Roozen, James R. Nieman, 2005-05-02 Since colonial days religious work in American has happened through denominations At least since the start of the twentieth century these religious bodies consisted of a fairly tight intra denominationally connected system of congregations regional judicatories and national offices This system was the product of more than two centuries of consolidation among Americanbs historic immigrant and indigenous churches The vast majority of these structures are still in place retain some semblance of internal coherence have considerable social and religious significance and will be with us for the foreseeable future Nevertheless the stresses upon them today clearly indicate that they are entering an unsettled period of transition The purpose of this book is to examine the national structures of eight diverse Protestant denominations as a part of that shift The frame of this study is the relationship between the theological and organizational nature of national denominational structures as they adapt to the changing situation of the twenty first century      Annotated Constitutions and Canons Volume 1 Church Publishing Incorporated, 2000 The classic historical commentary by White and Dykman on the Constitution and Canons of the Episcopal Church long out of print is now available in a special limited edition reprint Revised for the Standing Commission on Constitution and Canons of the General Convention it is an indispensable reference work for libraries and diocesan offices      Report to the 76th General Convention Church Publishing, Inc.
