When you look into an abyss, the abyss
also looks into you.

Looking Into The Abyss:

The Bridge at the Edge of the World James Gustave Speth, 2008-01-01 Presents an analysis of modern capitalism and its impact on the global environmental crises and discusses how the transformation of current economic and political systems can lead to environmental sustainability

Types of Interpretation in the Aesthetic Disciplines Staffan Carlshamre, Anders Pettersson, 2003 Types of Interpretation in the Aesthetic Disciplines begins from the observation that interpretation even the special kind represented by interpretation of the arts is not a homogeneous activity The many different types of such interpretation vary with respect to objectives and criteria of adequacy and attempts to explain art interpretation in terms of a single unified logic are therefore bound to fail Five Swedish scholars and theorists from different disciplines literary studies philosophy and art history discuss the multiplicity of principles of interpretation and provide a descriptive analysis of the concept of interpretation itself that clarifies the main features of the rationale underlying the interpretation of literature and the arts Their discussion provides a much needed bridge between analytical aesthetics and theoretical discussion within the individual aesthetic disciplines The introduction and concluding remarks by the editors provide both a frame for discussion of the issues and a historical perspective on the debates about interpretation

Looking In the Distance Richard Holloway, 2009-08-06 Spirituality like morality has historically been tied to religion and yet it is possible for one to exist without the other In this meditative and highly personal account Richard Holloway considers the nature of the spiritual and what it means to live with the inevitability of death Both celebration of the possibilities that life affords and an examination of how doubts and fears too often paralyse especially as we age Looking in the Distance is an inspiration told with the compassion and good humour characteristic of its author

Dostoevsky, The Bible, and History: A close look into the layers of the novel Demons Sean Cameron,2013-03-27 Fyodor Dostoevsky's Demons 1871 1872 is a novel that depicts a real event in Russian history the Nachaev affair of 1869 in which an individual Sergei Nachaev a Nihilist revolutionary who was sponsored by another famous revolutionary philosopher and anarchist Mikhail Bakunin who has been called the father of anarchist theory was involved if not totally responsible for the murder of a student who was intent on revealing some of the activities of Nachaev Nachaev represents a new form of revolutionary spirit which Dostoevsky imparts to his character Pyotr Steponovich Verkovensky in which what was only a product of intellectual ideation becomes a wild and uncontrollable force unto itself Dostoevsky translates this anarchist drama into a powerful myth that serves as a testament and warning of the dangers of revolutionary methods and ideas An important message for today's heavily polarized world

Confession Leo Tolstoy,2024-05-09 Leo Tolstoy's concise spiritual memoir Confession printed anonymously in Geneva in 1884 lays bare the existential abyss that opened beneath the author in mid life Those pages raw and unadorned reveal the turning point that fed every moral argument he later waged against empire church and himself Written between 1879 and 1882 but smuggled out of Russia to evade censorship the small volume appeared in a pamphlet edition from the Swiss press Posselt in 1884 at the very moment Tsarist authorities were forbidding public mention of the novelist's religious opinions its unobtrusive type and grey wrapper belie a tract that Russian readers would only legally see after the 1905 reforms yet its argument travelled by clandestine copy across intellectual circles from Moscow to London Within sixty pages Tolstoy narrates the collapse of inherited Orthodox faith the futility he discerned in literary fame and the suicidal despair that followed before recounting how the simple faith practised by muzhiks cutting hay persuaded him that life draws worth from service to others the prose moves with desperate lucidity merging autobiographical detail and Socratic dialectics in a texture closer to philosophical confession than to narrative The tract's influence upon Russian religious dissent on thinkers like Berdyaev and on later existential writing in Europe rivals that of Augustine's Confessions yet its style remains distinctly nineteenth century Russian plain vigorous occasionally sarcastic so that readers today can still hear a man arguing for his soul while the machinery of empire rattles in the background This critical reader's edition presents a modern translation of the original manuscript crafted for the modern reader with clean contemporary language and simplified sentence structures that clarify his complex Russian phrasing and specific antiquated references Supplementary material enriches the text with autobiographical historical and linguistic context including an afterword by the translator on Tolstoy's personal history impact and intellectual legacy an index of the philosophical concepts he employs emphasizing Existentialism and influence by Schopenhauer a comprehensive chronological list of his published writings and a detailed timeline of his life
