Managing Space Radiation Risk in the New Era of Space Exploration National Research Council, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Aeronautics and Space Engineering Board, Committee on the Evaluation of Radiation Shielding for Space Exploration, 2008-05-29 As part of the Vision for Space Exploration VSE NASA is planning for humans to revisit the Moon and someday go to Mars An important consideration in this effort is protection against the exposure to space radiation That radiation might result in severe long term health consequences for astronauts on such missions if they are not adequately shielded To help with these concerns NASA asked the NRC to further the understanding of the risks of space radiation to evaluate radiation shielding requirements and recommend a strategic plan for developing appropriate mitigation capabilities This book presents an assessment of current knowledge of the radiation environment an examination of the effects of radiation on biological systems and mission equipment an analysis of current plans for radiation protection and a strategy for mitigating the risks to VSE astronauts Space Radiation and Astronaut Safety Erik Seedhouse, 2018-04-10

This brief explores the biological effects of long term radiation on astronauts in deep space As missions progress beyond Earth s orbit and away from the protection of its magnetic shielding astronauts risk constant exposure to higher levels of galactic cosmic rays and solar particle events The text concisely addresses the full spectrum of biomedical consequences from exposure to space radiation and goes on to present possible ways to mitigate such dangers and protect astronauts within the limitations of existing technologies Management of Terrorist Events Involving Radioactive Material National
