Reflections Of Dead Passion:

Sunday Matters Mark O'Brien, 2012-12-31 Recently Pope Benedict remarked the quality of homilies needs to be improved The Pope made this comment in the context of his extended reflection on the recent Synod in Rome 2010 on the word of God in the mission and life of the Church The homily is an integral part of Christian liturgy It is an honoured way of bringing the word of God to life such that people are helped to see the relevance of the word in their everyday lives The homily is also an art form which needs to be practised and developed with skill It seems to me as a preacher myself that what people are looking for in the homily is an articulate faith filled knowledgeable commentary on the word of God which speaks to their everyday life and experience People want to see the fire desire and conviction in the person who preaches This is a constant challenge Mark O'Brien here presents his reflections on Year C of the lectionary based on the Gospel of Luke This is the companion volume to the earlier ones for Years A and B Mark offers homilists a great service here In two to three pages or several hundred words he gives an erudite and practical reflection on the word of God for the particular Sunday or feast as a good foundation on which any homilist can then build Pope Benedict continues The art of good preaching based on the lectionary is an art that needs to be cultivated In these short but insightful reflections on the readings of the lectionary Mark makes an excellent contribution to developing the art form of good preaching to the benefit of both those who preach and those who hear them Rev Dr Brian Boyle Academic Dean Catholic Theological College The Texas criminal reports, 1908

Stael's Philosophy of the Passions Tili Boon Cuillé, Karyna Szmurlo, 2013 Sensibility or the capacity to feel played a vital role in philosophical reflection about the natural sciences the social sciences and the arts in eighteenth century France Yet scholars have privileged the Marquis de Sade's vindication of physiological sensibility as the logical conclusion of Enlightenment over Germaine de Staël's exploration of moral sensibility's potential for reform and renewal that paved the way for Romanticism This volume of essays showcases Staël's contribution to the affective revolution in Europe investigating the personal and political circumstances that informed her theory of the passions and the social and aesthetic innovations to which it gave rise Contributors move seamlessly between her political philosophical and fictional works attentive to the relationship between emotion and cognition and aware of the coherence of her thought on an individual national and international scale They first examine the significance Staël attributed to pity happiness melancholy and enthusiasm in The Influence of the Passions as she witnessed revolutionary strife and envisioned the new republic They then explore her development of a cosmopolitan aesthetic in such works as On Literature Corinne or Italy On Germany and The Spirit of Translation that transcended traditional generic national and linguistic boundaries Finally they turn to her contributions to the visual and musical arts as she deftly negotiated the transition from a Neoclassical to a Romantic aesthetic Staël's Philosophy of the Passions concludes that rather than founding a republic based on the rights of man Staël's reflection fostered international communities of women artists models and collectors authors performers and spectators enabling them

Contemporary Jewish Reality in Germany and Its Reflection in Film Claudia Simone Dorchain,Felice Naomi Wonnenberg,2012-12-06 The notion of self and other and its representation in artwork and literature is an important theme in current cultural sciences as well as in our everyday life in contemporary Western societies Moreover the concept of self and other and its imaginary dichotomy is gaining more and more political impact in a world of resurfacing ideology ridden conflicts The essays deal with Jewish reality in contemporary Germany and its reflection in movies from the special point of view of cultural sciences political sciences and religious studies This anthology presents challengingly new insights into topics rarely covered such as youth culture or humor and finally discusses the images of Jewish life as realities still to be constructed

The Sacrament of Confession as a William Schmitt,2001 Adrienne von Speyr in her book Confession and throughout her writings speaks of the confession of Jesus Christ This is a startling use of the term because Christ never sinned The author examines all the writings of von Speyr in the light of Roman Catholic soteriology and sacramental theology and in view of the influences that existed between
