Leading Beyond the Walls 21293 Adam Hamilton,2010-09-01 Good pastoral leadership is not a by the numbers proposition It is a matter of heart and soul of devoting the whole self to the vision God gives for the congregation in which one serves Yet neither is it purely intuitive it requires hard careful thinking about the directions and details of the path down which God calls When Adam Hamilton became pastor of the United Methodist Church of the Resurrection its membership consisted of himself and his family Ten years later the church averages between five and six thousand worshipers per weekend Throughout this remarkable period Hamilton learned many serious lessons about both the broad visions and the specific details of pastoral leadership Bringing a depth of analytical skills often lacking in visionary leaders in this book he goes beyond simply telling the story of Church of the Resurrection He shares the questions that he learned to ask about the largely unchurched population to which Church of the Resurrection has reached out Further he demonstrates what he learned by listening to the answers to these questions and how doing so has made possible a number of strategically crucial decisions the church has made One of those crucial decisions was to make more traditional forms of worship and praise the center of the congregation s life The result is that the example of Church of the Resurrection offers pastors and church leaders especially those in mainline denominations the realization that they need not completely change their liturgical and theological identity in order to reach out to the unchurched Drawing on his own experience as well as the detailed research on the characteristics of highly successful congregations he undertook during a sabbatical leave Hamilton offers pastors and other church leaders solid substantive

Research Note RM, 1981 Lost Cathy Ostlere, 2008 Shortlisted for the 2009 Edna Staebler Award for Creative Non Fiction In September 1995 Cathy Ostlere her husband and three children are visiting with the family in Calgary to celebrate her younger brother David's birthday It had been a family tradition that no matter where in the world David might be from Australia to India to England he would call on his birthday to reconnect and reminisce As they wait and wonder a horrifying thought takes shape in Cathy's mind knowing how their parents have worried about David in the past he has begged Cathy not to tell them about his latest adventure sailing his twenty eight foot sailboat 1200 miles from Ireland to the tropical island of Madeira off the coast of Spain with his girlfriend Sarah The trip should have taken them two weeks Maybe three But after two months she has to break her silence With each hour that passes and still no word she defensively parries the unacceptable but bleak inevitable something has happened David must be dead Thus begins Lost Cathy Ostlere's remarkable and unforgettable journey in search of closure and emotional redemption From Madeira where her search for David and Sarah begins to Ireland and on to the Scottish island of Mull where months later Sarah's family has gathered to grieve Cathy finds herself stirred by snapshot memories of David of their life growing up together Of family and what it means In search of answers she finds instead only new and sometimes more troubling questions questions that will come to have profound repercussions in her own life How do we know our true passions In a life defined by obligations what are the risks And what is the consequence for following our passion A heartrending story of a woman's search for her missing brother Lost is an extraordinary meditation on the meaning of family and what it is to live an authentic life Excerpt from Lost Today is my youngest brother's birthday September 30 1995 For the last seven years David has telephoned from wherever he is in the world He never forgets and neither do we He sometimes calls each of us my parents a brother and sister in Winnipeg and me in Calgary We say Happy Birthday our voices carried through deep cables across the ocean In 1988 the year he met an Englishwoman named Sarah he called from Brisbane Australia We've sold the car and we're going to Japan In 1990 he was in Bangalore India I never used to believe in God but perhaps I was wrong he said his voice crumbling into static This morning my parents are expecting to hear his voice from a telephone booth in the south of England But they will be mistaken I am the only one in the family who knows that my brother and Sarah are headed to the open Atlantic They plan to sail from Ireland to the Azores Archipelago and then on to the island of Madeira By the end of today I won't have to keep their secret any longer The waiting begins in the morning Calgary is seven hours behind the U K we expect the call no later than noon We root ourselves to the kitchen table The Saturday newspaper is divided into sections Spain is filing a suit against Canada over the turbot fish war the Blue Bombers beat the Ti Cats My husband Sam makes fresh coffee Cold toast is replaced with warm buttery slices The sun moves from behind the evergreens into the open sky and heats the kitchen The air smells of browning apple peels My three children graze then spin off dancing erratic orbits throughout the house I am silent while staring at the excess of breakfast At ten I lift the receiver to check for a dial tone its comforting assurance of possibility Who can I speak to Don t tell anyone where we re going my brother instructed in his last phone call You know how Mom will be I remember my own travels She worried every minute Happiness is no way to live a life I answered him jokingly
