Magic to Do is an intimate look at a moment in history a time and a place in which popular culture was as defined by conflict between the young and the old idealism and cynicism creation and destruction as anything else Gardner draws out this friction through her examination of the creative struggles between Pippin s director choreographer the iconic Bob Fosse for whom the show would mark a massive career resurgence and its young composer lyricist Stephen Schwartz of Wicked fame who was making his Broadway debut Magic to Do named for the opening song of the musical clearly marks the lasting cultural significance of Pippin which derives in large part from the timelessness of the search for self one that presents itself anew to each succeeding generation accounting for the show s enduring popularity around the world Infused with R B sounds and a universal message it is fair to say that without Pippin there is no Spring Awakening Dear Evan Hansen or even Hamilton
