Stories Selected by Marc Slonim Mikhail Mikhailovich ZOSHCHENKO, Sidney MONAS, Mark L'vovich SLONIM, 1961 Scenes from the Bathhouse Mikhail Zoshchenko, 1961 By the famous Russian humorist and satirist whose writings were originally banned from the Soviet press Modernism and the making of the Soviet New Man Tijana Vujosevic, 2017-05-31 The creation of Soviet culture in the 1920s and the 1930s was the most radical of modernist projects both in aesthetic and in political terms Modernism and the Making of the New Man explores the architecture of this period as the nexus between aesthetics and politics The design of the material environment according to the author was the social effort that most clearly articulated the dynamic of the socialist project as a negotiation between utopia and reality the will for progress and the will for tyranny It was a comprehensive effort that brought together professional architects and statisticians theatre directors managers housewives pilots construction workers What they had in common was the enthusiasm for defining the new man the ideal citizen of the radiant future and the settings in which he or she lives Soviet State and Society Between Revolutions, 1918-1929 Lewis H. Siegelbaum, 1992-08-20 The evolution of the ruling Communist Party and its New Economic Policy is explored in the first book to analyze the relationship between the Soviet state and society from 1917 through the early 1930s through the changing fortunes of its peoples The Novel in Russia Henry Gifford, 2021-06-23 The Novel in Russia examines the Russian sensibility as it is revealed in prose fiction the dominant mode of Russian literature It explores how in the work of Pushkin Lermontov and Gogol narrative art forsakes poetry for prose and considers in turn six authors from the great age of prose realism Goncharov Turgenev Leskov Tolstoy Saltykov Shchedrin and Dostoevsky The book provides an account of Chekhov and Gorky appraises decadent prose the earlier Soviet writing the school of Socialist Realism and Doctor Zhivago The theme of the writer's contest with critical pressure and State interference runs throughout With Light Steam Bryon MacWilliams, 2014-10-01 In 1996 Bryon MacWilliams left the relative stability of the United States for the chaos of post Soviet Russia and stayed Over the course of nearly twelve years he reported on academe and the sciences for the world's leading publications and sought out the best baths or banyas everywhere he went His story of Russia through its cult of steam begins on a frosty Sunday morning in a gypsy cab traveling to a bathhouse in Moscow where the steam is conjured by an out of work carpenter named Grisha who takes on MacWilliams as a kind of apprentice allowing him into an otherwise closed world through which MacWilliams could see himself and Russia with different eyes The Russian bathers insist only half jokingly that the American is a spy Writing in a highly engaging style MacWilliams travels the country to convey the breadth of banya culture and what it means to steam a process that is at once a simple cleansing and a deep purification It awakens the body and quiets the mind generating waves of good feeling akin to an endorphin high Each chapter of this splendid book is an episode spanning from several hours to several days from the Far North Moscow the Ural Mountains the Solovetsky Islands and a southern stretch of the Volga River With Light Steam the title is derived from the phrase used in banyas in lieu of goodbye is the only book in English devoted to the banya and the only volume in any language to present Russia through the lens of its bath culture the most Russian thing there is General readers and scholars alike will be enchanted with this unforgettable portrait of a people and a millennia spanning tradition
