Sharrock, 2010-11-30 Scarce migrant birds of Britain and Ireland how many are seen How regularly do they come Where do they occur When are they likely to be spotted The above questions are authoritatively answered by the author Dr J T R Sharrock honorary secretary of the British Ornithologists Union's Record Committee and of the Rare Breeding Birds Panel joint convener of the European Ornithological Atlas Committee and a member of the British Birds Rarities Committee and of the Irish Records Panel Dr Sharrock takes a ten year period and investigates in detail all the records of a selection of birds which occur here as scarce migrants birds from Europe from Asia and from America He considers their breeding and wintering ranges and the patterns of their records in Britain and Ireland and tries to determine also why do they visit us at all Jacket design by Robert Gillmor Rare Birds in Britain and Ireland J.N Dymond, P.A Fraser, S.J.M Gantlett, 2010-11-30 This trio of rare bird specialists have produced not only a book of great fascination for those who delight in rarities for their own sake but one that offers valuable information on changing patterns of arrival which may indicate changes of status of these birds within their breeding range This book is a successor to two earlier works Scarce Migrant Birds in Britain and Ireland Sharrock 1974 and Rare Birds in Britain and Ireland Sharrock 1976 It unifies both of the earlier books and updates them adding more than 80 species to the previous total The authors have analysed and considered some 45 000 records of scarce and rare birds in Britain and Ireland for the period 1958-85 Extreme rarities outside the period are also listed More than 300 species accounts are now included most of them accompanied by histograms of weekly and seasonal occurrences with maps showing distribution by counties in spring and autumn or at particular times of the year For rarities with twelve or fewer occurrences during the period 1958-85 the place date and other relevant information is given for each record Every species is illustrated by a line drawing more than 150 of them commissioned for this book the remainder being selected from the two earlier works The Status of Birds in Britain and Ireland David Parkin, Alan Knox, 2010-01-01 A detailed and up to date assessment of the status and distribution of every species of bird in Britain and Ireland Birds in England Andy Brown, Phil Grice, 2010-06-30 The Poyser avifaunas Birds in Scotland Birds in Ireland and Birds in Wales are all now regarded as classic works The series is now completed with Birds in England an avifauna for England's diverse birdlife past and present England marks the northwestern limit for many Palearctic breeding birds and is close to the southwestern limit for several others in particular several seabird species whose English colonies are of international significance It is the first point of arrival for new colonists from the south Little Egret and Yellow legged Gull are two recent arrivals and it is also of international importance for wintering and passage populations of various species which breed in the far north of the Palearctic A diverse and fascinating avifauna is augmented by visits from an impressive range of rarities from as far afield as Siberia and Canada Nearctic vagrants in particular are well represented on the English list This important new avifauna looks in detail at England and its birds analysing present and historical data to present a complete picture of the status range and abundance of every bird on the English list Scarce Migrant Birds in Britain and Ireland With Line Drawings by P.J. Grant John Timothy Robin Sharrock, 1974 The Birds of Leicestershire and Rutland Rob Fray, 2009-08-14 A new title in the successful County Avifaunas series this is an in depth study of the status and distribution of every birdspecies known to have occurred in the region with a detailed review of rarity records The Changing Wildlife of Great Britain and Ireland David L. Hawksworth, 2003-06-26 Periodic comprehensive overviews of the status of the diverse organisms that make up wildlife are essential to determining trends threats and future prospects Just over 25 years ago leading authorities on different kinds of wildlife came together to prepare an assessment of their status of a wide range of organisms in Great Britain and Ireland in The Changing Flora and Fauna of Britain also edited by Professor David L Hawksworth CBE Now in The Changing Wildlife of Great Britain and Ireland he has gathered together some of the original and also new contributors to review changes since that time and look to the future Contributions range from viruses diatoms fungi lichens mites and nematodes through butterflies dragonflies flies and slugs to flowering plants ferns mammals birds and fish The state of knowledge in different groups is assessed and the effectiveness of statutory and other measures taken to safeguard wildlife considered The picture is far from bleak ameliorating sulphur dioxide levels have benefited sensitive lichens and mosses in a dramatic way water quality improvement has been beneficial there have been few certain extinctions and rediscoveries of species thought to have been lost Biodiversity Action Plans have also benefited targeted species but habitat restoration and management for some is not always good for others But there are worrying trends in declining populations with an increasing number being regarded as threatened or endangered especially in agricultural areas and where woodland management has changed particular threats from introduced species and concern over the effects of climate change Some of the smaller organisms remain poorly known a situation unlikely to change as expertise in many is scant or being lost This stock check and look to the future will be a key source book to conservationists naturalists and professional biologists for many years to come Rare Birds Day by Day Steve Dudley, Tim Benton, Peter Fraser, John Ryan, 2010-10-30 Covering 282 rare species and sub species plus records for a further 18 Category D species found in Britain and Ireland around 20 000 individual records of rare birds are listed in diary style with each individual bird appearing on the date on which it was originally found along with all the other rare birds found on that date between 1958 and 1994 Rare Birds Day by Day follows three earlier Poyser titles looking at scarce and rare birds recorded in Britain and Ireland Scarce Migrant Birds in Britain and Ireland Sharrock 1974 Rare Birds in Britain and Ireland Sharrock Sharrock 1976 and Rare Birds in Britain and Ireland Dymond Fraser Gantlett 1989 Like these previous books this latest rare bird title has been brought to you by well known and experienced British birders and rare bird finders This book however differs markedly from the earlier volumes in that it moves away from the traditional presentation of species in systematic order Each record is listed in county order and is accompanied by the finding site number of birds for multiple records and length of stay for those birds remaining for more than one day This new and novel way of presenting rare bird data will prove fascinating to anyone with an interest in finding and watching rare migrant and vagrant species It will also prove a valuable and fun tool for the keenest rarity hunters enabling them to use the book as a rare bird predictor by following closely the birds found on each date over the 36 years covered by the book The book is enlivened with illustrations by Dave Nurney most of them specifically prepared for this volume

The Birds of Nottinghamshire Nick Crouch, Jason Reece, Bernie Ellis, Chris du Feu, David Parkin, 2019-11-29 The last comprehensive review of Nottinghamshire's birds was produced more than four decades ago Much has changed since then and a new avifauna is long overdue This book draws together historic reports from the nineteenth century records from the files of the county bird club Nottinghamshire Birdwatchers and data from national and regional surveys and monitoring programmes The resulting account presents an overview of the present state of the county's birdlife set against a context of environmental and climatic change The gravel pits in the Trent and Idle Valleys form major corridors for birds moving across Britain and Nottinghamshire has attracted more than its share of national rarities These include Britain's first Egyptian Nightjar and Lesser Yellowlegs in the nineteenth century Bufflehead Redhead Cedar Waxwing and breeding Black-winged Stilts in the twentieth century and a memorable nesting attempt by European Bee-eaters in 2017 The woods and heaths of Sherwood lying in the middle of the county also provide a haven for an array of iconic species including European Nightjar Eurasian Woodcock Honeybuzzard and Hawfinch This book describes the past and present status of the 334 species that have been recorded in Nottinghamshire up to 2018 Lavishly illustrated with photographs taken within the county and sketches from the internationally recognised artist Michael Warren it is intended to be an authoritative reference to the birds of Nottinghamshire

The Atlas of Wintering Birds in Britain and Ireland Peter Lack, 2010-11-30 This companion volume to The Atlas of Breeding Birds of Britain and Ireland is derived from surveys of birds present in Britain and Ireland during the three winters 1981-82 1982-83 and 1983-84 The surveys were organised by the British Trust for Ornithology and the Irish Wildbird Conservancy as were the earlier breeding birds surveys The Winter Atlas maps 200 species 192 of which have full page two-colour maps faced by a page of text The texts written by over 100 specialists comment on the survey results the species generally and the distribution and abundance as mapped In addition there are introductory chapters on the maps the weather in the three winters bird patterns and movements and appendices describing the planning organisation field methods and processing of the survey data from record cards to computer output and maps A team of 23 artists led by Robert Gillmor has provided the line drawings which head the species accounts
