Martin,1992-11-18 This book is a comprehensive introduction to text forming resources in English along with practical procedures for analysing English texts and relating them to their contexts of use It has been designed to complement functional grammars of English building on the generation of discourse analysis inspired by Halliday and Hasan s Cohesion in English The analyses presented were developed within three main theoretical and applied contexts i educational linguistics especially genre based literacy programmes ii critical linguistics as manifested in the development of social semiotics and iii computational linguistics in dialogue with the various text generation projects based on systemic approaches to grammar and discourse

English Text's major contribution is to outline one way in which a rich semantically oriented functional grammar can be systematically related to a theory of discourse semantics including deconstruction of contextual issues i.e. register, genre and ideology. The chapters have been organized with the needs of undergraduate students in theoretical linguistics and postgraduate students in applied linguistics in mind.

Local Modelling of Non-Local Dependencies in Syntax Artemis Alexiadou, Tibor Kiss, Gereon Müller, 2012-12-06 Syntactic dependencies are often non-local. They can involve two positions in a syntactic structure whose correspondence cannot be captured by invoking concepts like minimal clause or predicate argument structure. Relevant phenomena include long distance movement, long distance reflexivization, long distance agreement, control, non-local deletion, long distance case assignment, consecutio temporum, extended scope of negation and semantic binding of pronouns. A recurring strategy pursued in many contemporary syntactic theories is to model cases of non-local dependencies in a strictly local way by successively passing on the relevant information in small domains of syntactic structures. The present volume brings together eighteen articles that investigate non-local dependencies in movement, agreement, binding, scope and deletion constructions from different theoretical backgrounds among them: versions of the Minimalist Program, HPSG and Categorical Grammar and based on evidence from a variety of typologically distinct languages. This way, advantages and disadvantages of local treatments of non-local dependencies become evident. Furthermore, it turns out that local analyses of non-local phenomena developed in different syntactic theories spanning the derivational/declarative divide often may not only share identical research questions but also rely on identical research strategies.
