Sargent's School Monthly, for Home and School Use, 1859 One Hundred Non-royalty One-act Plays William Kozlenko, 1940 The Chicago of Fiction James A. Kaser, 2011 The importance of Chicago in American culture has made the city s place in the American imagination a crucial topic for literary scholars and cultural historians While databases of bibliographical information on Chicago centered fiction are available they are of little use to scholars researching works written before the 1980s In The Chicago of Fiction A Resource Guide James A Kaser provides detailed synopses for more than 1 200 works of fiction significantly set in Chicago and published between 1852 and 1980 The synopses include plot summaries names of major characters and an indication of physical settings An appendix provides bibliographical information for works dating from 1981 well into the 21st century while a biographical section provides basic information about the authors some of whom are obscure and would be difficult to find in other sources Written to assist researchers in locating works of fiction for analysis the plot summaries highlight ways in which the works touch on major aspects of social history and cultural studies i e class ethnicity gender immigrant experience and race The book is also a useful reader advisory tool for librarians and readers who want to identify materials for leisure reading particularly since genre juvenile and young adult fiction as well as literary fiction are included

Ageing Identities and Women's Everyday Talk in a Hair Salon Rachel Heinrichsmeier,2020-01-14 The ageing of the world s populations particularly in Western developed countries is a well documented phenomenon and despite many positive images of later life in the media and public discourse later life is frequently depicted as a time of inevitable physical and cognitive decline Against this background Heinrichsmeier presents the results of her two year sociolinguistic study examining how a group of older women of different ages negotiated their way through their own and others expectations of ageing and constructed different kinds of older and other identities for themselves Through vivid and nuanced analysis of their chat and practices in a small village hair salon Heinrichsmeier reveals these women s subtle and skilful manipulation of stereotypes of ageing and the impact of the evolving talk on their identity constructions Her study which provides numerous short extracts of talk in both the hair salon and interview along with more detailed case studies highlights the importance of such apparently trivial sites for both studying older people s identity work and as loci for positive identity constructions and well being in later life This book will be of particular interest to graduate students and scholars working in sociolinguistics discourse analysis conversation analysis and gerontological studies as well as those interested in approaches integrating ethnography and language
