Reflective Practice In Malaysi:

Reflective Practice in Malaysian Teacher Education Wai Heng Lee, Sok Khim Tan, 2004 This book explores how Malaysian student teachers practice reflection during their teaching practicum how practice contexts influenced their practices and which aspects of professional knowledge were constructed from their reflective practices It was found that there were two levels of reflective practices among student teachers The public level consisted of reflections through existing mechanisms post conference discussions post lesson analyses and weekly journals Reflections were very weak at this level At the private level student teachers reflected deeply upon their experiences They examined their own teaching their pupils and their beliefs or values about teaching However these reflections were not documented Reflections at this private level were rich and varied but they were not visible to the supervisors Two significant findings are that student teachers reflective practices lacked an element of inquiry and that reflective practices were carried out individual

Integrating High Impact Educational Practices for Malaysia: A Handbook of Reflective Practice and Professional Development (UUM Press)

Rosna Awang-Hashim, Mohammad Noman, 2023-02-20 High Impact Educational Practices HIEPs have been extensively tested as compelling pedagogies for university students from an array of backgrounds especially for the underprepared and those with limited opportunity for high impact learning experiences This handbook is written with our firm belief that while higher education practitioners around the world are focused on improving student outcomes not many have access to a better understanding of the conceptual foundations empirical research and best practices in student engagement and high impact educational pedagogies In this book we unpack the essential conceptual constructs around the notions of student engagement to encourage readers to purposefully add HIEPs to their pedagogical repertoire and engage in Scholarship of Teaching and Learning SoTL practices

Reconceptualising Reflection in Reflective Practice

Misrah Mohamed, Radzuwan Ab Rashid, 2023-05-10 This edited volume presents a model that embraces four components of reflective practice planning acting reflecting and evaluating The complexities of reflective practice are manifested through three aspects of reflection problem solving action orientedness and critical reflection To provide practical guidance the audience is presented with various sets of experiences within the field of education which represent different foci and criticality of reflection The experiences are described through different lenses from individual to groups of educators The chapters provide a reconceptualisation of reflection which underpins an effective reflective practice Therefore readers are provided with information that demonstrates the different phases of reflection that make up an effective cycle of reflective practice It is through the chapters that readers will be able to distinguish the different foci and levels of reflection thus enabling them to engage in reflective practice more effectively The Malaysian context that the book brings gives readers insights into a lesser known context and its people culture and educational system as a whole for comparison The book is written with the needs of student teachers and teacher educators in mind However the model reconceptualised is transferable to other disciplines too

Reflective Practice Roger Barnard, Jonathon Ryan, 2017-03-27 This book presents a series of empirical case studies illustrating many different ways of implementing the reflective practice cycle and how they can be researched by practitioners and academics This book explains a range of options for implementing the reflective practice cycle in educational settings in various international contexts Written by international academics these studies show how reflection can be interpreted in different cultural contexts The book concludes with a discussion by Anne Burns of the implications of these case studies for action research

Teacher Professional Knowledge and Development for Reflective and Inclusive Practices Ismail Amzat, Nena Padilla-Valdez, 2017-06-14 This book brings together the practice of reflective teaching and the knowledge of inclusive practices in the context of teacher education and continuing professional development It is a call to leverage reflective teaching for inclusive practices The first part of the book provides an overview of what constitutes reflective practice in the 21st century and how teachers can become reflective practitioners It also discusses how teacher professional development can be enhanced for reflective teaching practice The second part of the book deals with teachers knowledge development in order to create inclusive teaching and learning environments It highlights the need for a responsive teaching climate intercultural competency pedagogical change and professional literacy A reflective inclusive teacher is likely to anticipate the multiple needs of diverse learners in pluralistic settings thus ensuring student success This book will enhance the efforts of teacher educators and teaching professionals in building a culture of reflective and inclusive teaching practice in the classroom

Shaping Teaching Practice in Malaysia Meng Yew Tee, Nicholas Lee Boon Kheng, 2023-12-01 What teachers do in the classroom is one of the most significant school based factors in shaping student learning Yet the classroom is often referred to as a black box because there is so little we know about what actually happens there This book provides insights into the black box by describing and then comparing classroom practices in Malaysia's national public school system and that of a unique subsystem situated within it Through analysis of hundreds of hours of classroom video data as well as interviews this book goes on to identify and discuss the forces that shape teachers classroom practices from across the ecological system What emerged were nuanced insights into how tightly and loosely coupled forces within the centralized Malaysian national system shaped these teachers classroom practices which are illustrated in multiple case studies Additionally this volume uncovers micro disruptions to some tightly coupled forces within the system that could begin to change teachers thinking about their classroom practice These insights will be of interest to international and comparative education researchers education policymakers and education professionals as well as anyone who has ever asked the question Why do teachers do what they do in their classrooms

Developing Reflective TESOL Practitioners Through Teacher Education Andrzej Cirocki, Mark Wyatt, Xuesong (Andy) Gao, 2024-06-26 This textbook provides insights from Asian contexts into how reflective practice is nurtured on Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages TESOL and English Language Teaching ELT teacher education programmes There is increasing recognition worldwide that given the centrality of reflective practice to teachers ongoing professional development supporting teachers to become reflective practitioners should be integral to teacher education programmes Consequently tertiary level courses in areas such as TESOL and ELT tend to promote reflective practice supported by theoretical input from the burgeoning literature on reflection much of which is produced in the West Relatively under represented in the literature are global perspectives on reflective practice there are consequently relatively few accounts as to how reflective practice is embedded in teacher education programmes in different parts of the world including Asia Hence this book addresses a gap Contributing authors from fourteen countries provide insights into the ways in which teachers are helped to grow as reflective practitioners on their teacher education programmes in their unique contexts This textbook showcases how reflective teaching practices are developed supported by frameworks for critical reflection and in interaction with local educational policies These distinctive accounts aid readers in reflecting on the ways in which reflective practice is supported in their own teacher education contexts and in considering ways of enhancing the reflective dimension of their programmes This textbook showcases innovative reflective activities and can be used as a principal text or as supplemental reading on a range of TESOL and ELT teacher education courses

Language Teaching and Learning Debbita Tan Ai Lin,Christine Liew Ching Ling,Ambigapathy Pandian,2014-06-19

In every discussion on the role that language plays in our lives every orator from prominent politicians and corporate figures to linguists educational experts and others concedes that language is important in all spheres of life Language is both personal and introspective as well as public and communal Without it we would not be able to communicate and articulate our thoughts and feelings to ourselves to those in our inner circles and to those in the world at large Without it we would not be able to establish partnerships and collaborations and to unite peoples of diverse backgrounds and intrinsic values Without it too we would not be able to learn new discoveries and gain new knowledge The nurturing of a language learning culture is of the utmost importance to ensure that language teaching and learning supports the development of individuals societies nations and populations Language researchers educators and practitioners need to ensure that their learners are empowered to remain relevant They need to produce critical and analytical thinkers and successful language users in listening speaking reading and writing The collection of chapters in this volume addresses language teaching and learning dilemmas and draws attention to the challenges researchers have overcome and those they continue to face The book chapters here reflect the transcendence by language teaching and learning of ordinary boundaries especially with the advent of the digital revolution and provide new perspectives pedagogies and approaches that help shape ethical responsible and sustainable policies Readers of this volume whether language practitioners students researchers policy and decision makers concerned educationists or any interested individual will gain new insights and experiences as they explore new identities new instructional media for interactive teaching and learning and new modes of meaning in diverse local and global contexts
