Seattles Sisters Of Providence The Story Of Providence Medical Center Seattles First Hospital:

Seattle's Sisters of Providence Ellis Lucia, 1978 Skid Road Josephine Ensign, 2021-08-03 A compelling look at the historical roots of poverty and homelessness the worthy and unworthy poor and the role of charity health care and public policy in the United States Home to over 730 000 people with close to four million people living in the metropolitan area Seattle has the third highest homeless population in the United States In 2018 an estimated 8 600 homeless people lived in the city a figure that does not include the significant number of hidden homeless people doubled up with friends or living in and out of cheap hotels In Skid Road Josephine Ensign digs through layers of Seattle history past its leaders and prominent citizens respectable or not to reveal the stories of overlooked and long silenced people who live on the margins of society The sometimes fragmentary tales of these people their lives and deaths are not included in official histories of a place How Ensign asks has a large socially progressive city like Seattle responded to the health needs of people marginalized by poverty mental illness addiction racial ethnic sexual identities and homelessness Drawing on interviews and extensive research Ensign shares a diversity of voices within contemporary health care and public policy debates Informed by her own lived experience of homelessness as well as over three decades of work as a family nurse practitioner providing primary health care to homeless people Ensign is uniquely situated to explore the tensions between caregiving and oppression as well as charity and solidarity that polarize perspectives on homelessness throughout the country A timely story in light of the ongoing health care reform debate the affordable housing crisis and the COVID 19 pandemic the stories from Skid Road illuminate issues surrounding poverty and homelessness throughout America Say Little, Do Much Sioban Nelson, 2010-11-24 In the nineteenth century more than a third of American hospitals were established and run by women with religious vocations In Say Little Do Much Sioban Nelson casts light on the work of these women s religious communities According to Nelson the popular view that nursing invented itself in the second half of the nineteenth century is historically inaccurate and dismissive of the major advances in the care of the sick as a serious and skilled activity an activity that originated in seventeenth century France with Vincent de Paul s Daughters of Charity In this comparative contextual and critical work Nelson demonstrates how modern nursing developed from the complex interplay of the Catholic emancipation in Britain and Ireland the resurgence of the Irish Church the Irish diaspora and the mass migrations of the German Italian and Polish Catholic communities to the previously Protestant strongholds of North America and mainland Britain In particular Nelson follows the nursing Daughters of Charity through the French Revolution and the Second Empire documenting the relationship that developed between the French nursing orders and the Irish Catholic Church during this period This relationship she argues was to have major significance for the development of nursing in the English speaking world Women Religious History Sources Evangeline Thomas, Joyce L. Atkins, 2011-10-17 Winner of a 2004 Washington State Book Award Winner of a 2004 Alpha Sigma Nu ASN Jesuit Book Award In 1893 the Washington State legislature quietly began passing a set of laws that essentially made homosexuality and eventually even the discussion of homosexuality a crime A century later Mike Lowry became the first governor of the state to address the annual lesbian and gay pride rally in Seattle Gay Seattle traces the evolution of Seattle's gay community in those 100 turbulent years telling through a century of stories how gays and lesbians have sought to achieve a sense of belonging in Seattle Gary Atkins recounts the demonization of gays by social crusaders around the turn of the century the earliest prosecutions for sodomy the official harassment and discrimination through most of the twentieth century and the medical discrimination and commitment to mental hospitals that continued into the 1970s as homosexuality was diagnosed as a disease that could be cured Places of refuge from this imposed social exile were created in underground theater and dance clubs the Gold Rush era burlesque shows modern drag theater and in mid century the emergence of openly gay bars from the Casino to Shelley's Leg Many of these were subjected to steady exploitation by corrupt police until bar owner MacIver Wells and two Seattle Times reporters exposed the racket The increasingly public presence of gays in Seattle was accompanied by the gradual coalescence of social services and self help organizations such as the Dorian Society gay businesses and advocacy groups including the Greater Seattle Business Association and the stormy relationship between the Vatican Seattle's Catholic hierarchy and gay worshippers Atkins narrative reveals the complex and often frustrating process of claiming a civic life showing how gays and lesbians have engaged in a multilayered struggle for social acceptance against the forces of state and city politics the police the media and public opinion The emergence of mainstream political activism in the 1970s and ultimately the election of Cal Anderson and other openly gay officials to the state legislature and city council were momentous events yet shadowed by the devastating rise of AIDS and its effect on the homosexual community as a whole These stories of exile and belonging draw on numerous original interviews as well as case studies of individuals and organizations that played important roles in the history of Seattle s gay and lesbian community Collectively they are a powerful testament to the endurance and fortitude of this minority community revealing the ways a previously hidden sexual minority comes out as a people and establishes a public presence in the face of challenges from within and without Saddlebags to Scanners Nancy Rockafellar,James W.
