Venetian Ships and Shipbuilders of the Renaissance Frederic Chapin Lane,2018-12-01 ORIGINALLY published in 1934 this major study by Frederic Lane tracks the rise and decline of the great shipbuilding industry of Renaissance Venice Drawing on a wealth of archival sources Lane presents detailed descriptions of the Venetian arsenal including the great galleys that doubled as cargo ships and warships the sixteenth century round ships which introduced dramatic innovations in rigging and were less vulnerable to attack than the galleys and the majestic galleons whose straight lines and greater speed made them ideal for merchantmen but whose narrowness made them liable to capsize if loaded with artillery Lane also includes vivid accounts of the rivalries between the famous shipbuilders of the period There was the impassioned competition between Leonardo Bressan and Marco Francesco Rosso to design the quickest lightest galley a contest that Bressan won when Rosso was crushed to death the race between Vettor Fausto and Matteo Bressan to build the best galleon for use against pirates and the rivalry between Bernardo di Bernardo and Nicol Palopano to be the master builder of great merchant galleys Additional chapters detail the actual process of ship construction from the design stage to framing and ribbing the hull to building the rigging the organization and activity of the shipbuilders craft guilds and the various private shipyards and the development and management of the Arsenal Tables and appendixes detail the types measurements number and capacity of the ships as well as the wages of the shipbuilders      The Edinburgh Review ,1804      The Edinburgh Review, Or Critical Journal ,1804      Essays in the Economic History of the Atlantic World John McCusker,2005-08-15 Written by one of the leading authorities on trade and finance in the early modern Atlantic world these fourteen essays revised and integrated for this volume share as their common theme the development of the Atlantic economy especially British America and the Caribbean Topics treated range from early attempts in medieval England to measure the carrying capacity of ships through the advent in Renaissance Italy and England of business newspapers that reported on the traffic of ships cargoes and market prices to the state of the economy of France over the two hundred years before the French Revolution and of the British West Indies between 1760 and 1790 Included is the story of Thomas Irving who challenged and thwarted the likes of John Hancock Samuel Adams Alexander Hamilton George Washington and Thomas Jefferson      A Brief History of Venice Elizabeth Horodowich,2013-02-07 In this colourful new history of Venice Elizabeth Horodowich one of the leading experts on

Venice tells the story of the place from its ancient origins and its early days as a multicultural trading city where Christians Jews and Muslims lived together at the crossroads between East and West She explores the often overlooked role of Venice alongside Florence and Rome as one of the principal Renaissance capitals Now as the resident population falls and the number of tourists grows as brash new advertisements disfigure the ancient buildings she looks at the threat from the rising water level and the future of one of the great wonders of the world      The History Of Greece William Mitford,1808      A History of Sea Power William Oliver Stevens,Allan F. ships per side it was the largest naval battle in sixteen centuries and the last major fight between fleets composed entirely of the muscle driven galley These slender ships were the direct descendants of the Classical trireme but carried cannon and marines bearing firearms although massed archery and cold steel still played a major role on the fateful day Nic Fields gives an excellent account of this fascinating and spectacular battle
