Immersion and Participation in Punchdrunk's Theatrical Worlds Carina E. I. Westling, 2020-05-14 Longlisted for the PQ Best Publication Award in Performance Design Scenography 2023 Immersion and Participation in Punchdrunk's Theatrical Worlds is a detailed account of the company's award winning productions and their historical context Examining Punchdrunk's role as pioneers of immersive theatre in the UK through a range of their productions including Sleep No More and The Drowned Man besides theatrical works such as Faust The Duchess of Malfi and Kabeiroi and cross platform productions like The Moon Slave The Borough and The Oracles the book presents an original framework for understanding immersion in theatrical and mixed reality experiences Central to the book is a study of how immersive experience is produced in interaction with physical and digital scenography for participatory audiences Through ethnographies of the company their designers actors producers and audiences the book interrogates the relationship between the aesthetics of interaction and the experience of immersion in Punchdrunk's work The theoretical framework that the book introduces affords analyses of material cultures and the influence of technology on interaction design in theatre and beyond and offers a blueprint for next generation immersive design and scenography for interactive multimedia environments The Cumulative Book Index, 1992 A world list of books in the English language American Book Publishing Record, 1992 Archives and New Modes of Feminist Research Maryanne Dever, 2020-04-28 In an era when the metaphor of the archive is invoked to cover almost any kind of memory collection or accumulation it is important to re-examine what is entailed politically and methodologically in the practice of feminist archival research This question is central not only to the renewed interest many disciplines are showing in empirical research in archives but also given the current explosion of online social and cultural data which has fundamentally transformed what we understand an archive to be Contributors in this collection are keen to mark out what may be novel and what is enduring in the ways in which feminist thought and feminist practice frame archives Importantly they engage with archives in their historical and political complexity rather than treating them as simple repositories of source material In this respect contributors are keenly interested in what it means to archive particular materials and not simply in what those materials may hold for feminist researchers The collection features established and emerging feminist scholars and brings together interventions from across such disciplines as history literature modernist studies cinema studies and law This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal Australian Feminist Studies Critical Moves Randy Martin, 1998 A theoretical examination of the influence of political and social movements on the art of dance Pastoral Cosmopolitanism in Edith Wharton's Fiction Margarida Cadima, 2023-07-11 American novelist Edith Wharton 1862-1937 is best known today for her tales of the city and the experiences of patrician New Yorkers

in the Gilded Age This book pushes against the grain of critical orthodoxy by prioritizing other species of spaces in Wharton's work For example how do Wharton's narratives represent the organic profusion of external nature Does the current scholarly fascination with the environmental humanities reveal previously unexamined or overlooked facets of Wharton's craft I propose that what is most striking about her narrative practice is how she utilizes adapts and translates pastoral tropes conventions and concerns to twentieth century American actualities It is no accident that Wharton portrays characters returning to or exploring various natural localities such as private gardens public parks chic mountain resorts monumental ruins or country estate follies Such encounters and adventures prompt us to imagine new relationships with various geographies and the lifeforms that can be found there The book addresses a knowledge gap in Wharton and the environmental humanities especially recent debates in ecocriticism The excavation of Wharton's words and the background of her narratives with an eye to offering an ecocritical reading of her work is what the book focuses on
