The Magic of Linen Linda Heinrich,1992      Egyptology in the Present Carolyn Graves-Brown,2015-06-01 This volume builds bridges between usually separate social groups between different methodologies and even between disciplines It is the result of an innovative conference held at Swansea University in 2010 which brought together leading craftspeople and academics to explore the all too often opposed practices of experimental and experiential archaeology The focus is upon Egyptology but the volume has a wider importance The experimental method is privileged in academic institutions and thus perhaps is subject to clear definitions It tends to be associated with the scientific and technological In opposition the experiential is more rarely defined and is usually associated with schoolchildren museums and heritage centres it is often criticised for being unscientific The introductory chapter of this volume examines the development of these traditionally assumed differences giving for the first time a critical and careful definition of the experiential in relation to the experimental The two are seen as points on a continuum with much common ground This claim is borne out by succeeding chapters which cover such topics as textiles woodworking and stoneworking And Salima Ikram Professor of Egyptology at the American University in Cairo here demonstrates remarkably that our understanding of the classic Egyptian funerary practice of mummification benefits from both scientific experimental and sensual experiential approaches The volume however is important not only for Egyptology but for archaeological method more generally The papers illuminate the pioneering of individuals who founded modern archaeological practice Several papers are truly groundbreaking and deserve to circulate far beyond Egyptology Thus the archaeologist Marquardt Lund tackles the problem of understanding the earliest known depictions of flint knife manufacture those from an Egyptian tomb dated around 1900 BC He shows the importance of thinking outside traditional i e modern knapping practice Lund s knapping method guided by the tomb depictions is surprising but effective and very different from that presented in manuals of lithic technology or taught in academic institutions

The Practical Spinner's Guide - Cotton, Flax, Hemp Stephenie Gaustad,2014-02-27 A one stop guide to preparing and spinning cotton flax and hemp Over the last few years focusing on specific types of fiber or spinning techniques has become more and more popular In The Practical Spinner s Guide Cotton Flax Hemp author Stephenie Gaustad offers a detailed overview of each plant the fiber it produces and how to properly prepare spin and finish yarns made from each fiber Cotton flax and hemp behave very differently from wool and special handling is required Stephenie discusses how each fiber behaves and how best to work with them specifically touching on trouble spots such as drafting and adding twist She also covers finishing yarns cleaning setting twist and plying as well as what dye processes are best for adding color Finally she includes a discussion of spinning for both knitting and weaving covering fabric properties of each fiber and what spinners need to take into account when using the yarn in a subsequent project
