Kiste, 2011-10-24 Queen Victoria and Albert Prince Consort had nine children who despite their very different characters remained a close knit family Inevitably as they married into European royal families their loyalties were divided and their lives dominated by political controversy This is not only the story of their lives in terms of world impact but also of their own personal achievements their individual contributions to public life in Britain and overseas and in their roles as the children of Queen Victoria and the Prince Consort Sons, Servants and Statesmen John van der Kiste, 2011-10-21 How was Queen Victoria influenced by her closest male ministers relatives advisers and servants John Van der Kiste is the first to explore this aspect of Victoria's life focusing on four roles mentors family ministers and servants A soldier's daughter Victoria lost her father at the age of eight months Although her uncle Leopold did his best to be a substitute father the absence of her real father probably influenced her throughout her life not least in choosing her husband Her close and faithful relationship with Albert is one of the great royal love stories but her relationships with her sons were much more stormy However with most of her heads of government she enjoyed relatively cordial relations in widowhood she showed a decided partiality for Disraeli who acquired for her the title Empress of India but disliked Gladstone complaining that he speaks to me as if I were a public meeting Queen Victoria's relationships with her servants are also explored from the liberal influence exerted over the increasingly conservative queen by her private secretary Ponsonby to the outspoken John Brown and the Indian Munshi who both antagonised those around her
