blunted or even halted The paradigms for implementing preventing approaches in mental health have often developed independent of each other This book aims at summarizing the available evidence and make a step towards a more mature vision of the potentialities of promotion and prevention in mental health

UN Emergency Peace Service and the Responsibility to Protect Annie Herro, 2016-05-20 This book examines the attitudes of political military and non state actors towards the idea of a UN Emergency Peace Service and the issues that might affect the establishment of this service in both theory and practice The United Nations Emergency Peace Service UNEPS is a civil society led idea to establish a permanent UN service to improve UN peace operations as well as to operationalise the emerging norm of the responsibility to protect civilians from atrocity crimes The UNEPS proposal has received limited support The book argues that interest in and support for the UNEPS proposal is determined by perceptions that it would erode state sovereignty the extent to which the principles of the proposal are consistent with actors views on the world and perceptions on whether UNEPS will realistically be capable of contributing to the workings of the UN and regional peacekeeping systems in areas that are seen to be deficient This book makes the case for localising the UNEPS proposal so that it is more consistent with attitudes of those consulted for this research It concludes that the development of a series of less ambitious proposals could be the first steps to creating a rapidly deployable service with the mandate to prevent atrocity crimes This book will be of much interest to students of peace operations the Responsibility to Protect international organisations IR and security studies WHO guidance on research methods for health emergency and disaster risk management, revised 2022 World Health Organization,2022-10-13 The WHO website has an introductory description for the Guidance It states that the WHO Guidance on Research Methods for Health Emergency and Disaster Risk Management Health EDM was developed to address the need to promote high quality research methods to those who commission and conduct research on Health EDM The intended audience includes decision makers practitioners and community actors who need for evidence based policy and practice to implement the Health EDM Framework Sendai Framework on Disaster Risk Reduction 2015 2030 the International Health Regulations 2005 the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals SDGs and other relevant global regional and national frameworks Chapters have been written by more than 100 international authors with practical experience and expertise in a wide range of areas including research practice and policy making The unique collection of chapters provides straightforward and practical guidance on how to plan conduct and report a wide variety of studies that can answer quantitative and qualitative questions in different emergency settings Case studies of direct relevance to Health EDM provide real life examples of research to illustrate the methods and their impact The book was revised in 2022 with an additional chapter on how to use this book in the context of COVID 19 pandemic Covid-19 and Atrocity Prevention in East Asia Noel M.
