A Political Space Warren Magnusson, Karena Shaw, 2002      Claiming the City Shelton Stromquist, 2023-02-14 How workers fought for municipal socialism to make cities around the globe livable and democratic and what the lessons are for today Winner of the International Labor History Association ILHA 2023 Book of the Year Award for labor history For more than a century municipal socialism has fired the imaginations of workers fighting to make cities livable and democratic At every turn propertied elites challenged their right to govern Prominent US labor historian Shelton Stromquist offers the first global account of the origins of this new trans local socialist politics He explains how and why cities after 1890 became crucibles for municipal socialism Drawing on the colorful stories of local activists and their social democratic movements in cities as diverse as Broken Hill Christchurch Malm Bradford Stuttgart Vienna and Hamilton OH the book shows how this new urban politics arose Long governed by propertied elites cities in the nineteenth century were transformed by mass migration and industrialization that tore apart their physical and social fabric Amidst massive strikes and faced with epidemic disease fouled streets unsafe water decrepit housing and with little economic security and few public amenities urban workers invented a local politics that promised to democratize cities they might themselves govern and reclaim the wealth they created This new politics challenged the class power of urban elites as well as the centralizing tendencies of national social democratic movements Municipal socialist ideas have continued to inspire activists in their fight for the right of cities to govern themselves      Copyfight Blayne Haggart, 2014-04-30 Widespread file sharing has led content industries publishers and distributors of books music films and software to view their customers as growing threats to their survival Content providers and their allies especially the U S government have pushed for stronger global copyright policies through international treaties and domestic copyright reforms Internet companies individuals and public interest groups have pushed back with massive street protests in Europe and online internet blackouts that derailed the 2012 U S Stop Online Piracy Act SOPA But can citizens or smaller countries really stand in the way of the U S copyright juggernaut To answer this question Copyfight examines the 1996 World Intellectual Property Organization internet treaties that began the current digital copyright regime Blayne Haggart follows the WIPO treaties from negotiation to implementation from the perspective of three countries the United States Canada and Mexico Using extensive interviews with policymakers and experts in these three countries Haggart argues that not all the power is in the hands of the U S government Small countries can still set their own course on copyright legislation while growing public interest in copyright issues means that even the United States might move away from ever increasing copyright protection      Beyond the Welfare State Sirvan Karimi, 2017-01-01 In Beyond the Welfare State Sirvan Karimi utilizes a synthesis of Marxian class analysis and the power resources model to provide an analytical foundation for the divergent pattern of public pension systems in Canada and Australia      The Prospect of Cities John Friedmann, 2002      Expanding the Boundaries of Transformative Learning E. O'Sullivan, A. Morrell, M.

O'Connor,2016-04-30 Transformative learning involves experiencing a deep structural shift in the basic premises of thought feelings and actions It is a shift of consciousness that dramatically and permanently alters our way of being in the world Such a shift involves our understanding of ourselves and our self locations our relationships with other humans and with the natural world our understanding of relations of power in interlocking structures of class race and gender our body awarenesses our visions of alternative approaches to living and our sense of possibilities for social justice and peace and personal joy The editors of this collection make several challenges to the existing field of transformative learning the first is to theoreticians who have attempted to describe the nature of transformative learning without regard to the content of transformative learning The editors argue that transformative learning theory cannot be constructed in a content neutral or context free way Their second challenge which assumes the importance content for transformative learning is to educators as practitioners The editors argue that transformative learning requires new educational practices consistent with the content Arts based research and arts based teaching learning practices are one example of such new educational practices Education for the soul or spiritual practices such as meditation or modified martial arts or indigenous peoples forms of teaching learning is another example Each article in the collection presents a possible model of these new practices Learning to School Jennifer Wallner,2014-01-01 Beginning with the earliest provincial education policies and taking readers right up to contemporary policy debates Learning to School chronicles how through learning and cooperation the provinces gradually established a country wide system of public schooling Constructing Policy Change Linda A. White,2017-01-01 In Constructing Policy Change Linda A White examines the expansion of early childhood education and care ECEC policies and programs in liberal welfare states including Australia Canada New Zealand the UK and the USA In the first part of the book the author investigates the sources of policy ideas that triggered ECEC changes in various national contexts This is followed by a close analysis of cross national variation in the implementation of ECEC policy in Canada and the USA White argues that the primary mechanisms for policy change are grounded in policy investment logics as well as cultural logics that is shifts in public sentiments and government beliefs about the value of ECEC policies and programs are rooted in both evidence based arguments and in principled beliefs about the policy A rich nuanced examination of the reasons motivating ECEC policy expansion and adoption in different countries Constructing Policy Change is a corrective to the comparative welfare state literature that focuses on political interest alone Immigration and the Politics of Welfare Exclusion Edward A. Koning,2019-01-01 Why do some governments try to limit immigrants access to social benefits and entitlements while others do not Through an in depth study of Sweden Canada and the Netherlands Immigration and the Politics of Welfare Exclusion maps the politics of immigrants social rights in Western democracies To achieve this goal Edward A Koning analyzes policy documents public opinion surveys data on welfare use parliamentary debates and interviews with politicians and key players in the three countries Koning s findings are three fold First the politics of immigrant welfare exclusion have little to do with economic factors and are more about general opposition to immigration and multiculturalism Second proposals for exclusion are particularly likely to arise in a political climate that incentivizes politicians to appear tough on immigration Finally the success of anti immigrant politicians in bringing about exclusionary reforms depends on the response of the political mainstream and the extent to which immigrants rights are protected in national and international legal frameworks A timely investigation into an increasingly pressing subject Immigration and the Politics of Welfare Exclusion will be essential reading for scholars and students of political science comparative politics and immigration studies

Politics of Energy

Dependency Margarita M. Balmaceda, 2014-01-31 Energy has been an important element in Moscow's quest to exert power and influence in its surrounding areas both before and after the collapse of the USSR With their political independence in 1991 Ukraine Belarus and Lithuania also became virtually overnight separate energy poor entities heavily dependent on Russia This increasingly costly dependency and elites scrambling over associated profits came to crucially affect not only relations with Russia but the very nature of post independence state building The Politics of Energy Dependency explores why these states were unable to move towards energy diversification Through extensive field research using previously untapped local language sources Margarita M Balmaceda reveals a complex picture of local elites dealing with the complications of energy dependency and in the process affecting the energy security of Europe as a whole A must read for anyone interested in Eastern Europe Russia and the politics of natural resources this book reveals the insights gained by looking at post Soviet development and international relations issues not only from a Moscow centered perspective but from that of individual actors in other states

North America in Question Jeffrey Ayres, Laura MacDonald, 2012-09-26 Can North America survive as a region in light of the political turbulence provoked by the global economic crisis Or have regional integration and collaboration reached a plateau beyond which disintegration is likely In North America in Question leading analysts from Canada the United States and Mexico provide theoretically innovative and rich empirical reflections on current challenges sweeping the continent and on the faltering political support for North American regionalism This collection begins by reviewing the recent trajectories and events that have undermined North America s trilateral relationship then addresses concerns that go beyond NAFTA and economic issues including labour immigration energy the environment quality of citizenship borders women s and civil society struggles and democratic deficits Although demonstrating that many informal dimensions of North American integration continue to flourish the contributors assess whether the future will hold greater economic instability security crises and emerging bilateral relationships

The Fragility of Modern Societies Nico Stehr, 2001-05-14 This book argues that knowledge is now central to the modern economy and its productive processes It is also essential for social relations social cohesion and conflict resolution We have moved from a society based around heavy commodities to symbolic goods from situated markets to non place specific locations from machines to software and from things to ideas These changes produce new forms of social interaction and new perspectives on identity practice and association This penetrating book slices through the cliches and blind alleys of discussions around the knowledge society to reveal the tendons of contemporary change Written with insight and panache the book explains the momentous nature of the changes associated with the knowledge society

Handbook of Social Theory George Ritzer, Barry Smart, 2003-07-26 The Handbook of Social Theory presents an authoritative and panoramic critical survey of the development achievement and prospects of social theory

Shifting Terrain Nick J. Mulé, Gloria C. Desantis, 2017-05-30 Canadian advocacy has evolved over the past few decades A core function of the nonprofit sector advocacy endures in an unsympathetic neoliberal landscape one dominated by a rise in government surveillance ongoing government funding cuts and confusion over what activities are permissible Exploring the unpredictable and fluid nature of public policy advocacy work carried out by nonprofit organizations across Canada The Shifting Terrain sheds light on the strictures and opportunities of this crucial aspect of the voluntary sector Authors from diverse backgrounds including academics activists practitioners and legal experts illustrate what the shifting course of advocacy means in philosophical theoretical political and practical terms Offering a critique of advocacy practices directed at the nonprofit provincial territorial government interface and beyond this anthology outlines regulatory changes made by the Canada Revenue Agency exposes the conflicted internal structures and processes of advocacy work challenges permissible advocacy activities presents provocative thinking about alternative ways forward and proposes recommendations for improvement A comparative historical study and a contemporary examination The Shifting Terrain invites readers to contemplate the implications of advocacy for public participation the shaping of public policy and Canadian democracy

Theories of International Relations, 2022-01-13 This introductory textbook on international relations theory brings together a selection of leading experts to offer an unparalleled insight into the main paradigms and latest developments in the discipline Presenting a full range of theories from realism and liberalism to institutionalism and green theory the sixth edition of this book has been extensively revised to offer a more global introduction to international relations It showcases insights from across the world and employs a historical and sociological perspective throughout to demonstrate how any understanding of IR is time and place contingent New to this edition are two new chapters on postcolonialism and institutionalism as well as boxed cases which apply theory to contemporary empirical examples including gendered policy in the UN the phenomenon of fake news issues on migration and the crisis of the Amazon's forest fires Assuming no prior knowledge of international relations theory this text remains the definitive companion for all students of international relations and anyone with an interest in the latest scholarship of this fascinating field Community Gardening as Social

Action Claire Nettle, 2016-05-23 There has been a resurgence of community gardening over the past decade with a wide range of actors seeking to get involved from health agencies aiming to increase fruit and vegetable consumption to radical social movements searching for symbols of non capitalist ways of relating and occupying space Community gardens have become a focal point for local activism in which people are working to contribute to food security question the erosion of public space conserve and improve urban environments develop technologies of sustainable food production foster community engagement and create neighbourhood solidarity Drawing on in depth case studies and social movement theory Claire Nettle provides a new empirical and theoretical understanding of community gardening as a site of collective social action This provides not only a more nuanced and complete understanding of community gardening but also highlights its potential challenges to notions of activism community democracy and culture Boundaries and Belonging Joel S.

Migdal, 2004-05-03 This interdisciplinary volume maintains the importance of a spatial understanding of society and history but suggests a way of conceiving of borders and space that goes beyond a school map of states Its subject is the struggle among differing spatial logics or mental maps It is concerned with the meaning that state borders hold for people but recognizes that such meaning varies and is contested by other social formations To what degree do state borders encase the mechanisms that make the decisive rules governing people's lives and to what extent do they give way to other rulemakers To what extent do states circumscribe the communities to which people feel attached and to what extent do they intersect with other communities of belonging These essays home in on the struggles and conflicting demands on people given that state borders are not automatically pre eminent and that other spatial logics demand attention Territory, Authority,

Rights Saskia Sassen, 2008-07-01 Where does the nation state end and globalization begin In Territory Authority Rights one of the world's leading authorities on globalization shows how the national state made today's global era possible Saskia Sassen argues that even while globalization is best understood as denationalization it continues to be shaped channeled and enabled by institutions and networks originally developed with nations in mind such as the rule of law and respect for private authority This process of state making produced some of the capabilities enabling the global era The difference is that these capabilities have become part of new organizing logics actors other than nation states deploy them for new purposes Sassen builds her case by examining how three components of any society in any age territory authority and rights have changed in themselves and in their interrelationships across three major historical assemblages the medieval the national and the global The book consists of three parts The first Assembling the National traces the emergence of territoriality in the Middle Ages and considers monarchical divinity as a precursor to sovereign secular authority The second part Disassembling the National analyzes economic legal technological and political conditions and projects that are shaping new organizing logics The third part Assemblages of a Global Digital Age examines particular intersections of the new digital technologies with territory authority and rights Sweeping in scope rich in detail and highly readable Territory Authority Rights is a definitive new statement on globalization that will resonate throughout the social sciences
