Longing For A Child:

Autism and Neurotypicality Ingrid Manogg, 2024-08-21 As humans we connect What role do inner images and emotions play in this Which sensory systems do we use are we hostile to thinking What seems beautiful to us what do we perceive as a reward What are favourite children what is the significance of feelings such as envy what functions do pride and shame have What are the differences between autistic people and neurotypes in all this We ask about deep structures and conditions of origin and look at how the neurotypical patterns interact with our social system A psycho logical analysis with new approaches

The Wings of Desire Rita Wellman, 1919 Longing for a Child Kathe Wunnenberg, 2005 My story is different from yours but the pages of our lives share a common theme Silent suffering The longing for a child Think of my book as your companion of hope a ray of sunshine to shine truth encouragement and perspective on your situation Kathe Wunnenberg Infertility is a deeply private pain that is often misunderstood by those who have not experienced its seasons of longing and loss Whether you recently tried to have a child or have struggled for years to conceive Longing for a Child is a compassionate companion full of hope healing and practical help Offering biblical perspectives and moving stories of others who have struggled with infertility sixty heartfelt devotions connect you securely to God during this time of waiting heartbreak and questioning Each devotion contains a Scripture short thematic story prayer reflective questions and a space for journaling Meditations for special occasions such as Mother s Day are also included An encouraging devotional companion that can be used by individuals couples or groups Longing for a Child speaks directly to the heart meeting you wherever you are on your journey through infertility

A Child of the Sea and Life Among the Mormons Elizabeth Whitney Williams, 1905 This is the vivid memoir of a mid nineteenth century girlhood spent mostly on the islands of Lake Michigan and the onshore communities of Manistique Charlevoix Traverse City and Little Traverse now Harbor Springs written by a woman who grew up to be a lighthouse keeper on Beaver Island and in Little Traverse Williams was brought up Catholic by a French speaking mother and an English speaking father who was a ship s carpenter for entrepreneurs engaged in the mercantile trade to and from these rapidly developing settlements Williams depicts cordial even intimate relationships between her family and the Indians who lived nearby and describes the courtship and arranged marriage of an Ottawa chief s daughter who lived with her family for an extended period The major portion of the book however is devoted to her eye witness recollections of James Jesse Strang s short lived dissident Mormon monarchy on Beaver Island amplified by stories she heard from disillusioned followers Strang was expelled from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints after disputing Brigham Young s right to succeed Joseph Smith Eventually he and his own loyal followers settled on Beaver Island and attracted a stream of new converts at their demographic peak the Strangites numbered 5 000 strong Strang saw himself as a prophet and believed the rules he tried to establish were in accord with divine revelations Williams describes the mounting tensions between Strang s followers and the gentile residents who fled the island as Strang's influence grew incidents connected with Strang's assassination by two former followers and the ensuing exodus of most Strangites from Beaver Island. She later moved back there with her family as did many of the earlier inhabitants.

A Child's Parent Dies Erna Furman, 1974-01-01 This study of twenty three children who suffered the death of a parent during childhood seeks to understand the psychological impact of bereavement on the young and to offer concrete suggestions for helping children cope with their loss.

Cultural, Existential and Phenomenological Dimensions of Grief Experience Allan Køster, Ester Holte Kofod, 2021-12-30 This innovative volume examines the phenomenological existential and cultural dimensions of grief experiences. It draws on perspectives from philosophy, psychology and sociocultural studies to focus on the experiential dimension of grief moving beyond understanding from a purely mental health and psychiatry perspective. The book considers individual, shared and collective experiences of loss. Chapters explore the intersections between the profound existential experiences of bereavement and how this is mediated by sociocultural norms and practices. It points to new directions for the future conceptualization and study of grief particularly in the experiential dimension. Drawing on a range of interdisciplinary perspectives, this important book will appeal to academics, researchers and students in the fields of death and bereavement studies, wellbeing and mental health, philosophy and phenomenological studies.

Selving Irene Fast, 2013-05-13 In Selving: A Relational Theory of Self Organization Irene Fast invokes the basic distinction between the self as me and the self as I in order to develop a contemporary theory of the self as subject. In a return to Freud's clinical finding that all psychological processes are personally motivated, she elaborates a notion of the I self that is intrinsically dynamic and relational. Within this conception, our perceiving, thinking, feeling and acting are not what our self does; rather, they are what our self is. According to Fast, the basic unit of the dynamic I self of selving is a scheme of personally motivated interaction between self and nonself. This notion, which comprehends development and developmental failure as a product of integration and differentiation among discrete I schemes, provides a radically new framework for understanding those dynamic phenomena that Freud included within his structural model of the mind and that contemporary theorists have addressed within object relational perspectives. Via the notion of selving, Fast likewise brings fresh insight to a host of issues that have engaged psychoanalysts and developmental psychologists in recent years. These topics include the place of bodily experience in a relational model of mind, the organization of self as simultaneously individual and relational, the formulation of a constructivist model of psychic structure among others. Selving is not only a lucid demonstration of how a relational theory of self can reorder clinical observations in conceptually and therapeutically illuminating ways It is also a convincing demonstration of how a constructivist model emphasizing the interactive nature of meaning making provides bridges to Piagetian theory developmental research and observational infancy studies Studies in the Psychology of Sex: Erotic symbolism; the mechanism of detumescence; the psychic state in pregnancy Havelock Ellis,1906 The Atlantic Monthly ,1921 Proceedings, Abstracts of Lectures and a Brief Report of the Discussions of the National Teachers' Association, the National Association of School Superintendents and the American Normal School Association National Education Association of the United States,1910 The Journal of Proceedings and Addresses of the National Educational Association National Educational Association (U.S.),1910 Proceedings of the Annual Meeting - National Education Association of the United States National Education Association of the United States,1910
